RESOLUTION ON THE GENERAL ADMINISTRATION REPORT OF THE ORISSA DIVISION FOR THE YEAR 1887-88.

GENERAL DEPARTMENT—MISCELLANEOUS.

Calcutta, the 24th August 1888.

READ—

The General Administration Report of the Orissa Division for the year 1887-88.

The report is submitted by Mr. Worsley, the Officiating Commissioner; who was also in charge of the Division during nearly four months of the year. For the remainder of the year Mr. Metcalfe, whose illness at last compelled him to take leave, was in charge.

2. Although the rainfall was less abundant, and the outturn of crops smaller than in the previous year, the harvest throughout the Division generally, except in the Pooree district, was not below the average. In some places of the Poorpe district there was a complete failure of the principal crops. Not only was the rainfall deficient and untimely, but destruction was caused in some quarters by the rivers, which are insufficiently protected, breaking through or topping their embankments and flooding the surrounding country. It was at one time thought that it would be necessary to open relief works; but later enquiries showed that, though the failure in limited areas had not been exaggerated, the crops from neighbouring places were sufficient to keep the markets supplied with grain at moderate prices, and the demand for labour was always enough to provide even the poorest classes with purchasing power for their immediate wants. Unfortunately during the present year the rainfall has been again deficient in the same localities, and the condition of a portion of Khoorda, and of a tract of the Sudder sub-division along the southern shore of the Chilka Lake, is now a source of considerable anxiety to Government.

3. The year shows an increase in mortality principally from cholera in the Pooree district. The absence of sufficient sanitary precautions resulted as usual in the disease assuming an epidemic form among the pilgrims to Juggernath. The Lodging-house Act at Pooree does not appear to have been administered with sufficient strictness. Since the close of the year this Act has been extended to Chandbally, and the proposal of extending it to the whole length of the Trunk Road is under consideration.

4. There is a further decline in the total value of trade in all three districts as follows:—

	Balasore.	Cuttack—False Point.	Pooree.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
1885-86 ...	1,44,48,262	31,96,423	3,75,630
1886-87 ...	1,27,60,381	21,78,054	3,12,379
1887-88 ...	1,22,57,221	14,88,560	2,99,803

These are the statistics of sea-borne trade only. No statistics of inland or internal trade are available, but it is surmised by the Collector of Balasore that the decrease above shown in his district may be partly due to diversion of the trade to the Coast Canal which was opened for traffic during the year. There was a considerable decrease also in passenger traffic from 149,660 to 122,093, which is ascribed to the alarm excited among pilgrims by the loss of the S. S. Sir John Lawrence.

5. The land revenue collections were extremely satisfactory in the Cuttack and Balasore districts, but in Pooree there is a heavy outstanding balance principally from the Khoorda Government Estate, attributed to the badness of the season. The receipts from Stamps, Excise, and Income-tax show little or no change. The Excise revenue in the Division is mainly derived from opium and ganja. Out of a total revenue of Rs. 5,30,250, the sum of Rs. 3,58,685 was obtained from opium alone.

6. The percentage of the school population on the boys of school-going age is in Balasore 51, Cuttack 50, and Pooree 30. This, it is believed, is a much higher result than is obtained in most districts in Bengal. Female education, on the other hand, is comparatively backward, the percentage in the whole Division of girls under instruction to the female population of school-going age being only 1·9. On the subject of Mahomedan education, the Commissioner observes that in almost all the important places in Orissa where the Mahomedan element preponderates, the figures show that the Mahomedans are fully equal in educational advancement to the Hindus, and that generally speaking the higher the class of instruction, the more favourable is the percentage of Mahomedan pupils. It must be borne in mind, however, that Orissa is distinctively a Hindu province, the number of Mahomedans being comparatively few in all the districts, and that the total number of Mahomedan boys at school is only 3,065. Having regard to this circumstance, Mr. Worsley is of opinion that due consideration is given to the claims of Mahomedans to appointments in the public service.

7. The Temple of Juggernath is under the management of the Dowager Rani of Pooree. The suit which had been instituted for its better management under section 539 of the Civil Procedure Code has been settled out of Court. It is said that there were 20,000 people present during the Car festival at the end of June, 50,000 people during the Punchak festival at the end of October, and 16,000 at the Doljatra in February last.

8. From Cuttack the Magistrate reports that the District Board and Municipal Committees are fairly attended, and that the members appear to take interest in their work. In Pooree and Balasore the general interest is less than elsewhere; but in Balasore it is said that "in each Committee there are a few very active and public-spirited members." Regarding the conduct of zemindars, Mr. Worsley says that, though he has not had many opportunities of acquiring direct knowledge on the subject, his experience and observation lead him to believe that the Division is an exceptionally quiet one, and that there are probably few estates in which anything like serious oppression prevails. The following zemindars are specially mentioned for their liberality or good conduct:—Rai Baidya Nath Pundit Bahadur, of Killah Durpan, Cuttack; the Raja of Parikud, Pooree; and Raja Shyamanund De Bahadur of Balasore.

9. The opinion of the Commissioner on the merits of the officers employed in the Division has been communicated to the Appointment Department.

EMPLOYMENT OF MAHOMEDANS IN THE PUBLIC SERVICE.

GENERAL DEPARTMENT—EDUCATION.

Calcutta, the 28th August 1888.

READ—

Memorial from the Central National Mahomedan Association, dated the 2nd July, 1888, and previous correspondence regarding the employment of Mahomedans in the public service.

In 1882 the Central National Mahomedan Association submitted a memorial pointing out the depressed condition of Mahomedans in Bengal, its causes, and the remedial measures which, in the opinion of the Association, were required. Upon this memorial the Government of India in the Home Department recorded a Resolution, dated the 15th July, 1885, in which it was observed that in every province admission to the superior departments in the Service of Government was, as a rule, regulated either by public competition, or by the possession of qualifications altogether independent of the race or creed of the candidate, and that, in the opinion of the Governor-General in Council, it was neither desirable on general grounds, nor for the advantage of Mahomedans themselves, that they should be exempted from the tests established to secure the admission of duly qualified candidates into the public service, or that any special favour should be shown them in open competitive examinations of any kind. The following remarks, however, followed in paragraph 22 of the Resolution:—

"There are a large number of appointments the gift of which lies in the hands of the Local Governments, the High Courts, or local officers. The Governor-General in Council desires that, in those provinces where Mahomedans do not receive their full share of State employment, the Local Governments and High Courts will endeavour to redress this inequality as opportunity offers, and will impress upon subordinate officers the importance of attending to this in their selection of candidates for appointments of the class last referred to."

With reference to these remarks, instructions were issued to Commissioners, on the 7th October, 1885, and the 7th April, 1886, to furnish in their annual general reports statistics of the employment of Mahomedans in the public service, and it was further directed that the subject should be noticed in the Provincial Administration Report.

2. Another memorial has now been received by Government from the Central National Mahomedan Association, dated the 2nd July, 1888, in which the Association, after referring to the orders passed, state that, in spite of those orders, and in spite also of the fact that English education has decidedly progressed among Mahomedans, the condition of their co-religionists has in no way improved, but that, on the contrary, it has been ascertained by means of statistics furnished from the different districts in Bengal, and enquiries made in several departments, that, instead of an improvement, there has been an appreciable retrogression.

3. To the Lieutenant-Governor it would be a matter of very great concern to find that any such retrogression had taken place. Neither the statistics to which the memorial refers, nor the nature of the enquiries undertaken by the Association, have been communicated; so that the Lieutenant-Governor is unaware of the exact ground which they cover, or of the relative importance to be attached to them. The general result, however, is at variance with the statistics on the subject submitted by the Commissioners in ordinary course in their annual administration reports. The information which has been received from six divisions enables a comparison to be instituted of the number of Mahomedan officers in superior service during the two years 1886-87 and 1887-88, and the result of this comparison is shown in the following statement:—

Name of Division.	Number of Mahomedan officers in superior service during 1886-87.	Number of Mahomedan officers in superior service during 1887-88.	Increase.	Decrease.
Burdwan	425	388	.....	37
Dacca	558	644	86	.....
Rajshahye	654	684	30	.....
Chittagong	161	174	13	.....
Bhagulpore	504	1,634	1,130	.....
Chota Nagpore	220	419	199	.....

The Lieutenant-Governor has already observed in the Government Resolution on the Report of the Commissioner of the Bhagulpore Division that there is apparently a mistake in the figures furnished, due possibly to an error in classification, as it is scarcely possible that the increase in the number of Mahomedan employés can have been as large as the figures indicate; but in all the other divisions the figures are accepted, and these show that everywhere, except in Burdwan, there has been a satisfactory increase. The Commissioner of Burdwan states that he has drawn the attention of Collectors under him to the falling off in his division, and observes that, in his opinion, enough has not been done in the direction of introducing Mahomedan apprentices into Government offices; but he adds that though Mahomedan candidates for the higher posts, such as that of Mohurir, are forthcoming, he finds a great lack of such candidates for apprenticeships. In other words, it would appear that these applicants for employment are unwilling to begin at the foot of the ladder, and, if this is anything more than an accident of time and place, the Association will doubtless take steps to have the difficulty overcome. From the Presidency Division no statistics are furnished, nor are details given for the Patna Division; but it is stated that the number of Mahomedans in superior service was greater than in the previous year. In the case of the Orissa Division, no figures are given for the district of Cuttack; but in the districts of Balasore and Pooree there was a decrease from 73 to 60. As Orissa is distinctly a Hindoo province, the question raised is of less importance there than in other parts of Bengal. These figures on the whole indicate certainly no retrogression; but, as before observed, without knowing how far the statistics referred to by the Association cover the same ground with reference to departments and classes of Government servants, as those of the Commissioners', it is impossible for the Lieutenant-Governor to institute any comparison between them. He is inclined primâ facie to accept the indications, offered by the Commissioners' figures, that there has been a substantial improvement in the encouragement now given to the employment of Mahomedans in Government offices, and that the orders of Government have generally received due attention; but, if the Association can show in regard to particular districts or departments that this is not the case, he will be prepared to give further consideration to the matter.

4. The memorial of the Mahomedan Association contains also a protest against the introduction of competitive examinations for the selection of candidates for various services. On this point the Lieutenant-Governor has nothing to add to the observations of the Government of India, which have been recorded in their Resolution already quoted, and are definitely accepted as an enunciation of the principles by which the policy of Government in this connection should be guided.

5. The memorialists conclude their petition with an earnest appeal to the Lieutenant-Governor "to see that the claims of the Mahomedans are properly recognised, and to issue peremptory directions that the Government Resolutions above referred to shall be strictly carried into effect." About the general policy of the Government on this subject there is no room for doubt or error. The only question can be as to the extent to which existing orders have been carried out. A copy of this Resolution will be circulated to the Commissioners of Divisions and the heads of departments in order again to draw their attention to the matter, and to remind the former to be careful to furnish in their Administration Reports full information on the subject. The Lieutenant-Governor does not consider it necessary that the reports on this subject, which are now submitted annually, should be changed to half-yearly statements.

H. J. S. COTTON,

Offg. Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

RESOLUTION ON THE REPORT FROM THE BOARD OF REVENUE ON THE WORKING OF THE CALCUTTA SHIPPING OFFICE AND OF THE SHIPPING OFFICES AT THE SEVERAL OUT-PORTS DURING THE YEAR 1887-88.

No. 1347Marine.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL—PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT.

RESOLUTION.

Dated Calcutta, the 27th August 1888.

READ—

The Annual Report on the working of the Calcutta Shipping Office, and of the Shipping Offices at the several outports, for the year 1887-88.

The working of the Calcutta Shipping Office was satisfactory during the year under review. The receipts amounted to Rs. 26,406, against Rs. 25,710, the figures of the previous year, and the net profits, Rs. 5,465, exceeded those of any of the four years ending with 1886-87. The increase in the receipts was mainly under the head of Sale of Discharge Certificates, and is said to be due to the introduction of the system of continuous discharges. This system, which was introduced into the Port of Calcutta shortly before the close of the year 1886-87, appears to have gained popularity, and is said to have improved the condition of native seamen. Nearly 50 per cent. of these seamen shipped during the year were engaged with continuous discharges. The charges amounted to Rs. 20,941, against Rs. 20,523, the figures of the preceding year.

2. The receipts on account of the funds held in trust by the Shipping Master declined, with the exception of ticket money and deposit money of native seamen. The decrease was largest under the head Deposit Money of British seamen. The decrease under this head is attributed to the facts that a large number of European seamen having been discharged and re-shipped on the same day, no part of their wages was deposited in the office, and that sanction is refused to the discharge of any seaman, whenever there is a large number of seamen on shore, unless some other employment has already been secured for him.

3. The numbers of the seamen shipped and discharged through the Shipping Office rose from 14,008 and 13,888 in 1886-87 to 15,079 and 14,064 respectively during the past year. The number of desertions was 170 as compared with 217, the figures of the previous year. The decrease is said to be due to some extent to the willingness of masters of ships, the crews of which had signed articles to be paid at contract rates of exchange if discharged in India, to discharge them, thus removing the chief incentive to desertion.

4. There was a heavy decline in the amount remitted home by seamen's money-orders. The figures for the past five years are £7,069, 2,556, 1,318, 600, and 525. The decrease is said to be due to the high rate of exchange ruling for such orders.

5. The practice of paying seamen's wages in India at a fixed rate of exchange has increased, but it is confined chiefly to sailing ships coming from the United Kingdom. Out of 16,728 seamen who visited the port during the past year, 5,632 had signed agreements to receive their wages at a fixed rate of exchange if discharged in India, and of this number 1,811, or 32 per cent., were actually discharged and paid off at this port. The Lieutenant-Governor trusts that the Board of Trade's instructions to Superintendents of Mercantile Marine Offices, and the notices to seamen on the subject, which have been widely circulated, will prove a remedy for this state of affairs.

6. The receipts of the Chittagong Shipping Office amounted to Rs. 343 against Rs. 161 in the previous year. This increase was owing to the discharge of a larger number of British seamen, due in its turn to the wreck of the ships

Earl of Jersey and Haddington, and to an increase in the number of European ships visiting the Port. A sum of Rs. 15,363 was received on account of the wages of discharged British seamen, and of this amount Rs. 7,245 were remitted to the Shipping Master of Calcutta. Wages of discharged seamen have hitherto been remitted by transfer receipts. The question of allowing this privilege to continue is now under consideration in the Financial Department, and a copy of the Shipping Master's remarks will be forwarded to that Department.

7. Three seamen were discharged at Balasore during the year. At False Point and Pooree no seamen were shipped or discharged.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c, are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, and from observations made at 6h, 10h, 16h, and 22h.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

o overcast, g gloomy, d drizzling rain, p passing temporary showers, q squally, ● continuous rain.

Explanation.—Summary.—The normal means of air pressure and temperature are the arithmetical average or means of the reading during the same period for the last ten years. The humidity of the atmosphere is expressed as percentage, saturated air being represented by 100. A clear sky is denoted by 0 and an overcast sky by 10. The summer are the numerical means or average of the rainfall in that district determined from the returns sent in by the sub-divisional station for the period in question during the past 12 stations in the district sending in returns divided by the number of stations. A rainy day is one on which at least hundredth of an inch fell.

* Means for six days. † Mean for five days.

CALCUTTA, the 21st August 1888.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL, AND OF THE METEOROLOGICAL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN ASSAM, FOR THE WEEK ENDING FRIDAY, THE 24TH OF AUGUST 1888.

THE principal feature in the meteorology of the week under review has been the formation and advance of a cyclonic storm over South-West Bengal. Even at the close of the previous week there were slight indications of the possible formation of a barometric depression in the north-west angle of the Bay, but these indications had not developed at all on Saturday, the 18th, and conditions were still of ordinary south-west monsoon character. On Sunday, the 19th, though pressure was rising over the whole of South-West Bengal, the wind directions showed that there was a small cyclonic circulation of winds or whirl setting up over the Soonderbuns, the centre of the circulation being about east or east-south-east of Saugor Island. On Monday, the 20th, pressure had fallen at the head of the Bay, and the wind circulation became rather more complete, but on this day the centre of the whirl was to the south of Saugor Island. On Tuesday, the 21st, the centre of the cyclonic circulation had again shifted back to the east or south-east of Saugor Island, while the depression had increased very slightly in intensity, and on Wednesday, the 22nd, the centre of the small storm passed inland and was to the north-east of Saugor Island, and with the advance of the storm centre over the land pressure fell rather rapidly over South-West Bengal. The wind velocities at all stations in the neighbourhood of the depression on this day were very small—thus at Saugor Island a velocity of 19 miles was registered, at Calcutta 9 miles, at Burrisal 5 miles, and at False Point 12 miles. On Thursday morning at 8 A.M., and again in the report for 10 A.M., the centre of the small storm was shown to be close to Calcutta, apparently within a few miles of it, and a little to the south-east, and the barometer had again fallen, making the barometric depression at the centre of the storm considerable. Notwithstanding the considerable depression the wind velocities at the stations affected by the storm were very small, and thus at Saugor Island there was a wind velocity of only 13 miles, at Calcutta 9 miles, and at Jessore 12 miles, though to the east, west and south of the storm, winds were decidedly strengthening, and moderately strong winds were blowing. In the 24 hours from the 22nd to 8 A.M. of the 23rd the small storm had apparently moved about 30 or 35 miles in a north-westerly direction, and the storm centre was certainly about 60 or 65 miles inland. Over the whole of South-West Bengal on this day, winds were only light to moderate in force, and it appeared as if throughout its existence the storm would only give feeble winds, though the rainfall accompanying it was heavy, and falls of six and seven inches had been reported in Orissa on the morning of the 23rd. At the head of the Bay, it was believed that squally weather only prevailed in connection with the storm, for the storm centre was actually a considerable distance inland, and for certainly a diameter of 120 miles in the centre of the storm only light to moderate winds were blowing. Conditions however, began to change on Thursday afternoon, and the storm centre commenced to advance more rapidly than hitherto, and by 6 P.M. it was almost to the east of Calcutta, and by 8 P.M. it was slightly to the east-north-east of that station. With the advance of the storm, winds commenced on the afternoon of this day to increase in force at Saugor Island, though up to about 3 P.M. moderate westerly winds only were blowing. After this time a strong south-westerly gale sprang up, and for some hours it continually increased in strength. As pointed out above, when this south-westerly and south-south-westerly gale sprang up at Saugor Island, the storm centre was at least 60 to 70 miles inland, being near Calcutta and therefore to the north-north-east of Saugor Island. In other words, it is evident that this south-westerly gale formed no part of the true cyclonic circulation of winds accompanying the storm, but was merely an after-effect produced mainly by the strong indraught towards the storm in its advance over the land, and which south-westerly winds helped to feed the cyclonic circulation, which also at this time increased rapidly in force. That such is the case is clear, for with the centre of the storm to the east of Calcutta a cyclonic circulation of winds could only have given a north-westerly gale at Saugor Island, whereas when the wind direction was west at Saugor Island the velocity was still light. At what time this south-westerly gale sprang up at sea in connection with the storm it is difficult to say, for the land observations gave no indication of its existence until the storm actually commenced to blow at Saugor Island.

Notwithstanding that the actual storm area was well inland, as the strong south-westerly gale continued to blow at Saugor Island during the evening of the 23rd with unabated force, it was thought desirable to warn the shipping in the port of Calcutta and the river Hooghly of the existence of the stormy weather, and at 1-20 A.M. on the 24th orders were issued to the signal stations in the river and port to hoist No. 10 night warning signal to be followed at daylight by No. 9 danger signal, and these signals were kept hoisted until orders were given at 8 A.M. on the 25th to have them lowered. The southerly gale of wind at Saugor Island continued to increase in force until 5 A.M. of the 24th, when the extremely high wind velocity of 72 miles an hour was recorded, and throughout the 24th, until about 7 A.M. of the 25th, a gale of wind continued to blow, but at that time the weather commenced decidedly to moderate. At Calcutta winds continued light up till about 3 o'clock on the 24th, at which hour the velocity was only 10 miles an hour, from 3 to 4 o'clock it had increased to 20 miles, and from that time it gradually but steadily increased up till 6 o'clock, when it was blowing at 34 miles an hour, but after this time it gradually decreased again.

At 8 A.M. on the morning of Friday, the 24th, the centre of the storm was to the north of Calcutta, and at 10 A.M. the centre was nearly over Krishnaghur. The storm had intensified very rapidly during the 24 hours from the 23rd to the 24th, and on the latter day it was a very influential storm with the remarkable difference that, while on the 23rd at all stations within 60 or 70 miles of the centre of the storm the winds were particularly light, and at some stations it was even calm, on the morning of the 24th there was a very vigorous cyclonic circulation round the centre. The lowest pressures recorded in connection with the storm do not appear to have been coincident with the passage of the centre of the wind circulation, and at Calcutta pressure continued to fall for some time after the wind had gone round to the south-west, the lowest pressure recorded being 29·313 inches at 6 A.M. of the 24th, while at 10 A M. of the 24th a pressure of 29·354 inches was recorded at Krishnaghur. The subsequent history of this storm belongs to the meteorology of the following week.

Another but much less important fact in the meteorology of the week has been the subsequent history of the depression which had formed in Bengal at the close of the previous week, and which on Friday, the 17th, was lying over part of South Behar and Chutia Nagpur. This depression continued to march in a westerly direction, and on the 18th it was in Bundelkund, and the centre between Sutna and Nowgong; on the 19th it was in Central India, and the centre was some distance to the south-west of Jhansi; on the 20th it was in Western Rajputana, and the centre was approaching Mount Abu; on the 21st it was approaching the Runn of Cutch, and on the 22nd the depression filled up rapidly, and by the morning of the 23rd it had completely disappeared. This storm had therefore a life-history of eight days from 15th to the 23rd, though after the 18th it practically ceased to affect Bengal. It also travelled over a path about 1,200 or 1,300 miles long in its westerly advance.

Pressure.—Owing to the existence of the two small storms above alluded to, pressure has been decidedly below the normal in most of the southern and south-western districts. At Calcutta the mean pressure for the week has been 0·118 inch below the normal, at Saugor Island 0·096 inch below it, and at Burdwan 0·095 inch below it. In the north of the province pressure has been slightly above the normal, and thus at Durbhanga the excess pressure has been 0·016 inch, at Purneah 0·007 inch and at Bankipur 0·009 inch. For the whole province the mean pressure for the week has been 0·042 inch in defect of the normal. In Assam the mean pressure has been almost absolutely normal.

Temperature—Has been below the normal in all districts, the defects ranging from one to two and-a-half degrees. The mean temperature of the province for the week has been 1·9° below the normal. In Assam the mean temperature has been in excess of the normal by 0·7°.

Rainfall—Has been fairly general throughout the week, and with the development and increase in intensity of the storm in South-West Bengal at the end of the week, rainfall became excessively heavy in Orissa and over the southern districts of South-West Bengal. Thus on the 24th Mohesreka (Oolooberia) reported the very large fall of 15·42 inches, while falls exceeding 10 inches (from 6 P M. of the 23rd to 6 P.M. of the 24th) occurred at Calcutta, Saugor Island, Dum-Dum and Howrah, and falls exceeding three and four inches were very numerous. The rainfall of the province for the week has generally been very largely in excess of the normal. In Orissa the excessive fall of 11·39 inches is reported, which is about 9 inches in excess of the normal. In South-West Bengal the falls have averaged no less than 7·42 inches, or more than four inches in excess of the normal. In East Bengal an average fall of 5·39 inches is reported, or nearly two inches in excess of the normal. In Behar the falls have averaged from nearly two to three inches, or about the usual amount for the period. In Chutia Nagpur an average fall of 4·64 inches is reported, which is abou an inch more than the normal. Finally, the smallest falls have occurred in North Bengal, where an average amount of only 1·87 inches is recorded. This fall is nearly an inch smaller than the normal, and this district is therefore the only one where the falls have not been plentiful.

The following table gives the summary of the temperature and rainfall data of each of the seven meteorological divisions of the Province for the week ending Friday, the 24th of August 1888 :—

* A special census of the Europeans in the Darjiling Municipality was recently taken, as the census of this section of the community, taken in February 1881, was not reliable owing to the Europeans being at a minimum in that month. The number of the natives remains as before, as it was not necessary to re-census them. The ratios have consequently been calculated on the revised population under all heads in the above table, except "Age," the ratios under which have been omitted, inasmuch as the census of the Europeans above alluded to cannot be employed as a basis of calculation owing to the results of the census under this head not having been recorded under the authorized form of age classification.

NOTIFICATION.

Dated Calcutta, the 30*th August* 1888.

CUSTOMS. F. M. Halliday, Esq.

THE following rules have been prescribed by the Board of Revenue, Lower Provinces, under section 164 of the Sea Customs Act, VIII of 1878, to carry out the provisions of Chapter 15 of the Act in their application to vessels sailing under a General Pass, and are published for general information in accordance with the provisions of section 204 of the Act, in supersession of the Notification contained in pages 688—694, Part I, of the Calcutta Gazette of the 9th August 1882:—

GENERAL.

1. In these rules the word "agent" shall include masters and owners.

The words "customs port" shall include any foreign ports regarding which it has been notified, under section 13 of the Sea Customs Act VIII of 1878, that all goods imported from or exported to them shall be treated as goods imported from or exported to customs ports.

The words "foreign port" shall include all foreign ports, whether on the continent of India or not, except those regarding which a notification has been issued as above.

The words "dutiable cargo" or "dutiable goods" shall be held to mean—

(a) All goods shipped from foreign ports for customs ports whether transhipped at any customs port or not;

(b) All goods specified in schedules 2 and 3 of the Tariff Act XI of 1882 whether shipped from or to foreign ports or customs ports;

(c) All goods exported under claim for drawback or under bond for duty of customs or excise;

(d) All goods the importation or exportation of which is prohibited or restricted under section 18 of the Customs Act, or any other law for the time being in force.

The words "free cargo" or "free goods" shall be held to mean all goods which do not fall within the above definition of dutiable.

2. A general pass in the form prescribed (Appendix A) shall be issued for each steamer under the signature of the Collector of Customs at Calcutta. It shall be terminable on the 31st of July in each year, and shall be renewable by endorsement on application to the Collector of Customs. It shall be stated on the face of every general pass whether it is valid,

(a) For certain specified ports only;

(b) For all ports throughout certain presidencies; or

(c) For all customs ports throughout India.

The pass shall remain in charge of the commander or other responsible officer of the vessel for which it is granted. It shall be kept posted up in a conspicuous place on board, and shall be shown to any customs officer on demand.

A copy of these rules shall be furnished with each Pass for the use of the ship to which it relates.

The agents or owners may choose at their option at which presidency the pass shall be taken out.

3. By applying for a general pass the agents of a vessel bind themselves, should a pass be granted, to be responsible:—

That no goods shall be carried by her in contravention of any law for the time being in force;

That all provisions of the Customs Act and of these and all other rules legally promulgated in accordance with the said Act, by the authorities of this or any other presidency in which the pass is in force, shall be duly observed;

That all port and light dues shall be paid and all duties short levied or refunds or drawbacks erroneously disbursed in consequence of errors or omissions in the cargo books, manifests, or other documents they are required to keep or put in, shall be made good on demand; and further,

That they shall deposit with the Collector of Customs a sum in cash or Government promissory notes, amounting to Rs. 500 for each vessel, but not more than Rs. 3,000 for any one company or line, and shall give him a general authority to recover from the said deposit all sums adjudged to be due from them whether as dues, duties, recoveries, fees or penalties, in respect of the vessel for which the pass is granted, or of any other vessel or vessels belonging to the same owners and also sailing under a general pass.

Nothing in this condition, however, shall be held to prejudice their right to appeal as provided by section 188 of the Sea Customs Act, VIII of 1878, in any case in which they may consider themselves aggrieved by the Collector's decision.

4. A cargo book in the form B annexed should be kept on board every steamer sailing under a general pass. The said cargo book shall be kept in accordance with the requirements of section 165 of the Sea Customs Act, VIII of 1878, and shall further show separately the dutiable and free cargo received at each port for each port, whether customs or foreign. Cargo received for transhipment shall be shown as for the port at which transhipment is to take place, but the port of ultimate destination shall also be given.

The keeping of the said cargo book shall not be held to dispense with the presentation of manifests, except in so far as may be provided in these rules.

The agents shall be at liberty to add to the form prescribed any columns they may require to adapt it to their own purposes.

5. Nothing in these rules shall be held to exempt the agents or masters of vessels sailing under a general pass from payment of any fees for special services, or from any restrictions as to lading or discharge of dangerous goods, imposed upon them by the rules of any port at which the pass is valid.

LADING AND CLEARANCE.

6. Vessels sailing under a general pass may be entered outwards, and shipping bills granted in anticipation of arrival.

7. No goods except transhipment goods and passengers' baggage shall be received on board without a shipping bill. All shipping bills shall be in English; and at ports where there are no other facilities for their preparation in that language, the agents of the vessel shall be bound to provide for this requirement; shipping bills shall be in the annexed form C. For free goods they shall be prepared in duplicate printed in black and blue. For dutiable goods they shall be in triplicate, printed in black, blue and red, with the word DUTIABLE printed across in large type in red ink.

8. Free cargo may be shipped at any time, day or night, except on Sundays or holidays, without special permission or supervision: Provided that no goods shall be shipped at night without supervision, except such as have been water-borne for shipment during ordinary working hours.

9. Dutiable goods shall not be shipped except under customs supervision. The original shipping bill shall be filed at the Custom House, and the duplicate shall accompany the goods on board. The triplicate shall be retained by the officer supervising the shipment either at the wharf or on board, who after endorsing upon it the particulars of the goods actually received on board, shall return it to the Custom House for use in checking the vessel's export general manifest, as provided below, rule 13.

10. The agents shall cause similar endorsements to be made upon the duplicate shipping bills both for free and for dutiable goods. Those for dutiable goods shall accompany the vessel; those for free goods shall be retained by the agents for presentation with the export manifest.

11. Port clearance must be applied for during office hours unless otherwise directed by the chief customs officer, and at least four hours before the departure of the vessel, and must be sent on board before she actually leaves the port.

12. The export manifest shall be in the same form as is prescribed for the cargo book by rule 4. It must be put in by the agents within five clear working days from the date of port clearance, and must be accompanied by a duplicate prepared in separate parts—one for each port for which goods have been shipped, and by the duplicate shipping bills for free goods endorsed with particulars of actual shipments as required by rule 10.

13. After the original and duplicate have been compared and checked with the triplicate shipping bills for dutiable goods, and the duplicate shipping bills for free goods, one copy of the different parts of the manifest shall be sent by post, together with the corresponding duplicate or triplicate shipping bills, as the case may be, to the customs collector at the ports to which they respectively relate, and the original export manifests shall be retained for use in conjunction with the original shipping bills in recording exports statistics.

ENTRY AND DISCHARGE.

14. Within 24 hours after arrival in any customs port, terminal or intermediate, a duly authenticated extract from the cargo book kept on board as required by rule 4, showing all cargo, free or dutiable, to be discharged, whether for landing or transhipment at that port, shall be presented at the Custom House, together with the duplicate shipping bills referred to in rule 9 for all dutiable cargo comprised in the extract which may have been shipped at customs ports.

NOTE.—The form of the extract may be modified by the substitution of columns for record of presentation of bill of entry and final clearance of dutiable goods, for column 7 and onward in the form of cargo book.

15. At ports where the cargo is to be discharged direct on to a wharf, a duplicate of the extract from the cargo book shall be furnished for use in checking the cargo as it is landed. When the cargo has to be discharged into boats, the duplicate copy may be dispensed with, but a boat-note showing clearly all particulars necessary to the identification of the packages, and signed by a responsible officer of the ship, shall accompany each boat-load ashore:

Provided that at ports of call where the extract from the cargo book to be put in under rule 14, or a list of the cargo is handed to the customs officer on board, or accompanies the goods ashore, no boat-notes or duplicate extract from the cargo book need be insisted upon.

16. Discharge may be commenced as soon as the vessel drops anchor, when free cargo may be landed at any time, day or night, without special permission or supervision, but no cargo from any foreign port, and no cargo from any customs port which was transhipped from a foreign port, shall be discharged except under the written authority of the proper officer of customs.

17. These bills of entry shall be in the usual form for goods imported by foreign-going vessels, and shall be granted upon the extract from the cargo book filed at the Custom House as required by rule 14, after check, if the goods are said to have come from a customs port, with the shipping bills filed with the extract.

NOTE.—See note to rule 14.

19. No. 1068, dated Gaya, the 17th January 1888.

From—The Chairman, District Board, Gaya,
To—The Commissioner of the Patna Division.

ACCORDING to your circular memorandum No. 133 G, dated the 13th April 1887, I have the honour to submit herewith in duplicate a detailed account of the receipts and expenditure of the Gaya District Road Funds for the six months, from the 1st October 1886 to 31st March 1887, together with the following brief reports on the works of local improvements that were undertaken during the period.

2. Half-yearly Account.—The accounts now submitted have not been audited by the standing Sub-Committee of Audit, as the later body ceased to exist from the 24th of October last. It was, however, laid before a special meeting of the District Board, held on the 6th instant, and passed by the members who were present at the meeting.

3. Inspection of Offices.—Besides the inspection by the standing Sub-Committee of Audit, the offices of the Committee and the District Engineer were inspected by the local auditor on the 11th March 1887. His report was on the whole satisfactory.

4. Working of the District and Branch Committee.—During the half-year under report three meetings were held by the Sudder Committee, at each of which there was a quorum. The members took interest in all matters brought before them for discussion. There were three Branch Committees: one at Nowada, one at Jehanabad, and the one at Aurungabad. * * * *

5. Working of the standing Sub-Committee of Audit.—The Sub-Committee of Audit held monthly meetings to audit accounts, in accordance with the orders of the Government, previous to their submission to the Accountant-General, and the result of audit was satisfactory.

6. Collection and Assessment.—The total demand, collection of cesses, and assessment for the year will appear from a separate detailed report on the subject, which was submitted by the Deputy Collector in charge of the Road Cess Collection Department (vide his No. 21R.C. of 22nd July 1887.)

7. Principal and Important Original Works.—In October 1886 a portion of the Phalgu Bridge was destroyed by a high flood, and it was necessary to have the bridge repaired and lengthened. Damage was caused to other important roads in the district by the same flood, which has been partly rectified. Culverts were also built on some of the roads to allow waterway.

8. Repair Works.—All the existing roads, both metalled and kutcha, were repaired.

9. Village Roads.—The repairs were done by the department. No local influential person undertook the execution of repairs of such roads.

10. Condition of the Roads in the District.—All the roads are reported by the District Engineer to be in fair order.

11. Arboriculture.—All the existing trees on the road side were kept up on the same scale as in the previous year.

12. Establishment.—Committee's staff has worked well.
Public Works.—The establishment worked satisfactorily.

7. Inspection of Accounts.—The accounts and registers of the Shahabad Road Cess Committee and of the District Engineer, up to 31st March 1887, were duly examined by the Audit Department, and it is recorded by the Examiner of Local Accounts, Bengal, "that all the books and registers in the office of the Committee and that of the District Engineer are in good order and up to date."

How the different establishments worked during the half-year.—The Chairman's office has been reported by the Audit Committee to have worked satisfactorily during the cess half-year under report.

The District Engineer continues as heretofore to render excellent service, and he enjoys the full confidence of the Board.

The establishment under the District Engineer has worked satisfactorily.

8. State of the road.—The annual superficial repairs of the roads under the District Committee were all promptly executed immediately after the cessation of the rains, and the roads in general were opened to cold weather traffic early in the season.

9. Original Works.—The original works executed during the half-year amount to to Rs. 11,692 and are chiefly as follows :—

I.—Bridging and metalling Chupra Ghât-Arrah road, No. 5, class I and II, sanctioned in Bengal Government's No. 425L.C., dated 24th February 1885, and the Commissioner's No. 79G., dated 4th March 1885. The total expenditure up date is Rs. 45,681 against the estimated cost of Rs. 51,987, leaving a balance of Rs. 6,276 for work remaining to be done, for which Rs. 5,819 have been allotted in the current year's budget. More than $\frac{15}{16}$ of the entire project has been completed, leaving only one mile to be laid and consolidated, which is provided for in the current year's budget.

The bridge across the Sawri nuddee has been opened to traffic, and the remaining mile of metalling will be completed in due course during the coming rains.

II.—Raising and bridging Nasrigunge-Tendoori road, portion of Nasrigunge-Doomraon road, No. 2, class I and II, sanctioned in Bengal Government's No. 165L.C., dated 2nd June 1887, and Commissioner's No. 179G, dated 17th June 1887. The total expenditure up to date is Rs. 2,468 against the estimated amount of Rs. 50,172; more than one-fourth of the earthwork has been completed. The required materials for construction of culverts are almost ready. The budget allotment of Rs. 16,000 for the current year will be worked up to in due course.

III.—Metalling operation of Peero-Beheea road, No. 8, class II, sanctioned in Bengal Government's No. 290, dated 5th July 1886, and Commissioner's No. 234G, dated 22nd July 1886. The expenditure up to date amounts to Rs. 5,184 against the estimated amount of Rs. 17,193. The budget allotment for the season being Rs. 5,482 against the corresponding expenditure of Rs. 2,642, more than half of the collection of kunker completed. The work has so far been executed and very well done, under the direct superintendence of Messrs. Burrows, Thompson, and Mylne of Beheea, but these gentlemen fixed the system of work adopted in the district, viz., that of dealing directly with the working people, as petty contractors or piece-workers, so as to intercept for he benefit of the fund, the profit that would otherwise go to a regular contractor, so troublesome that they state they are unable to devote the necessary time to the work and have requested to be relieved of it.

The supply of kunker within the economical distance of carriage provided in the estimates, is very limited, and the progress must necessarily be slow, but every endeavour will be made to push on the work.

Village roads.—Comprising 54 miles with rustic bridges have been duly maintained at at the cost of Rs. 514 against Rs. 650 of estimate.

Arboriculture.—One hundred and thirty miles of road recently planted with selected fruit and other useful trees have been well maintained within the cost provided in the estimate.

M. WASIRRUDDIN,
Vice-Chairman, District Board.

No. 336, dated Durbhunga, the 31st August 1887.

From—H. S. BRADON, Esq., Chairman District Board, Durbhunga,
To—The Commissioner of the Patna Division.

WITH reference to your memorandum, Circular No. 203G. of the 31st May last, I have the honour to submit the following report on the working of the late District Road Cess. Committee during the half year ending 31st March 1887 :—

COMMITTEE.

District Committee—Only three meetings of the Committee were held during the half-year under report. This was chiefly owing to the camping season, and the changes that took place in the office of the Chairman during the period in question. Mr. Price was transferred in January, and was succeeded by Mr. O'Doyley who again left the district in February, and was succeeded by me.

* * * *

Branch Committee—There were two Branch Committees one in each of the two sub-divisions, Madhubani and Tajpur.

The former held two meetings, and the latter only one during the half-year under report.

The work of these Branch Committees chiefly consisted in the execution of repairs to village roads for which a sum of Rs. 15,500 was provided in the budget. The Branch Committees spent Rs. 13,235-11-2 out of this amount.

INCOME.

The income of the Committee chiefly consisted of the cess on lands.

The total demand of the half-year under this head was Rs. 1,22,486 and as there was an arrear balance of Rs. 43,987, the total realizable demand of the half-year amounted to Rs. 166,473. of this Rs. 14,685 had been already realized in advance in the previous year, and Rs. 97,315 realized during the half-year, and Rs. 250 remitted, leaving an unrealized balance of Rs. 54,223. The percentage of collections was Rs. 90·06 against 86·6 of the previous year.

EXPENDITURE.

Original Works—The budget estimates were at first prepared according to the cess year (October 1886, to September 1887), and a large number of masonry bridges and culverts besides 2½ miles of road metalling were provided for in the budget, but as Local Self-Government was introduced into the district from 1st April, the bridges and culverts, &c., mentioned above could not be finished within March, with the exception of one culvert on the Phulparas-Ghaugheria road, and six culverts on the Gaighat-Ujiarpur roads The remaining works have been re-provided for in the budget of the current year, and as the materials required for them have been already collected, as reported by the District Engineer, it is expected that they will be finished before next March.

Repairs.—There were 754 miles of District Roads in 1885-86; but 105 miles were added to the list during the half-year under report, making up a total of 859 miles. Of this, 156 miles were repaired through the agency of the planters and members of the Committee, the remaining 703 miles being looked after by the District Engineer himself.

Besides the usual surface and bridge repairs of the roads, the following important works were executed during the half-year under this head:—

(1.) Nine new wooden bridges were constructed.
(2.) Fifteen wooden bridges were thoroughly repaired.
(3.) Petty repairs were done to 17 wooden bridges.
(4.) Eight miles of pucca roads were repaired with jhama metal.
(5.) Petty repairs done to 36 pucca culverts.
(6.) Six timber topped bridges were arched over.
(7.) Pucca faces and parapets built to 4 pipe drains.
(8) The roadway in 22 bridges were metalled.
(9.) The platform of the Kakerghattia iron bridge was renewed with teak-wood planks.
(10.) Parapets of 10 pucca bridges were either re-constructed or repaired.
(11) Protective works were executed to the abutments of the Beehul iron bridge.

The state of the roads as far as the earthwork repairs were concerned was satisfactory; but the crying want on most of the roads, except a few main roads of the district, was masonry bridges. Great attention is, however, being paid to this subject during the current year. Besides the heavy allotments for the two iron bridges on the river Bagmatti close to the town of Durbhunga, which had been seriously damaged during the floods of last year, a sum of Rs. 61,268 has been provided in the budget of the current year for the construction of 97 new culverts and bridges.

These bridges are scattered all over the district, and have been proposed with special reference to the immediate requirements of the localities concerned, but in future it is intended to take up the several roads one by one in order of importance, and gradually finish the bridges required on them.

No. 243, dated Mozufferpore, the 4th August 1887.

From—T. NORMAN, Esq, Chairman, District Road Cess Committee, Mozufferpore,
To—The Commissioner of the Patna Division.

I HAVE the honour to submit the following report on the administration of the District Road Fund of this district for the half-year from the 1st October 1886 to 31st March 1887, together with the accounts in duplicate of the receipts and expenditure of the fund for the period :—

Committees.—The District Committee worked well and the members displayed considerable interest in the questions that were brought before them. The Sub-Committees appointed for audit, though not always regular, discharged the duties entrusted to them creditably, and to the best of their abilities. The members of the Branch Committees of Sitamurhee and Hajipore also are reported to have taken interest in the administration of the funds at their disposal.

Accounts.—The half-yearly account has been audited by the standing Sub-Committee of audit at their meeting, held on the 22nd July 1887, under the provision of section 179 of the Cess Act IX (B.C.). The monthly accounts for every month of the half-year under report duly audited by the said Committee, were submitted to the Accountant-General, Bengal, and the work of the Committee in connection with the keeping of accounts has been performed with great care and regularity.

The Improvement and Maintenance of District Communications.—The District Engineer reports as follows :—

1. "Original works.—With the exception of the improvement of the Pupri road No. 34, (the earthwork for which was sanctioned by a letter from the Commissioner of the Patna Division, No. 301G, dated 2nd November last) no new works have been started in the half-year under review. Satisfactory progress, in as far as funds permitted, has however been made in the works previously undertaken, viz., the improvement of the Kurlahya Ghât and Huzrut Jandaha roads, the construction of a timber bridge over the Bur-Gunduck river at Akhara Ghât, over the Kedana river at Sonbursa Ghât on the Shahpore Road No. 5 and of a new road from Darharwa to Byrugnia.

2. "The minor works under this head have progressed satisfactorily, and may reasonably be expected to be completed before the rainy season sets in.

3. "The General State of Communications.—Owing to the abnormal high floods in the Bagmuti and Bur-Gunduck rivers during the last rainy season, many of the roads were extensively breached and rendered impassable for traffic. The damages were, however, as far as possible, repaired, and the roads opened to traffic as soon as floods subsided.

4. "The roads in the Committee's list, aggregating 141 in number and 1,465¾ miles in length, were for the most part repaired satisfactorily during the year. I have had to call special attention to the manner in which several of the roads in the Sitamurhee subdivision under the direct charge of the Branch Committee were repaired, and it is to be hoped that this will have a salutary effect.

5. "The subject of encroachments on the lands belonging to the roads is a very serious one and deserving of special attention. Offences under this head are visibly increasing, the punishments awarded on conviction of the offenders being, in my opinion, insufficient to act as a deterrent. In 27 convicted cases in the Sudder sub-division alone, the average fine only amounting to Rs. 2-11 per case. Many of them being as low as eight annas, it frequently pays the offenders to cultivate crops on lands belonging to the roads, as the fines inflicted are less than the rent which would have to be paid for an equal quantity of land, when in addition to this, there is a chance of cases not being instituted against them (as it would be obviously impossible to take notice of all and every offence in a large district like this), and also that the prosecution may break down on trial from some reason or other, it is obviously in the interests of the cultivators to encroach as much as possible.

"Arboriculture.—The system of planting trees on the sides of the district roads has been discontinued, it having been found to be an expensive, unremunerative and deleterious one. In addition to the damage done to the roads by the drip from the foliage during the rains, much of the moisture which would otherwise score to consolidate the roadway is absorbed by the roots of the trees at the very time when it is most required. The trees already planted are generally in good condition, but many of them will have to be cut down before many years have lapsed, the hopes entertained that they would prove remunerative have been dispelled, owing, in my opinion chiefly to the fact that unless the roots of fruit trees are freely opened up, and the surrounding ground cultivated (which would obviously be impossible on the road), the quell of fruit is infinitesimal."

Establishment.—The District Engineer has performed his duties with skill and assiduity and the different establishments under the District Road Committee have worked well and satisfactorily.

We do hereby certify that we have examined and found the District Road Fund Accounts for the cess half-year ending the 31st March 1887.

RAM DHARY SAHOY,
Vice-Chairman, D. R. Committee.

ALI MIRZA,
Member, D. R. Committee.

No. 1321, dated Chupra, the 9th August 1887.

From—J. A. BOURDILLON, Esq., Chairman, District Board, Sarun,
To—The Commissioner of the Patna Division.

I HAVE the honour to forward herewith detailed account of receipts and expenditure of the District Board Fund from 1st October 1886 to 1st April 1887, and a report on the administration of the fund during that period, submitted by the Vice-Chairman.

Dated Chupra, the August 1887.

From—BABOO R. A. NARAYAN SINGH, Vice-Chairman, late District Road Committee, Sarun, To—The Chairman, District Board, Sarun.

I HAVE the honour to submit the following report on the administration of the Road Fund of this district from 1st October 1886 to 1st April 1887, together with detailed accounts of the receipts and expenditure. I have delayed the submission of these accounts as I had intended to lay them for audit before the Finance Committee to be formed under the Local Self-Government Act. But as the District Board has not yet been formed, I consider further delay unnecessary.

2. The Local Self-Government Act having been introduced in this district from 1st April last, the accounts of the late District Road Committee were closed on that date, and their cash balance was transferred to the credit of the District Board.

3. The Sub-Committee of audit having ceased to exist from 1st April 1887, and no Finance Committee being formed yet under the Local Self-Government Act, the accounts could not be audited. The monthly accounts from which the accompanying accounts have been compiled were duly audited by the late Sub-Committee of audit.

4. The original works and repairs in the Sewan sub-division were up to 31st March last executed by the Sewan Branch Committee, and those in the Gopalgunge sub-division, excepting original works on the main roads, were executed by the Gopalgunge Branch Committee.

5. Repairs to most of the unmetalled roads were completed, and kunkur was being collected for the repairs of metalled roads. Several original works were also in progress, such as construction of bridges and improvement of roads.

6. The improvement and repairs of village communications were also in progress. Advances were made to Managers of factories and native gentlemen to carry on these works.

7. Nothing was done under the head of tree plantation, as the operation is taken in hand in the rainy season. But the nurseries were kept supplied with fruit-bearing trees, such as mangoes, jamun, &c.

* * * * * * * *

9. The office establishment did excellent work. The Head Assistant and Accountant Baboo Taruk Nath Dutt, deserves favourable mention.

Notes to accompany the accounts for the period from 1st October 1886 to 1st April 1887.

1. District Board.—The heading "District Board" has been opened on the receipt and expenditure side of the accounts under Accountant-General's No. 971LF, dated 25th March 1887, for transferring the balances of the cash book and of the—advance and deposit accounts to the District Board.

2. Revised Budget.—The figures of the revised budget returned with Commissioner's No. 109G, dated 13th April 1887, have been shown under the heading "Amount as per budget estimate" both in the schedule of receipts and expenditure.

3. Refund of cess.—Rupees 133-14-3 represent remission of cess in respect of Government estate Bungra, pergunnah Chowbar, which was over-assessed. This remission was sanctioned in Board's No. 822, dated 17th November 1886.

4. Original Works and Repairs.—The works which do not show any expenditure have all been provided for in the District Board's Budget for 1887-88, and most of them have since been put in hand.

5. The balance at credit of the late District Committee on the 31st March 1887 was transferred to the credit of the District Board on the 1st April following. Hence there is no cash book balance left.

R. A. NARAYAN SINGH,

Vice-Chairman.

Form of Audit Certificate.

I HEREBY certify that the books and accounts specified below* prescribed for the Road Cess office and for the office of the District Engineer are duly kept up, and that they have been posted for the year ending March 1887, and have been duly scrutinized by the Sub-Committee.

Also that the Treasury Officer's abstract of the account of the Committee for the year has been duly received, checked with the cash and pass-books, and found to agree therewith; that the vouchers for the payments of the year have been cancelled; that all necessary steps have been taken for the recovery or adjustment of outstanding advances; that none but duly sanctioned expenditure has been incurred, and that in the case of original works, the register of monthly expenditure shows clearly the amount of sanctioned estimate, the grant for the year, and the expenditure on each work to end of the year; and generally, that the work of the office has been performed with carefulness and regularity, and with a due observance of the rules prescribed by Government.

SAJIVAN LAL,
Member of the Sub-Committee.

KANTI BHUSAN BANERJEE,
Vice-Chairman.

No. 184G, dated Bankipore, the 9th April 1888.

From—JOHN BOXWELL, Esq., Officiating Commissioner of the Patna Division,
To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Public Works Department.

I HAVE the honour to forward the accounts and reports of the late District Road Committee of all the districts in this Division, except Patna, for the half-year ending the 31st March 1887, after which date the above Committees ceased to exist, and the Bengal Local Self-Government Act came into force in all the districts of the division.

The reports give full and clear accounts of the various works executed during the half-year, and I need not therefore add any remarks thereon.

2. In the Patna district the Bengal Local Self-Government Act was introduced on the 1st of October 1886, and a report of its working for the first half-year was submitted to the Municipal Department of the Government with this office No. 331, dated 27th June last.

"or in the following sections and portions of the following Act passed by the Governor General in Council, that is to say, in Act VII of 1870, 'the Court-fees Act,' sections 19G, 19H," hereby repealed.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

UNDER section 90 of the Probate and Administration Act, 1881, an executor or administrator has power, with the consent of the Court by which the grant of probate or of letters of administration was made, to dispose of the property of the deceased, either wholly or in part, in such manner as he thinks fit.

A proviso to the section enacts that the Court may, when granting probate or letters of administration, exempt the executor or administrator from the necessity of obtaining such consent as to the whole or any specified part of the assets of the deceased.

It has been represented to the Government of India that it is only recently that the restrictive effect of this section has been realised, and that Hindus have gone on taking out probates and letters of administration and acting under them as if they had the same effect as probates, and letters of administration with copy of the will annexed, had under the Hindu Wills Act, 1870, up to the first day of April, 1881. They now find that such of their transfers of property as they had not power to make under Hindu law are invalid. It appears also that for some years after Act V of 1881 had come into force no distinction was made in the Public Debt Office between the powers of European and those of Asiatic executors.

The confusion caused by the restricted form of probate and administration under the Act of 1881 is so serious as in the opinion of competent authorities to render retrospective as well as prospective legislation necessary.

In these circumstances it is proposed by section 7 of the Bill to substitute for section 90 of the Probate and Administration Act, 1881, a section conferring on an executor or administrator an absolute power of disposal over moveable property, but, as regards immoveable property, subjecting an executor ordinarily to such restrictions, if any, as are imposed on him by the will appointing him, and an administrator to restrictions similar to those imposed on a guardian by Acts XL of 1858 and XX of 1864. It is also proposed by section 10 of the Bill to confer on persons who have already taken out probate or letters of administration under Act V of 1881 the unrestricted powers, prospectively and retrospectively, which under the Hindu Wills Act used to be conferred, and under the Indian Succession Act are conferred, on executors and administrators.

It is further proposed by section 10 of the Bill to remove a doubt whether section 90 of the Act of 1881 is to be construed, with respect to transfers made after the first day of April, 1881, as applying to executors and administrators to whom probates, and letters of administration with copy of the will annexed, were granted under the Hindu Wills Act, 1870, before that day.

2 The other sections of the Bill are of secondary importance.

Sections 4 and 8 will enable Courts which are not Courts of Record, and cannot punish for such contempt as is involved in the omission to submit an inventory or account, to insist in proper cases, either in the interests of the revenue or at the instance of a person interested in the administration of an estate, on the submission of such documents as Acts X of 1865 and V of 1881 now require to be submitted in all cases, without, however, making any express provision for enforcing their submission.

Sections 2 and 3 are subsidiary to section 4, and sections 5 and 6 to section 8.

Section 9 is designed to remove a doubt which has existed since the enactment of article 2 of the first schedule to the Indian Stamp Act, 1879, with respect to the stamp to which an administration-bond under the Indian Succession Act, 1865, or the Probate and Administration Act, 1881, is liable.

Sections 11 and 12 are suggested by the Public Demands' Recovery Act (Bengal), VII of 1880.

The 17th August, 1888.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

THE object of this Bill is to re-enact Act XXVII of 1860 and amend the Court-fees Act, 1870, in accordance with the proposal made by the Hon'ble Major Baring in his Succession Certificate Bill of 1883 and with the suggestions which that Bill evoked from Local Governments, High Courts and other authorities.

2. The following was the Statement of Objects and Reasons which Major Baring appended to his Bill:

"ARTICLE 12, Schedule I, of the Court-fees Act, VII of 1870, provides, among other matters, for the levy of a fee of two per cent. on the amount or value of the property in respect of which a certificate is granted under Act XXVII of 1860. The following note is appended to the article:

'The person to whom any such certificate is granted, or his representative, shall, after the expiration of twelve months from the date of such certificate, and thereafter whenever the Court granting such certificate requires him so to do, file a statement on oath of all moneys recovered or realized by him under such certificate.

'If the moneys so recovered or realized exceed the amount of debts or other property as sworn to by the person to whom the certificate is granted, the Court may cancel the same, and order such person to take out a fresh certificate and pay the fee prescribed by this schedule for such excess.

'In default of filing such statement within the time allowed the Court may cancel the certificate.'

"2. In the course of the discussions in the Legislative Council which preceded the passing of the Probate and Administration Act, V of 1881, a proposal was made by Mr. Pitt-Kennedy that Act XXVII of 1860 and the Court-fees Act should be amended so as to require, from any one obtaining a certificate under the former Act for the recovery of any portion of the estate of a deceased person, payment of a court-fee at the rate of two per cent. on the entire value of the estate.

"3. A circular was thereupon addressed to Local Governments calling for opinions on this proposal.

"The replies received show that the weight of authority is altogether against its adoption; but many of them call attention to the fact, already more than once brought to the notice of the Government of India, that the requirements of the note in the Court-fees Act above referred to are as a rule neglected or evaded, that persons taking out certificates do not file the statements required by it, that the Courts have no proper means of compelling them to do so, and that large amounts of debts are thus collected under certificates obtained for trifling sums.

"4. Various suggestions have been made for enforcing compliance with the provisions of the note; but it appears to the Government of India that there are objections to any device for securing the fee which involves the imposition on the person obtaining the certificate of a duty to be performed after he has obtained the certificate.

"The great mass of the people who take out certificates are so indolent or careless or unintelligent that there is little hope of getting them to comply with the provisions of such a law; and the consequence is that, if it is not allowed to remain a dead letter, as the present law has been, public officers will be constantly compelled to inflict penalties on large numbers of persons many of whom have been guilty of no deliberate wrong.

"5. The simple plan, as it seems to the Government of India, is that already adopted without any warrant of law by some of the officers consulted, namely, to require each applicant for a certificate to file with his application a schedule of the debts in respect of which the certificate is required, and to amend Act XXVII of 1860 so as to make the certificate good only for the debts entered in the schedule, at the same time allowing the certificate-holder, if he afterwards finds that he needs a certificate for other debts, to obtain an extension of the certificate on paying the additional duty, and (if the Court requires him to do so) giving additional security.

"6. The only objection that has been taken to this arrangement is that taken by the Calcutta High Court in their Registrar's letter No. 54, dated 10th January, 1880, printed in paper No. 20 to the Court-fees Bill. They fear that 'improper use' might be made of the schedule 'by fraudulent debtors whose debts were not in the knowledge of the applicant at the time [he filed the schedule], or in some way prejudice might arise.'

"Now, there is little doubt that a fraudulent debtor would take the point referred to, and that he would thereby put the certificate-holder to the trouble of explaining his omission to enter the debt in his original schedule; but there would be no great hardship in this, and there would, on the other hand, be a certain compensating advantage, inasmuch as (as observed in one of the replies to the circular) the fear of this would stimulate applicants for certificates to be careful in compiling their schedules.

"7. Assuming that the law is to be amended in the manner proposed, a further question arises as to what debts the applicant for a certificate should be bound to include in his application. Should he be bound to include—

(a) all debts known to him to be outstanding, including those which could be realised equally well without a certificate; or

(b) only those debts which he chooses to include because he believes he cannot realise them without a certificate?

"The former, it is believed, would be more in accordance with the views of those who framed the existing law; but it appears to the Governor General in Council that it would be sufficient to adopt the second mode of valuation and allow the applicant to take out a certificate in respect of such debts only as he thinks fit. No doubt, a larger revenue might be obtained by insisting on the other mode of valuation; but it is apprehended, having regard to the class of people who take out these certificates, that any system requiring the applicant to give a complete list of debts would, if it was to be thoroughly enforced, necessitate proceedings of an inquisitorial nature for which no sufficient machinery exists and which it would not be worth while to undertake for the sake of the additional revenue to be obtained.

"8. The rule which it is now proposed to lay down, while it dispenses with all proceedings of an inquisitorial or penal nature, may reasonably be expected to lead to some increase of the revenue under this head, inasmuch as, the certificate being expressly limited in its operation to the debts specified in it, the necessity of including in it all debts except those due from persons standing in some peculiarly friendly or confidential relation will be brought home to the applicants, and debtors will probably become alive to the risk they run in paying a debt which is omitted from it.

"The additional revenue realized will not, as just observed, be as large as if the alternative mode of valuation were adopted, but this is a result which, for the reason already stated, the Government is prepared to accept.

"9. The present Bill has been prepared for the purpose of carrying out the above views. The effect of it, if it becomes law, will be that every applicant for a certificate under Act XXVII of 1860 will be required to state in his application the debts in respect of which he desires the certificate. It will be in his option to include what debts he pleases. He will pay duty only in respect of the debts which he elects to include, and the operation of the certificate will be limited to those debts. If he subsequently desires to include other debts, he can have the certificate extended to them on paying the additional duty. The note appended to article 12 of the schedule to the Court-fees Act will not apply to him. For the rest, the amendments made by the Bill in Act XXVII of 1860 and in the Probate and Administration Act, 1881, are of an unimportant nature and merely such as are necessitated by the above alterations in the substance of the law."

3. As regards the main provisions of Major Baring's Bill there was a considerable preponderance of opinion among Local Governments and High Courts in favour of them.

4. But very many authorities, including the Government of the North-Western Provinces and Oudh, the High Court for the North-Western Provinces, the Hon'ble the Advocate General of Bengal, the Administrator General of Madras, Mr. Tremlett of the Punjab Chief Court, and the Hon'ble Mr. Conlan of the Allahabad Bar, urged the repeal of the last thirty words of section 2 of Act XXVII of 1860 on the ground of the difficulty of construing them, of the capricious manner in which they are in practice construed, of their incompatibility with the scheme of Major Baring's Bill, and of the loss of revenue which would necessarily result from their retention. These words have accordingly been omitted from section 4 of the Bill.

5. Another suggestion was that the exemption from court-fees of certificates in respect of debts and securities of value not exceeding one thousand rupees was inconsistent with a scheme which was to allow an applicant to include only as much as he thought fit of the debts and securities of a deceased person. This suggestion has been accepted, and it is proposed in section 20 and the first schedule to amend the Court-fees Act accordingly.

6. A further suggestion was that some higher fee should be charged in respect of debts which were not originally included in a certificate and to which the certificate has to be subsequently extended. This suggestion has also been accepted in section 20 of the Bill.

7. The other portions of the Bill which appear to call for remark are the following :—

Section 2.—With reference to the Probate and Administration Act, 1881, and certain remarks recorded on the Bill of 1883 by Mr. Cordeaux, District Judge of Poona, it is proposed to repeal the Regulation of the Bombay Code No. VIII of 1827. In the consideration of this proposal by the Select Committee the opinions of the Government and High Court of Bombay will of course carry great weight.

Section 3.—Proposals made by the Government of Bombay and the Hon'ble Mr. Conlan have suggested the definition of the word "security".

Sections 9 and 16.—These sections are designed for the protection of persons dealing in good faith with holders of certificates, even though the certificates have been superseded or are otherwise invalid.

Section 10.—This section follows an unanimous recommendation of the Hon'ble Judges of the High Court for the North-Western Provinces.

Section 11.—The retention of this section, which appears to be little used at present, will be for the consideration of the Select Committee to which the Bill is to be referred.

Section 12.—In proposing to make a certificate have effect throughout the whole of British India, the Bill is drawn in accordance with the advice of the Hon'ble Mr. Conlan, who has pointed out the grave inconvenience which sometimes arises from the limitation of the local operation of certificates under Act XXVII of 1860.

Section 13.—In this section it is proposed to specify the orders from which appeals are to lie, and to leave no room for doubt as to the authority of a Court to review its orders.

Section 21.—This section prescribes a practice which has been enforced in the North-Western Provinces for the last ten years.

Section 23.—The early part of the first sub-section was suggested by the Hon'ble Mr. Justice Field.

Section 25.—This section enlarges the effect of the grants of administration at which section 150 of the Probate and Administration Act, 1881, is aimed.

8. In view of the possible effect of section 4 of the Bill, the Governor General in Council desires that Local Governments and High Courts, and the officers who may be consulted by them, will, where any such enactment as the Bombay Civil Courts Act, 1869, section 16, the Oudh Civil Courts Act, 1879, sections 25 and 26, the Punjab Courts Act, 1884, section 29, or the Bengal, North-Western Provinces and Assam Civil Courts Act, 1887, sections 23 and 24, is in force, consider its sufficiency, and, where no such enactment is in force, consider whether such an enactment will not be necessary or at least convenient.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

THE object of this Bill is to remove doubts which have been expressed as to the effect of the Debtors Act, VI of 1888, and the Civil Procedure Code Amendment Act, VII of 1888, on the procedure of Presidency and Provincial Courts of Small Causes, and as to the course of appeal from orders in insolvency-matters under sections 351, 352, 353 and 357 of the Code of Civil Procedure.

As section 653 of that Code (section 8, Act VI, 1888) does not apply to Presidency Courts of Small Causes, and the portions of the Code applicable to Provincial Courts of Small Causes have now to be ascertained by reference to two Acts (XIV of 1882 and IX of 1887), it is considered that the doubts which have been expressed as to the effect of the legislation of this year on the procedure of Courts of Small Causes should be removed by the substitution of new schedules for the second schedule to the Code of Civil Procedure and the second schedule to the Presidency Small Cause Courts Act, XV of 1882.

Act VIII of 1880 (an Act to correct a clerical error in the Indian Limitation Act, 1877) has been rendered obsolete by section 66 of the Civil Procedure Code Amendment Act, VII of 1888.

RESOLUTION ON PROGRESS REPORT OF FOREST ADMINISTRATION REPORT IN BENGAL FOR 1887-88.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT—FORESTS.

Calcutta, the 3rd September 1888.

RESOLUTION.

READ—

The Progress Report of Forest Administration in Bengal for 1887-88.

This report is submitted by Mr. A. L. Home, Conservator of Forests, who was in charge of this Department throughout the year.

2. The net result of the changes in the forest areas under the control of the Department is unimportant, and consists of a decrease to the extent of 3,605 acres, due to the exclusion of 3,761 acres of protected forests, and the inclusion of 156 additional acres of reserves, the quantity of unclassed State forest and waste land remaining unaltered. The total area of the reserved forests on the 31st March 1888 was 3,191,381 acres. Areas comprising about 140,190 acres in Chota Nagpore have been gazetted as proposed for reservation at various times since 1880, but settlement operations are still pending, and final notifications under section 19 of the Act have not in consequence issued.

Area of forests.

3. The record of the length of boundaries and the number of boundary marks in reserved forests, which is now reported to be fairly accurate, shows a total length of 3,515 miles, of which 2,165 have been demarcated by the erection of 31,157 posts or pillars, and the remaining 1,350 miles are natural boundaries not requiring to be artificially defined. There were 44 miles newly demarcated during the season, while 1,058 miles were re-cleared, and 921 more miles were kept clear as fire traces. The average cost per mile of the fresh demarcation was Rs. 16, or almost double that of the preceding year, owing, it is explained, to the expense of labour in the Darjeeling and Teesta sub-divisions, and the more thorough clearance made in Khorda than formerly. On maintenance also the expenditure incurred showed an increase, the average cost being Rs. 7-2 as compared with Rs. 6-15 in 1886-87, due to a larger number of marks having been renewed.

The demarcation of the Angul reserve boundaries by the Cadastral Survey party employed in that estate had not been completed at the close of the year. The Lieutenant-Governor has now sanctioned the survey of the whole of the forest reserves in Angul, the cost being debitable to the settlement of the estate. In Singbhoom the forest boundaries adjoining the States of Bonai and Gangpur are reported to have been finally demarcated by the Special Sub-Deputy Collector employed on the duty since the close of the year.

Establishments.

4. The controlling staff, which was brought up to its sanctioned strength by an additional appointment made last January, now consists of one Conservator and twelve Deputy and Assistant Conservators. The Working Plans Division has not been re-opened, but it is hoped that it will now be found possible to spare an officer to resume the useful work done in this department. The Lieutenant-Governor has perused with satisfaction the generally favourable remarks regarding his subordinates recorded by Mr. Home, and these will as usual be communicated to the Appointment Department. He is glad to learn that punishments in the lower grades, both judicial and departmental, have been of less frequent occurrence than in previous years The unpopularity of the service among natives of India in these Provinces appears, from the Conservator's remarks, to have been as noticeable as ever, and it is stated that many applicants for appointment as Foresters either declined to accept the posts offered them on learning that their head-quarters were located in the forests, or, having joined, remained in the service for a brief interval only. The circumstance was remarked with regret by the Government of India last year, and the suggestion was then thrown out that it might be desirable to try the experiment of importing foresters from other parts of India. This proposal has been considered by the Lieutenant-Governor in consultation with the Conservator, but it does not seem that effect can be given to it without increased expenditure; and although there is some difficulty in obtaining candidates locally, it does not appear that it is by any means an insuperable one. The inhabitants of the Lower Provinces are of many races, and they cannot all be deficient in the tastes or qualifications requisite for efficient service in the Department. It may be necessary to take more pains in Bengal than elswhere to secure men of the right class, but no obstacle of this kind should be suffered to prevent local recruitment. That efficient Bengali foresters can be found is evinced from this report itself, in which the Conservator "regrets to have to record the death from fever of Baboo Gobind Chunder Sen, Forest Ranger, Chittagong Division;" and observes that "the Department has in him lost an excellent Executive officer," and also in a subsequent paragraph in which due credit is accorded to Baboo Sridhur Chuckerbutty for the management of his difficult charge in the Singbhoom sub-division.

Gunduck Drift Timber Rules.

5. In consequence of the anomalous position occupied by the Forest Officer of the Gorruckpore Division in his operations on the Bengal side of the river, it was found that the old rules for the collection of drift timber in the river Gunduck had led to much friction between the Forest and Civil Officers, and in all probability to the considerable loss of revenue to Government. After full discussion, the rules have recently been superseded and amended, and it is hoped that the work will now be carried out more satisfactorily. Since the close of the year a proposal has been made to apply the rules to the Koosee river also.

Branches of the Forest Law.

6. The number of cases under the Forest Law taken into Court was only 516 against 839 last year and 624 in the preceding year. On the other hand the returns show a large increase, from 882 to 1,367, in the number of cases compounded, and the net result is that, taking both classes of cases together, there is an increase of 662 cases. Of the cases compounded no less than 1,204 were in the Sunderbuns Division; the increase there amounts to 943 cases and is due to better supervision owing chiefly to the more constant tours made by gazetted officers. The offences compounded appear to have been such only as could be suitably dealt with in that manner, and the increase in the number so disposed of is no doubt satisfactory. The advantage is twofold, as offenders are naturally, as a rule, willing to compound venial infringements of the Act and rules rather than be subjected to a regular prosecution, while the system is convenient from a departmental point of view, as it obviates the necessity for leaving important revenue-collecting stations without responsible officers to accept payment of Government dues. The Conservator states that he is satisfied with its working, and has received no appeals against the estimates of damage made by his subordinates.

Protection from fires.

7. The total area over which protection from fire was attempted by means of isolation, and also by less extensive measures and rules, amounted to 1,134,646 acres, or 127,363 acres more than in the preceding year, and the percentage of area which escaped fire rose from 80·9 to 89·9. The expenditure incurred on this account was Rs. 18,107 against Rs. 14,378 in 1886-87. The Lieutenant-Governor considers that the average cost of 3·4 pies per acre protected during the year is far from excessive, especially as the results generally were very satisfactory. In reserved forests an area of 92·6 per cent. escaped fire during the exceptionally dry season of 1888 against 89 per cent. in 1887.

Grazing.

8. The total revenue derived from grazing and the sale of fodder rose from Rs. 6,680 to Rs. 7,737, almost half of the amount having been raised in the Darjeeling sub-division alone. The rules have continued to work satisfactorily, and rates are unchanged. The Conservator's proposals for the restriction of sheep-grazing in the Singalila Range the Lieutenant-Governor found himself for various reasons unable to accept.

Natural and artificial reproduction.

9. The record of observations shows that regeneration by means of natural reproduction has generally succeeded well. Favourable accounts are received from all the sub-divisions especially in regard to sâl trees. Under a system of improved fire protection, the grass is gradually disappearing and giving place to healthy sâl seedlings which in a few years will form thickets and suppress the grass. Regular plantations were extended by 294 acres and cultural operations by 7 acres, the total expenditure incurred amounting to Rs. 7,283 against Rs. 7,460 in 1886-87. These developments were again confined almost exclusively to the Darjeeling and Chittagong Divisions, while the cutting of creepers was principally carried on in Julpigoree and Buxa.

Outturn

10. The outturn of wood was 26,041,197 cubic feet solid, against 24,485,093 cubic feet in 1886-87. The removal of timber by permit-holders increased by 992,339 cubic feet, but there was again a falling off of 340,779 cubic feet in the exports of fuel under these passes. There appears to have been a general advance in the demand for bamboos, but this was more than counterbalanced by the decline in the outturn of the Chittagong Division and the Palamow sub-division, due, in the former case, to frontier raids, and, as regards the latter, to the department having taken the work more into its own hands.

Financial results.

11. The financial results of the year compare very favourably with those of the three preceding years, the figures being as follow:—

	Receipts.	Charges.	Surplus.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
1884-85	5,71,152	4,11,915	1,59,237
1885-86	5,97,432	3,70,399	2,27,033
1886-87	6,53,634	4,22,781	2,30,853
1887-88	6,57,794	3,90,368	2,67,426

The receipts were greater and the charges less than in 1886-87, and the surplus, therefore, is larger by Rs. 36,573.

It is observed that the receipts from the Sunderbuns are Rs. 3,97,301, from Darjeeling Rs. 99,460, and from Chittagong Rs. 70,023. The principal receipts are from timber Rs. 2,83,969, firewood and charcoal Rs. 1,92,467, and other minor produce Rs. 82,577. Bamboos yield Rs. 51,115. The heaviest expenditure is incurred in Darjeeling Rs. 1,07,548, the Sunderbuns Rs. 82,160 and Chota Nagpore Rs. 66,518. The total cost debited to conservancy and works is Rs. 1,73,731, and to establishments Rs. 2,16,635. The Financial results of the year as well as the general administration of the department are creditable to Mr. Home.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

H. J. S. COTTON,

Offg. Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

THE following report is published for general information.

COLMAN MACAULAY,

Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

REPORT ON THE WORKING OF THE FIRE BRIGADE IN THE TOWN AND SUBURBS OF CALCUTTA AND IN HOWRAH DURING THE YEAR 1887-88.

No. 4329, dated Calcutta, the 15th August 1888.

From—The HON'BLE SIR HENRY L. HARRISON, KT., Commissioner of Police, Calcutta,

To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Municipal Department.

I HAVE the honour to submit, under section 30 of Act IV (B.C.) of 1883, the following report on the working of the Fire Brigade in the town and suburbs of Calcutta and in Howrah for the year 1887-88.

2. The Brigade was in attendance at 34 fires during the year—11 in the town, 12 in the suburbs and 11 in Howrah—against 36 in the preceding year. The value of property destroyed was estimated at Rs. 53,655 against Rs. 64,375. The fires were less serious than in the previous year, and in the town the only fire which calls for special notice was on board the ship Hutton Hall, in which a cargo of jute to the value of Rs. 23,000 was destroyed. In the suburbs and in Howrah the fires were principally confined to thatched and tiled huts and to stacks of straw.

3. None of these fires was attended with loss of human life, nor did a fire occur at any of the jute warehouses.

4. A memorandum of the fires, as well as a statement of the receipts and expenditure of the Brigade, are enclosed.

5. During the year under review 35 prosecutions were instituted under section 23 of the Act, and convictions were obtained in all the cases.

6. No license for the sale of fireworks was withdrawn during the year.

Statement showing the actual Receipts and Disbursements of the Fire Brigade Fund for the year ending the 31st March 1888.

Explanation.—Summary.—The normal means of air pressure and temperature are the arithmetical average or means of the reading during the same period for the last ten years. The humidity of the atmosphere is expressed as a percentage, saturated air being represented by 100. A clear sky is denoted by 0 and an overcast sky by 10. The number are the numerical means or average of the rainfall in that district determined from the returns sent in by the sub-divisional station for the period in question during the past 24 stations in the district sending in returns divided by the number of stations. A rainy day is one on which at least hundredth of an inch fell.

* Means for six days.

for the week ending Friday, the 31st of August 1888.

CALCUTTA, the 4th September 1888.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL, AND OF THE METEOROLOGICAL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN ASSAM, FOR THE WEEK ENDING FRIDAY, THE 31st OF AUGUST 1888.

THE meteorological history of the previous week had been important from the formation of a cyclonic storm at the head of the Bay. This storm subsequently advanced slowly over South-West Bengal, where it remained stationary for some days, gradually intensifying, and then commenced to move more rapidly in a north-westerly direction, and with its forward movement it strengthened considerably, giving strong winds and heavy rain. On Friday, the 24th, the centre of the storm was to the north of Calcutta, and at 10 A.M. of this day the central calm was reported from Krishnaghur. The storm continued its slow north-westerly advance, and on the morning of the 25th its centre was in the Sonthal Pergunnahs district, the centre being to the west of Nya Doomka. On the 26th it advanced into the middle of Behar, and its centre was to the east of Gya and to the south-west of Bhagulpore, but the storm centre was at a considerable distance from any meteorological observatory. On the 27th the storm was close to Patna, the centre being to the east or north-east of that station, and on the 28th the storm had passed from Bengal into the North-West Provinces, and the centre was to the south of Gorakpur. Up to the 27th the intensity of the storm had continued to be very considerable, and on this day, with its approach towards Patna, pressure fell by more than a fifth of an inch, and a pressure of 29·49 inches was reported; but with the advance of the storm into the North-West Provinces the storm rapidly decreased in intensity and commenced to fill up, and on the morning of the 28th it was a comparatively feeble storm. During the 28th and up to the morning of the 29th, the decrease in intensity continued, and on the latter day the only indication of its existence was a feeble residual cyclonic circulation of winds in Oudh and Rohilkund; while on the 30th it had entirely disappeared. As the storm had formed at the head of the Bay on the morning of the 19th, it had therefore a life history of eleven days, while the course it travelled over was barely six hundred miles.

From the period the 23rd to the 27th, it was a decidedly influential storm accompanied by very strong winds, and in its progress it brought up extremely heavy rain, but previous to and after the date mentioned the storm was of little importance. The heavy falls up to and including the 24th accompanying the storm have already been detailed in the report for the previous week, and during the advance of the storm inland the following expectionally heavy falls were reported:—On the 25th Chooadanga received 6·25 inches, and Diamond Harbour, Culna, Deoghur and Karakdiha between 5 and 6 inches; falls in excess of four inches were reported from Barrackpore, Goalundo, Subornakholly (Mymensingh district), Sherepore, Bogra, Darjeeling, and Shiekpura (Monghyr district); while falls in excess of two and three inches were very numerous. On the 26th Rajmehal received 7 32 inches, Jamui 6·28 inches, Nowada 6·23 inches, Burhi 5·75 inches, Behar 5·70 inches, Pakri Barawan 5 5 inches, Barrh 5 40 inches; while falls in excess of three and four inches were numerous Again on the 27th, Jehanabad (Gya district) received 9·05 inches, Gya 7·59 inches, Arwal 6·74 inches, Buxar 6 27 inches, Bikram 6·25 inches and Gopalgunge 6 inches, and falls in excess of five inches were reported from Sasseram, Arrah, Nowadah, Daudnagar and Hilsa. After this date the falls became more moderate in amount, as the storm had passed out of Behar, and was rapidly diminishing in intensity.

From about the 29th the meteorological conditions in Bengal were fairly normal for the monsoon period, and they continued so on the following day; but on the 31st again a small barometric depression had formed in the north-west angle of the Bay, which was accompanied by a distinct cyclonic circulation of winds, though the wind velocities were light; the centre of this circulation was to the south of Saugor Island, or in almost exactly the same position as that in which the former storm had generated The depression was, however, particularly feeble on the 31st, and did not affect the weather in the province to any material extent.

Pressure.—With the passage of the cyclonic storm through the province, the changes of pressure have been decidedly large, and, with the advance of the storm centre pressure fell by about a fifth of an inch, while in its rear a more than corresponding increase was reported. The general pressure for the whole province has therefore been in defect of the normal, the defects being largest in the western districts through which the storm passed. Thus the mean pressure for the week at Burdwan was less than the normal by 0·086 inch, at Patna it has been 0·076 inch in defect, while at Gya the defect has been 0 071 inch. For the whole province the mean defect for the week has been 0·055 inch. In Assam the defect has been rather smaller and has averaged 0·037 inch.

Temperature.— Owing to the heavy rainfall during the weak, temperature has generally been below the normal, the defect in Behar being very considerable, where it has amounted to between two and a half and three degrees. In Chutia Nagpur also the defect has been almost equal to two degrees, but over the remainder of the province the defects have been somewhat smaller averaging about one degree. For the whole province the mean temperature for the week has been 1·6° below the normal for the period. In Assam a mean defect of 1° is reported.

Rainfall.—The heaviness of the rainfall over the area affected by the passage of the cyclonic storm has already been referred to. Rainfall has thus been in large excess in Behar, Chutia Nagpur and South-West Bengal, while smaller excess falls are also reported in East and North Bengal. Orissa has again received a fall decidedly smaller than the normal, and the comparative absence of rainfall and the continued lightness of the showers received in this district are well marked features of the present monsoon. In South Behar the excessively heavy average fall of 9·10 inches is reported for the week, which is nearly seven inches in excess of the normal amount. In North Behar an average fall of 5·37 inches has been received, which is more than two and a half inches in excess of the normal. In East Bengal a fall of 4·50 inches is recorded, or somewhat less than two inches in excess of the usual quantity. In South-West Bengal the stations have received an average fall of 4·33 inches, which is 2·15 inches in excess of the normal. In North Bengal the average fall has been 4·22 inches, which is a little more than half an inch in excess of the normal, and in Chutia Nagpur an average fall of 4·24 inches has been received, or again about two inches more than the usual amount. The fall in Orissa has this week been decidedly scanty, and it only amounts to 1·20 inches as against an average of about 5 inches over the remainder of the province. This fall is 0·69 inch in defect of the normal amount, or, in other words, the actual has been less than two-thirds of the normal.

The following table gives the summary of the temperature and rainfall data of each of the seven meteorological divisions of the Province for the week ending Friday, the 31st of August 1888 :—

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

* A part of census of the Europeans in the Darjiling Municipality was recently taken, as the census of this section of the community, taken in February 1881, was not reliable owing to the Europeans being at a minimum in that month. The number of the natives remains as before, as it was not necessary to re-census them. The ratios have consequently been calculated on the revised population under all heads in the above table, except "Age," the ratios under which have been omitted, inasmuch as the census of the Europeans above alluded to cannot be employed as a basis of calculation owing to the results of the census under this head not having been recorded under the authorized form of age classification.

THE following revised Rule cancelling Rule 12 at page 113 of the Criminal Rules and Orders, and amending a portion of Rule 13 at pages 113 and 114 ibid which has been framed by the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal, under 24 and 25 Victoria, Chapter 104, section 15, having been approved and sanctioned by His Excellency the Governor-General in Council, is published for general information.

Registrar.

PRESENT RULES.

12. [Chapter XXII, Code of Criminal Procedure. Record in Summary trials. C. O. No. 3 of 8th July 1876]—(a). A Magistrate trying an offence summarily, and passing a sentence from which an appeal lies, should not make the record required by section 264 of the Code of Criminal Procedure as an entry in the register prescribed by section 263, and then on the Appellate Court calling for the record of the trial, cut out and send up the portion of the register containing this entry. The practice of mutilating official registers is open to the gravest objection and is strictly prohibited; there is no warrant for it in the law.

(b). Section 263 of the Code of Criminal Procedure directs that a register shall be kept for a certain purpose, namely, for the purpose of entering such particulars as are specified in the section, in cases where no appeal lies. The provisions of this section do not apply to any other cases.

(c). The judgment required to be drawn up in appealable cases under section 264 is to contain the particulars mentioned in section 263 and something more, namely, the substance of the evidence on which the conviction was had. But it is not to be entered in the Register of non-appealable cases, and is evidently intended to be in a separate form, so that, when necessary, it may be submitted to the Court of Appeal

13. [Chapter XXII, Code of Criminal Procedure. Inspection of Registers of Summary trials. C. O. No. 1 of 11th January 1888.]—District Magistrates should satisfy themselves from time to time that the law regarding summary trials is properly observed, and especially that Magistrates do not exceed their jurisdiction, a duty which may most conveniently be performed by an occasional and not infrequent examination of the registers of summary trials.

REVISED RULES.

THE following rules have been prescribed by the Board of Revenue, Lower Provinces, under section 164 of the Sea Customs Act, VIII of 1878, to carry out the provisions of Chapter 15 of the Act in their application to vessels sailing under a General Pass, and are published for general information in accordance with the provisions of section 204 of the Act, in supersession of the Notification contained in pages 688—694, Part I, of the Calcutta Gazette of the 9th August 1882:—

GENERAL.

1. In these rules the word "agent" shall include masters and owners.

The words "customs port" shall include any foreign ports regarding which it has been notified, under section 13 of the Sea Customs Act VIII of 1878, that all goods imported from or exported to them shall be treated as goods imported from or exported to customs ports.

The words "foreign port" shall include all foreign ports, whether on the continent of India or not, except those regarding which a notification has been issued as above.

The words "dutiable cargo" or "dutiable goods" shall be held to mean—

(a) All goods shipped from foreign ports for customs ports whether transhipped at any customs port or not;

(b) All goods specified in schedules 2 and 3 of the Tariff Act XI of 1882 whether shipped from or to foreign ports or customs ports;

(c) All goods exported under claim for drawback or under bond for duty of customs or excise;

(d) All goods the importation or exportation of which is prohibited or restricted under section 18 of the Customs Act, or any other law for the time being in force.

The words "free cargo" or "free goods" shall be held to mean all goods which do not fall within the above definition of dutiable.

2. A general pass in the form prescribed (Appendix A) shall be issued for each steamer under the signature of the Collector of Customs at Calcutta.

It shall be terminable on the 31st of July in each year, and shall be renewable by endorsement on application to the Collector of Customs. It shall be stated on the face of every general pass whether it is valid,

(a) For certain specified ports only;
(b) For all ports throughout certain presidencies; or
(c) For all customs ports throughout India.

The pass shall remain in charge of the commander or other responsible officer of the vessel for which it is granted. It shall be kept posted up in a conspicuous place on board, and shall be shown to any customs officer on demand.

A copy of these rules shall be furnished with each Pass for the use of the ship to which it relates.

The agents or owners may choose at their option at which presidency the pass shall be taken out.

3. By applying for a general pass the agents of a vessel bind themselves, should a pass be granted, to be responsible :—

That no goods shall be carried by her in contravention of any law for the time being in force;

That all provisions of the Customs Act and of these and all other rules legally promulgated in accordance with the said Act, by the authorities of this or any other presidency in which the pass is in force, shall be duly observed;

That all port and light dues shall be paid and all duties short levied or refunds or drawbacks erroneously disbursed in consequence of errors or omissions in the cargo books, manifests, or other documents they are required to keep or put in, shall be made good on demand; and further,

That they shall deposit with the Collector of Customs a sum in cash or Government promissory notes, amounting to Rs. 500 for each vessel, but not more than Rs. 3,000 for any one company or line, and shall give him a general authority to recover from the said deposit all sums adjudged to be due from them whether as dues, duties, recoveries, fees or penalties, in respect of the vessel for which the pass is granted, or of any other vessel or vessels belonging to the same owners and also sailing under a general pass.

Nothing in this condition, however, shall be held to prejudice their right to appeal as provided by section 188 of the Sea Customs Act, VIII of 1878, in any case in which they may consider themselves aggrieved by the Collector's decision.

4. A cargo book in the form B annexed should be kept on board every steamer sailing under a general pass. The said cargo book shall be kept in accordance with the requirements of section 165 of the Sea Customs Act, VIII of 1878, and shall further show separately the dutiable and free cargo received at each port for each port, whether customs or foreign. Cargo received for transhipment shall be shown as for the port at which transhipment is to take place, but the port of ultimate destination shall also be given.

The keeping of the said cargo book shall not be held to dispense with the presentation of manifests, except in so far as may be provided in these rules.

The agents shall be at liberty to add to the form prescribed any columns they may require to adapt it to their own purposes.

5. Nothing in these rules shall be held to exempt the agents or masters of vessels sailing under a general pass from payment of any fees for special services, or from any restrictions as to lading or discharge of dangerous goods, imposed upon them by the rules of any port at which the pass is valid.

LADING AND CLEARANCE.

6. Vessels sailing under a general pass may be entered outwards, and shipping bills granted in anticipation of arrival.

For dutiable goods they shall be in triplicate, printed in black, blue and red, with the word DUTIABLE printed across in large type in red ink.

8. Free cargo may be shipped at any time, day or night, except on Sundays or holidays, without special permission or supervision: Provided that no goods shall be shipped at night without supervision, except such as have been water-borne for shipment during ordinary working hours.

9. Dutiable goods shall not be shipped except under customs supervision. The original shipping bill shall be filed at the Custom House, and the duplicate shall accompany the goods on board. The triplicate shall be retained by the officer supervising the shipment either at the wharf or on board, who after endorsing upon it the particulars of the goods actually received on board, shall return it to the Custom House for use in checking the vessel's export general manifest, as provided below, rule 13.

10. The agents shall cause similar endorsements to be made upon the duplicate shipping bills both for free and for dutiable goods. Those for dutiable goods shall accompany the vessel; those for free goods shall be retained by the agents for presentation with the export manifest.

11. Port clearance must be applied for during office hours unless otherwise directed by the chief customs officer, and at least four hours before the departure of the vessel, and must be sent on board before she actually leaves the port.

12 The export manifest shall be in the same form as is prescribed for the cargo book by rule 4. It must be put in by the agents within five clear working days from the date of port clearance, and must be accompanied by a duplicate prepared in separate parts—one for each port for which goods have been shipped, and by the duplicate shipping bills for free goods endorsed with particulars of actual shipments as required by rule 10.

13. After the original and duplicate have been compared and checked with the triplicate shipping bills for dutiable goods, and the duplicate shipping bills for free goods, one copy of the different parts of the manifest shall be sent by post, together with the corresponding duplicate or triplicate shipping bills, as the case may be, to the customs collector at the ports to which they respectively relate, and the original export manifests shall be retained for use in conjunction with the original shipping bills in recording exports statistics.

ENTRY AND DISCHARGE.

14. Within 24 hours after arrival in any customs port, terminal or intermediate, a duly authenticated extract from the cargo book kept on board as required by rule 4, showing all cargo, free or dutiable, to be discharged, whether for landing or transhipment at that port, shall be presented at the Custom House, together with the duplicate shipping bills referred to in rule 9 for all dutiable cargo comprised in the extract which may have been shipped at customs ports.

NOTE.—The form of the extract may be modified by the substitution of columns for record of presentation of bill of entry and final clearance of dutiable goods, for column 7 and onward in the form of cargo book.

15. At ports where the cargo is to be discharged direct on to a wharf, a duplicate of the extract from the cargo book shall be furnished for use in checking the cargo as it is landed. When the cargo has to be discharged into boats, the duplicate copy may be dispensed with, but a boat-note showing clearly all particulars necessary to the identification of the packages, and signed by a responsible officer of the ship, shall accompany each boat-load ashore:

Provided that at ports of call where the extract from the cargo book to be put in under rule 14, or a list of the cargo is handed to the customs officer on board, or accompanies the goods ashore, no boat-notes or duplicate extract from the cargo book need be insisted upon.

16. Discharge may be commenced as soon as the vessel drops anchor, when free cargo may be landed at any time, day or night, without special permission or supervision, but no cargo from any foreign port, and no cargo from any customs port which was transhipped from a foreign port, shall be discharged except under the written authority of the proper officer of customs.

17. These bills of entry shall be in the usual form for goods imported by foreign-going vessels, and shall be granted upon the extract from the cargo book filed at the Custom House as required by rule 14, after check, if the goods are said to have come from a customs port, with the shipping bills filed with the extract.

NOTE.—See note to rule 14.

18. The agents of the vessel shall be bound to account, on being called upon to do so, for all discrepancies both as to free and as to dutiable cargo, and to make all amendments necessary to secure the correctness of the documents put in by them.

19. The agents shall further be bound to undertake that, when the vessel touches at any foreign port in the course of any coasting voyage, a certificate under the signature of the chief officer of customs at such port, shall be despatched within 48 hours of her departure to the customs collector of every customs port for which she has taken in cargo at such foreign port, giving number and description of packages, numbers and marks they bear, and a general description of their contents.

They shall also be bound to furnish to the chief customs officer of any customs port from which any goods may have been shipped under bond for customs or excise duty, or under claim for drawback, for any foreign port, a certificate from the chief customs officer of the said foreign port showing particulars of discharge of such goods.

TRANSHIPMENT.

20. Goods for transhipment shall be dealt with as provided in the rules laid down by notification of the Government of Bengal, dated the 26th November 1883, and the notice of the Collector of Customs, Calcutta, dated the 27th June 1882.

STORES.

21. No stores shall be landed, transhipped, unladen, shipped, or waterborne for shipment without the written authority of the proper officer of customs.

PASSENGERS' BAGGAGE.

22. Passengers' baggage may be shipped and discharged at any time without supervision or restriction except as regards baggage shipped at foreign ports. It will be the duty of the master to enter all such baggage in his cargo book and extracts therefrom to be presented under rule 14, and to see that no such baggage is landed out of hours at any customs port unless it has been passed by a customs officer on board.

By order of the Board of Revenue, L.P.,

K. G. GUPTA,
Offg. Secretary.

RESOLUTION ON THE GENERAL ADMINISTRATION REPORT OF THE PRESIDENCY DIVISION FOR THE YEAR 1887-88.

GENERAL DEPARTMENT—MISCELLANEOUS.

Calcutta, the 6th September 1888.

RESOLUTION.

READ—

The General Administration Report of the Presidency Division for the year 1887-88.

This excellent report is submitted by Mr. Smith, who was in charge of the Division throughout the year.

2. All the District and Sub-divisional Officers appear to have made a good use of their time in camp: their tours were properly planned and carried out.

3. The rainfall generally was somewhat deficient, but it fell opportunely. In the 24-Pergunnahs there was a good average harvest. In the Nuddea district the aus rice, indigo, and jute were all good and above the average. The outturn of the cold-weather crops was somewhat inferior in quantity, but in quality the produce more than made up for the loss. In Jessore the outturn was a little below and in Khulna above, the average. The cultivation of sugarcane in Jessore is increasing, as it is found to be a paying crop. In Moorshedabad the year was one of good harvest. The Commissioner reports that the mulberry crops of this district appeared good, and that, although the partial failure in cocoons must have affected the value of the crop, which occupies a part of almost every holding where cocoons are reared, no complaints were heard. Wherever mulberry lands come under re-settlement, high rates are asked and paid willingly, the profits to the cultivators being very great.

4. Taken as a whole, the year was healthier than its predecessors, and there is a remarkable decrease in the number of deaths from cholera in all the districts. There was also a conspicuous immunity from small-pox. In these respects the mortuary returns correspond with those in Calcutta itself, where there was less cholera than in any year on record, except 1880, and small-pox was almost entirely stamped out. There was, however, an increase in the mortality from fever in the 24-Pergunnahs and Moorshedabad districts.

5. In commenting on the material condition of the agricultural community, the Commissioner states that the upper class of tenants holding their lands directly from the zemindars are in easy and independent circumstances, and that the class of under-tenants, though paying comparatively high rates of rent, are still able, with ordinary care and thrift, to provide themselves with a sufficiency of food and other necessaries. In regard to the labouring classes, it appears that the demand for agricultural labour is, on the whole, equal to and in some seasons more than equal to the local supply. Village artisans as a body are as well off as those who cultivate their own lands: but there are cases of poverty among them, as in the weaver class, seldom to be met with among cultivators. The only help for these people is in factories, either in place of, or supplementary to, their home manufactures. In Moorshedabad it is proposed to hold an exhibition in the coming cold weather with the object of stimulating and, if possible, reviving in some measure the old indigenous arts and manufactures, which it is said are losing all distinctive excellence.

6. Prices of food were lower than for some years past, and the surplus for sale was larger than usual. Generally speaking the year was one of prosperity to all classes.

7. An interesting section of the report is devoted to manufactures and trade. There are 45 mills, factories, and presses at work in the 24-Pergunnahs district, exclusive of a number of jute screws, soorkee and flour mills, and castor oil presses, of which no statistics are available. The quantity of jute worked up in the jute mills was 90,329 tons, and the estimated value of the outturn 17 crores of rupees, against 76,800 tons and 13 crores, respectively, in the year preceding. There are four cotton mills which appear to have worked up 7,685 tons of cotton This shows a decrease of 645 tons on last year's work, but the value of the outturn is given as 56 lakhs of rupees—four lakhs more than that for last year A feature in the season is the reported increase in the export of Calcutta mills yarn to China Besides the large sugar mills at Cossipore, there are said to be 170 smaller factories in the district at which sugar is refined according to the native method, and where the outturn is estimated at only 10,800 maunds. In Jessore sugar is manufactured all over the district. There is one manufactory at Kotechandpore, where 14,833 maunds of refined sugar were produced. The manufacture of unrefined sugar or "dalua" is carried on at about 200 factories. It is observed, however, that the industry has declined since foreign sugar has been brought into the market. Besides sugar, a large quantity of goor or molasses is manufactured from date juice and a small quantity from sugarcane juice; the extension of sugarcane cultivation is to meet the increased demand for molasses and not for manufactured sugar Indigo prospered during the year: the value of the outturn from the Nuddea district is estimated at Rs 9,08,288, from Jessore at Rs. 5,60,545, and from Moorshedabad at Rs. 8,43,515. In regard to the Nuddea district the Commissioner writes:—

"It may be noted that Baboo Bipro Das Paul Chowdhry of Natudoho, by education an Engineer, a man of considerable means and intelligence, has opened a brass foundary at Mohesgunge, and it is said that the manufacture and trade in brass vessels are brisk."

The Lieutenant-Governor, who was already aware of this enterprise, trusts that it may meet with every success. The District of Nuddea is famous for its brass wares, which are largely exported to Calcutta and other places.

8. The excise revenue of the Division (which includes the Town of Calcutta) increased from Rs. 27,13,756 to Rs. 29,64,783. There was an increase in all the districts. The Stamp revenue increased from Rs. 37,80,348 to Rs. 38,25,837. It appears that the average rate of fine imposed per head in stamp cases was Rs 9 against Rs. 12 of the previous year, and the Lieutenant-Governor concurs with the Commissioner's observation that sufficient attention does not seem to have been paid to inflicting adequate punishments. The income-tax collections amounted to Rs 16,70,903. The land revenue collections show a decrease from Rs. 50,42,829 to Rs. 50,07,167. This is chiefly due to the payment of the demand of some estates by remittance transfer receipts, which could not be adjusted till after the close of the year.

9. The departments which, as a general rule, are under the control and administration of the Local Boards are the repairs of village roads, the repairs of unmetalled district roads, and the management of pounds. Regarding the work of the Local Self-Government Act in the 24-Pergunnahs district, the Commissioner observes "that the Local Boards at Baraset, Basirhat, and Diamond Harbour are presided over by non-official Chairmen, who seem to take proper interest in their work. The attendance at the District Board meetings was fair, and the members generally evinced an intelligent interest in the matters placed before them for consideration" Of Nuddea it is said—"On the whole, all the Local Boards in this district have worked well, and the members generally have taken a fair share of the work." The Magistrate of Jessore, Mr. Barrow, "does not think that the working of the Local Boards was carried on smoothly during the year, there having been constant friction with the officers of the various departments." In Khulna "the Local Boards showed great interest in the management of the matters placed under their control. The meetings were all very well attended, and the proceedings were conducted with intelligence and in a business-like manner." The Magistrate of Moorshedabad observes that "all the members of the Local Boards did not evince an equal interest in their work. Jungypore compares unfavourably with other sub-divisions. It failed to secure a quorum at four meetings." Summarising his remarks on this subject, Mr. Smith writes:—

"On the whole, it may be said that the system of Local Self-Government introduced a year-and-a-half ago has been working smoothly Mr. Barrow, however, does not think that the scheme has as yet been a success. It seems to me, however, that this result in Jessore is to some extent due to want of adequate attention to requirements on the part of Mr. Barrow as Chairman of the District Board. The friction to which he refers could have been averted by the timely preparation of rules regulating the relations between the various officers and bodies. Mr. Barrow says, he himself in the light of the past now sees that he might have done more, and in that opinion I agree with him."

10. The following important remarks are recorded by Mr. Smith on the subject of municipalities:—

"The results of the late election, it may be noted, have been satisfactory in more ways than one. In the first place, there were unmistakeable signs of a growing desire among the population to elect better representative men in the proper sense of the word than formerly. The late elections were more numerously attended, and more hotly contested in most Municipalities than on the first occasion, and it is therefore hoped that the members of the new Boards having been chosen more on their own merits, will show a better disposition to work together for the public common good, and in a more temperate and conciliatory spirit than has hitherto in some instances been shown.

"In the second place, care was taken in the election of the Government nominees, with the result that not only are the Mahomedans better represented than formerly, and the important European manufacturing interests in several Municipalities in the neighbourhood of Calcutta, but a leaven of important, impartial, and influential Hindu members (men who stood aloof from the incidents of a contested election) has been secured to the different Boards.

"Notwithstanding occasional drawbacks, much good and useful work was done by the late Boards during the past year There has been a general desire among the Commissioners to do their best, and a willingness evinced to accept cheerfully the advice of the supervising authorities in respect of their budget allotments and other matters, while at the same time attention has been paid to the direction contained in the report of the official auditor, and fair progress made in bringing the registers and accounts into proper order."

11. The Lieutenant-Governor is glad to see the evidences which this report discloses of the mutual disposition on the part of the executive authorities and local bodies in this division to co-operate in the harmonious and beneficial working of Local Self-Government

12. Considerable progress was made in the new Railway from Ballygunge to the Kidderpore Docks, and a survey has now been completed of a line to connect this with the Petroleum Depôt at Budge-Budge. By these works a system of circular railways round Calcutta and the Suburbs will be completed. A short branch railway was also constructed from the eastern section of the Eastern Bengal State Railway to the Kakeenara mills, and a station has been opened at Kakeenara. In Jessore the extension of the Bengal Central Railway to Narail is in contemplation. Nothing has been done on the proposed railway line from Ranaghat to Bhugwangola. The remarks of the Commissioner on embankments and communications, and especially the observations on the dilapidated state of the Nalhati State Railway, will be transmitted to the Public Works Department for consideration.

13. The statistics of education show a small increase, the number of pupils rising from 194,449 to 198,400. The percentage of Mahomedan pupils in high English schools is 7·3, and in lower primary schools 34·8. Until the Mahomedan community take advantage to a larger extent of the facilities afforded for the higher English education, it is scarcely possible for Government to meet their demand for a considerably larger share in public appointments. The Commissioner observes in this report that the position in regard to the employment of Mahomedans remains practically unchanged, and that he has nothing to add to the remarks made in his previous reports. Mr. Smith will, however, see, from a Government Resolution on the subject which has been lately published, that this information is not considered sufficient, and that, in accordance with the standing orders of Government, details should be furnished year by year.

14. The Commissioner observes that the relations between landlords and tenants are generally satisfactory everywhere. The Collector of the 24-Pergunnahs makes favourable mention of Rani Rajkumari Dasi, Rajah Sir Surendro Mohun Tagore, the late Baboo Sagur Dutt and Rajah Peary Mohun Mookerjee. In the Nuddea district it is mentioned that Baboo Debendro Nath Tagore contributed Rs. 6,000 towards the construction of the school and dispensary buildings in Kooshtea town. The name of Baboo Ram Chunder Mookerjee, Zemindar and Government Pleader, is also specially mentioned as having distinguished himself throughout the year by a zealous discharge of his duties as a zemindar, as Chairman of the Krishnaghur Municipality, as Vice-Chairman of the District Board, and in numerous other public functions. In the matter of the fishery question, all zemindars are said to have behaved with consideration and forbearance, and it is stated that there have been no disturbances arising from fishing.

15. The Lieutenant-Governor has much pleasure in acknowledging the valuable services which have been rendered by Mr. Smith during the year in his able and successful administration of this important Division. His remarks on the conduct of subordinate officers will be communicated as usual to the Appointment Department.

Offg. Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

RESOLUTION ON THE ANNUAL GENERAL ADMINISTRATION REPORT OF THE DACCA DIVISION FOR THE YEAR 1887-88.

GENERAL DEPARTMENT—MISCELLANEOUS.

Calcutta, the 11th September 1888.

READ—

The Annual General Administration Report of the Dacca Division for the year 1887-88.

The report is submitted by Mr. Larminie, who was in charge of the division throughout the year, except for a period of three months, when Mr. Worsley officiated as Commissioner.

2. The tours made by the Commissioner, the District and Sub-divisional Officers, were of sufficient length, and appear to have been useful and well planned. The Sub-divisional Officers of the Dacca district receive special commendation for the character of their work while in camp.

3. The rainfall was sufficient and fairly and suitably distributed throughout the year. As a consequence the crops, both rice, jute, and pulses, were good in every district. Prices were easy. It is noted by the Commissioner that rice sold cheaper in Dacca and Furreedpore than in the two great rice-growing districts of Backergunge and Mymensingh. This is a remarkable evidence of the facilities now afforded for communication, and of the manner in which the trade of the country is opening up. It is but a few years ago that it was reported that in a season of bumper harvest the crops were left in many places to ripen and wither on the ground, while the peasants were left lamenting at the cheapness of grain. The tendency now is towards a general equalisation of prices. In December 1867, when there was a favourable harvest, the average price of common rice in Mymensingh was 32 seers and in Backergunge 42 seers. The price in Calcutta at that time was between 24 and 30 seers per rupee. Twenty years later, in December 1887, when there was also a favourable harvest, the average price in Mymensingh was 21 seers 1 chittack, and in Backergunge 24 seers 1 chittack. In Calcutta the average price of rice of the same quality was 20 seers and 8 chittacks. Nothing could show more decisively than these figures the effect which has been produced by the development of trade, and the great increase of wealth which in consequence must have poured into the producing districts.

4. There is nothing to add to what has been said in previous years as to the material condition of the people. The agriculturists continue to be prosperous, and the artizans also are said to be well-to-do. The number of landless labourers is small, and a road cannot be made or a tank excavated without the aid of foreign labourers.

5. The section of the report on trade and commerce furnishes statistics of traffic in the principal articles of trade. The figures, however, do not seem to have been subjected to analysis and cannot be accepted as trustworthy. For instance, the Commissioner writes of Naraingunge:—"The trade of this rising mart expanded very considerably during the year under report, the imports having increased from Rs. 3,62,683 to Rs. 6,03,460, and the exports from Rs. 84,33,922 to Rs. 98,16,285." It is presumed that these figures relate to sea-borne traffic only, and it is obvious that they very imperfectly represent the amount of trade carried on in one of the largest inland marts in the Lower Provinces. Naraingunge is the great emporium of trade for Eastern Bengal, as Serajgunge is of Northern Bengal and Patna of Behar; and a mere comparison of the figures quoted under exports with those quoted under imports is sufficient to show how imperfectly the latter represent the whole import traffic of the place. For purpose of comparison with the present figures, the Lieutenant-Governor observes that in the year 1876-77, when special arrangements were sanctioned for the registration of inter-district traffic, the value of exports from Naraingunge was registered at Rs. 95,77,200, and the value of imports at Rs. 1,53,81,100. The principal items were as follows:—

	Exports.	Imports.
	Rs.	Rs.
Raw cotton	3,15,000	12,21,000
European piece goods	7,61,000	32 47,200
Jute	47,82,900	38,84,400
Rice	13,84,000	11,57,800
Salt	6,79,500	18,43,500
Sugar	3.14,800	9,51,200
Tobacco	3,47,500	6,63,000

These figures afford some approximation of the trade of Naraingunge, but there is little doubt that they were an under-statement at the time they were recorded, and it is certain that during the last eleven years the trade has considerably increased. Turning now to the trade and commerce of export districts, it is observed that in regard to the export rice trade from Backergunge the Commissioner writes:—

"Rice known as balam rice, for which this district is notable, is grown in bumper crops throughout the district, and is the most important article of export trade. With the reclamation of jungle or waste lands the production is increasing year by year. There was a heavy crop for the year under report, and in spite of the low prices in Calcutta exports increased in bulk, it is estimated to 26 lakhs of maunds, against 24 lakhs of the preceding year."

These figures appear also not to cover the whole ground. In 1876-77 the export of rice from the district was registered as 36,40,000 maunds. The imports in Calcutta from Backergunge have since been registered year by year, and in 1885-86 they amounted to 41,54,572 maunds, and in 1886-87 to 39,95,189 maunds. The figures given for the Mymensingh rice exports are admitted by the Commissioner to be not altogether reliable, but, "so far as can be made out from the sub divisional reports, the amount exported was about 2,22,150 maunds." This again is an obvious under-estimate. In 1876-77 the registered exports were—rice 7,26,200 maunds, and paddy 12,12 800 maunds In other respects it is possible that the figures given in the Commissioner's report are more accurate than those which have now been examined; but if this should not prove to be so, and the local officers are not in a position to check the information acquired by them on the spot with the annual statistics of external trade which are published by Government, the Lieutenant-Governor considers that it would be better to altogether omit these statistics from future reports.

6. The current demand of land revenue in the division rose from Rs. 33,83,507 to Rs. 33,93,000, and the collections were on the whole satisfactory. The excise revenue showed a small increase of from Rs. 7,69,498 to Rs. 7,73,088. The outstill system was in force in all parts of the division excepting the town of Dacca and its neighbourhood. The receipts from ganja show a satisfactory increase with a reduced consumption. There was an increase in the stamp revenue from Rs. 22,73,726 to Rs. 23,93,220, and in income-tax from Rs. 2,39,983 to Rs. 2,85,569. In all respects the result of the revenue administration indicates the increasing prosperity of the people.

7. A marked feature of the Dacca Division is the institution of agricultural loan banks at various local centres. These banks now exist in many districts of Bengal, and their number and importance show a satisfactory tendency to increase. In the Dacca Division there are now ten of such banks duly registered: two in Dacca, one in Furreedpore, one in Backergunge, and six in Mymensingh. Of these the Furreedpore Loan Office is the most successful. It is said to be in a flourishing condition and on a thoroughly sound basis.

8. The traffic on the Dacca State Railway line shows an increase, the gross receipts during the year being Rs. 3,00,284 against Rs. 2,78,849 in the year preceding. The Collector of Mymensingh reports, however, that the goods traffic is not so satisfactory as might have been expected, and that country-boats still compete successfully in carrying jute from the district. The proposed extension of the Central Bengal Railway line from Jessore vid Narail across the Mudhumuttee and thanas Muksudpore and Madaripore to Madaripore will no doubt, the Magistrate states, be a very paying one, and will be a kind of chord line for East and South-East Bengal, and reduce the distances between Dacca and other places and Calcutta very considerably. As to the convenience of this line, the Lieutenant-Governor agrees with the Magistrate; but would hesitate to commit himself to an opinion as to the remunerative prospects of the proposed extension.

9. The school-going population shows an increase from 213,096 to 244,776. It is satisfactory to notice that the increase is spread over all the classes of schools, and is apparently the result of general causes operating throughout the division. Of the total number of pupils on the rolls, 120,849, or 49·3 per cent., were Mahomedans. The percentage is 53·5 per cent. in lower primary and only 8·1 per cent. in higher English schools. The Commissioner observes: "The cause of this is not far to seek. The number of higher class Mahomedans is small in this division, and the number who care for higher education is therefore necessarily small." The number of Mahomedan officers in superior Government service is 644 to 2,759 Hindoos, showing a considerable increase during the year.

10. In Mymensingh, the District Board held its first meeting in October last, and the members have, it is stated, displayed very keen interest in their work. Mr Larminie writes: "The District and Local Boards have on the whole worked satisfactorily in the several districts and sub-divisions. The district officers bear testimony to the zeal, interest, and activity shown by the members of the several Boards, and, as far as I can judge at present, I see no reason for differing from them." Regarding municipalities, Mr. Larminie says: "There are 16 municipalities in the division. Most of them are presided over by non-official Chairmen, and it is satisfactory to notice that the administration has not, on the whole, suffered much by the change. In the smaller municipalities the change has on the whole worked as well as could be expected, but I am not prepared to pronounce an opinion in the case of the larger ones." The Dacca Municipality is not working well. The Lieutenant-Governor has had occasion in his tour at Dacca to warn the Commissioners against a factious partizanship of a purely personal character so dangerous to the welfare of Local Self-Governemt in this and every country.

11. The Lieutenant-Governor is glad to see the favourable mention which is made of the work of the Honorary Magistrates in this division.

12. The Lieutenant-Governor has much pleasure in reproducing the following remarks recorded by Mr. Larminie on the conduct of certain zemindars:—

Nawab Sir Abdul Gunny, K.C.S.I., Nawab Ashanullah, Khan Bahadur, Rajah Rajendra Narayan Roy Bahadur of Dacca, and Rajah Surja Kanta Acharjya Bahadur of Mymensingh, continue to stand foremost among the zemindars in point of liberality and public spirit. The Nawab's liberality in giving Rs. 10,000 after the tornado of 7th April, 1888 for the relief of the sufferers, though he himself suffered the greatest damage and loss, is deserving of the very highest praise. In Mymensingh the new Town Hall, constructed by Rajah Surja Kanta Acharjya Bahadur, has been completed, and will shortly be opened. The liberal grant of Rs. 50,000 made by him for some substantial improvement of the town of Mymensingh will, it is expected, be shortly utilised.

The example of the Nawab's contribution for the relief of the sufferers from the tornado, referred to above, was followed by Babus Rup Lal and Raghu Nath Dass, who subscribed Rs. 5,000; Babus Srinath Roy and Sonatan Dass, each of whom gave Rs. 1,000; and Babu Protap Chandra Banerjea, who gave a donation of Rs. 500. The conduct of the other zemindars and landholders of Dacca is reported to have been generally good.

In Mymensingh, next to Rajah Surja Kanta Acharjya Bahadur, Srimati Bisvesvari Devi Chowdhurani of Gouripore deserves special mention. Her management of her zemindari has hitherto been good, and during the year she contributed liberally towards the construction of the Dacca Medical School.

13. The statement showing the character of officers employed in the Division will, as usual, be communicated to the Appointment Department.

DISTRESS IN KHOORDAH.

THE following correspondence on the subject of the present distress in Khoordah is published for general information.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

H. J. S. COTTON,

Offg. Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

Dated 11*th September* 1888.

No. 3066—119Fam., dated 10th December 1888.

From—H. J. S. COTTON, Esq., Offg. Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal,
To—The Secretary to the Government of India, Revenue and Agricultural Dept.

IN continuation of my letter No. 2846—112Fam., dated the 22nd August, 1888, I am directed to forward, for the information of the Government of India, the accompanying copy of a letter from the Commissioner of Orissa, No. 1687R, dated the 28th August, 1887, and its enclosures, submitting a report for the fortnight ending the 15th August, 1888, on the present scarcity in Khoorda, together with a copy of the sketch map therewith received showing the areas affected.

2. Abundant rain has since fallen, and the Lieutenant-Governor trusts with the Commissioner that the most critical period has passed. It has, however, been reported that signs of distress have lately appeared in other parts of the Orissa Division, namely, in Banki and Angul, and in the Tributary State of Baramba. The Banki estate comprises an area of 116 square miles, but pressure is felt in 48 mouzahs only, covering an area of 44 square miles. The outturn of crops, during the years 1886 and 1887, in Banki, is stated to have been as follows :—

	1887.	1886.
	As.	As.
Sarad	12	6
Beali	8	10
Rabi	6	12

But in this tract also there has been heavy rain, and prospects may be expected to have improved. A special officer has been deputed by the Commissioner to make full enquiries, and his report is awaited. The available information regarding Angul and the Tributary State of Baramba is also incomplete. Up to the present time no other measures of relief than the sanction of Rs. 5,000 as tuccavi advances for both Angul and Banki, the distribution of charitable relief on a small scale, and the relaxation of the rules for the Angul Forests, so as to enable the people to gather forest produce for food, have been considered necessary. The Assistant Superintendent of the Tributary Mehals has visited Angul and will make a special enquiry and report regarding the condition of the people, the state of the crops and the sufficiency of the measures taken to relieve local distress. The Commissioner and the local officers seem fully prepared for any emergency, and their attitude of watchful preparation has the Lieutenant-Governor's entire confidence.

3. The Lieutenant-Governor approves of all the arrangements made in Khoorda, as described in the enclosures to the accompanying letter from the Commissioner. The grants applied for in paragraph 6 of the Commissioner's letter, viz. Rs. 15,000 for gratuitous relief, and an additional sum of Rs. 25,000 for loans under the Agriculturists' Loans Act, have been sanctioned. Notwithstanding the large grants which have been placed at the disposal of the local officers in Orissa, it is not expected that the total advances under the Agriculturists' Loans Act for the Province will exceed the limit of Rs. 1,50,000.

4. In regard to the deaths which have actually occurred from starvation, the details have to be gathered from the reports of the circle officers. These are given below—

"He (the officer in charge of the North-Eastern Circle) found that two deaths occurred in Ghatikea from starvation. I (Mr. Taylor, Sub-divisional Officer of Khoordah) also visited the village and made enquiries, and found that three deaths had occurred, but that they were not entirely due to want of food, though no doubt want of proper nourishment accelerated all these deaths which were of very old persons, two of whom were otherwise ill."

In the Rameswar circle, the officer in charge says :—

"The distress is greatest in zillah Rameswar, and two children died at Talpara, although relief had been given to them and more was promised."

"The suffering is greatest amongst the Savars and the weavers. Many of the people have been reduced so much in flesh that there is nothing but skin and bone left. One such woman died the day before yesterday (14th) in my presence, and near my bungalow, when coming to ask for relief. She came from zillah Khorda and was going to Chandpore to her father's house, the husband having failed to maintain her. She dropped on the way at night, and heavy showers of rain passed over her head, and in the morning, when she was discovered by me, life was all but extinct. No efforts could bring back life to her. There is no doubt that she died of the effects of cold and hunger. Her home was not in my circle. She was about 40 years old."

"Another such woman of Damonbhoi died in the woods while collecting tunga (dios corea) roots before I came to Jankia."

5. On the subject of the collection of rents in Khoorda Mr. Taylor reports—

"63. About $\frac{8}{16}$ths of the rents for 1295 were collected before relief measures were undertaken. No pressure is now being put on ryots to pay up arrears due, and the collections are practically at a stand-still. The staff of process-serving peons, 40 men, permanent and temporary, are now being employed chiefly in connection with relief work."

In Angul a remission of rents for the year 1295, amounting to Rs. 4,917, has been sanctioned by Government.

6. Sir Steuart Bayley has instructed the Forest Department to co-operate with the district officials by a relaxation of the Forest Rules and the adoption of useful works within the forests in the Orissa Division, and orders have also been conveyed through the Public Works Department, to the Superintending Engineer of the Orissa Circle, for the commencement of thorough repairs to the Cuttack-Ganjam and the Cuttack-Pooree roads. His Honour has every expectation that the measures taken will be sufficient to meet the present crisis, and while he deeply regrets the occurrence of the few deaths from starvation reported by the Commissioner, he agrees with that officer in thinking that it is impossible to attach blame to any one for neglect of duty or for omission to take every precaution to prevent mortality. On the contrary, the Lieutenant-Governor is satisfied that everything within the power of the officials concerned has been done for the relief of distress.

No. 1687R, dated Cuttack, the 28th August 1888.

From—C. F. WORSLEY, Esq., Offg. Commissioner of the Orissa Division,
To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Revenue Department.

IN accordance with paragraph 9 of the Bengal Famine Code, I have the honour to submit copies of reports, noted in margin, from the Collector of Pooree and the Subdivisional Officer of Khoorda, giving necessary particulars regarding the Khoorda subdivision for the fortnight ending 15th August 1888. I also enclose a sketch map in duplicate.

Letter from Collector of Pooree, No. X, dated 24th August 1888.
Letter from Subdivisional Officer of Khoorda to Collector of Pooree, No. 481, dated 18th—23rd August 1888.

2. The information supplied by the local officers is both full and instructive. The general results of relief operations up to 15th instant have been as follow :—

(1) The total number of persons in need of assistance has been estimated after local enquiries at 50,288.

(2) The works taken in hand for the employment of labourers have been—

(a) The Ganjam road, throughout its total length in the subdivision, under the Public Works Department.

(b) Eight roads, aggregating 75 miles in length, under the District Board.

(c) Sixty-seven works, such as tanks, small embankments, and roads, at the cost of the Estates' Improvement Fund. Under this class Rs. 5,066 had been expended up to 15th instant.

(3) About Rs. 55,000 have been advanced to 17,521 persons under the Agricultural Loans Act.

(4) Seventeen thousand two hundred and twenty-seven persons, or a daily average number of 1,000 during 17 days, have received gratuitous relief at a total cost of Rs. 2,202-15-9.

3. Up to the date of his letter (24th instant) the Collector estimates the total expenditure (exclusive of amounts expended by the Public Works Department and the District Board) at about Rs. 75,000, under the following heads :—

	Rs.	A.	P.
Ten per cent. Fund works	9,052	7	5
Charitable relief (of which nearly one-fifth advanced for grain will be recovered)	7,000	0	0
Advances under the Agriculturists' Loans Act ...	60,518	8	0

4. I regret to say that a few deaths from starvation have occurred, but these could scarcely have been prevented under the circumstances mentioned in paragraph 6 of the Subdivisional Officer's letter. Mr. Taylor writes :—"The whole of the distress could not be reached within the time, partly owing to the supineness of the people themselves, who do not think much of a few deaths from starvation amongst their poorer neighbours, and partly owing to the fact that the greatest distress is amongst the Savars, who live apart from the rest of the population, sometimes in dense jungle, and who are a very retiring and shy race, who will die quietly in their homes without making any sign."

5. The Collector, Mr. Allen, who has visited the worst parts of the subdivision, i.e., the north-eastern, north-western, and western circles, speaks very highly of the work done by the Subdivisional Officer and the Relief Inspectors, and reports that "not a single pice appears to have been wasted, and not a relief work has been opened unnecessarily or paid for at too high a rate." The correctness of this view is borne out by the fact that "whenever, owing to a good shower of rain, field work has been available, the labourers have deserted our works and resorted to their normal employments." I feel no doubt whatever that all officers, from the Collector downwards, have been animated by a loyal and zealous desire to do their duty and to avoid unnecessary expenditure.

6. Every endeavour will be made to restrict gratuitous relief operations as much as possible, now that employment in the fields is generally available and the most critical period has passed. I recommend, however, that the original estimate of Rs. 15,000 for gratuitous relief may be sanctioned, and that a further allotment of Rs. 25,000 (bringing up the total grant to Rs. 90,000—vide paragraph 65 of Mr. Taylor's letter) may be made for advances under the Agricultural Loans Act.

7. Though the prices of food-grains have not risen to what are called "famine prices," it appears that only small quantities of grain have been procurable at the prices quoted. Moreover, as Mr. Taylor remarks (paragraph 54), so long as the Savars, Bauris, and other penniless classes cannot get work or are unable to work, it matters not to them whether prices are high or low : without money it is just as impossible for them to buy food at the cheapest rates as it is to get food at famine rates.

8. So far as I can judge at present, the chief lesson to be learnt from the existing state of things is that, unless we adopt early and systematic measures for providing the aboriginal classes of Savars, Bauris, and others with lands, we may be liable during any rainy season to be called upon to relieve serious distress, if there be a long break in the rains and a stoppage of work in the fields. A similar difficulty has been experienced in the case of the Pans of Angul (who are just now hard pressed), and I have already, as Superintendent of the Tributary States, submitted a scheme for settling this caste in that district.

9. I cannot conclude this letter without expressing my grateful sense of the cordial support and encouragement which I and my subordinates have received from the Government since the first appearance of distress, and which has so largely contributed to the success of our operations.

No. X, dated Pooree, the 24th August 1888.

From—D. B. Allen, Esq., Deputy Collector of Pooree,
To—The Commissioner of the Orissa Division.

In accordance with chapter 1, paragraph 9 of the Famine Code, I have the honour to submit the following report for the fortnight ending the 15th instant, together with a copy of

Mr. Taylor's No. 481 of the 18th idem, which was received by me yesterday afternoon on my return from a short tour over the western circle of the subdivision.

2. I must preface my report with the remark that, as the present distress was confined to the limits of the Khoorda estate, I did not think it necessary to follow exactly the rules laid down in the Famine Code for the guidance of District Officers; because I considered that I was acting rather as a benevolent landlord, who was assisting his poorer tenants to tide over a period of sharp (but, as I trust, temporary) distress, than as a Government official dealing with a distressed area of the ordinary description. Still the Famine Code was from the first accepted as a most useful guide for our actions, and the instructions issued by me to the Circle Inspectors, of which a copy was sent to you with my No. C of the 8th instant, were based mainly on the rules of that Code.

3. Famine Code, 9 (1).—The area affected, and the approximate estimate of the portion of the population affected, and also the number of relief circles and of officers in charge, are given in paragraphs 3 and 4 of Mr. Taylor's report. From this it will be seen that out of a population of over 350,000 persons, about 50,000 are in need of assistance. In my No. B of the 29th ultimo, I estimated the numbers that would require relief, provided good rain did not fall during the first half of this month, at 86,000; but as good rain did fall all over the subdivision during that period, the estimate has happily been reduced, and the heavy rain which has fallen during the last few days all over the subdivision will still further reduce the numbers given by the Subdivisional Officer.

4. Famine Code, 9 (2).—The general state of the affected tracts, crop prospects, and rainfall, &c., are fully described in paragraphs 6, 14 to 19 and 56 of Mr. Taylor's report, and I concur generally in the views expressed by him. The public health is very fair. There are a few sporadic causes of cholera, and fever is about as prevalent as usual at this time of year, specially in the Banpur Circle.

5. Famine Code, 9 (3).—The number of public works open in or near the affected tracts may be divided into—

(a) Under the District Board.
(b) Under the Public Works Department.
(c) Those paid for from the management grant or 10 per cent. fund.

There are no works under special Government relief, municipal or private relief, or tuccavi agencies. As regards (a), the roads from Khoorda towards Patnaika for eight miles—

		Miles.
Khoorda to Kalapather	... ...	18
Bagmari to Bolegurh	... ...	16
Khoorda towards Pipli	... ...	7
Chandka to Sardeipur	... ...	14

are under repair or in course of construction. The District Board at their last meeting on the 4th instant authorized me to spend Rs. 3,000 at discretion on additional works in the most distressed tracts, and the whole amount has been allotted by me and work commenced under the supervision of the District Engineer, Mr. Beale, who, I may say here, has been indefatigable in assisting me to see that labour is employed where most urgently required. As regards (b), I applied through you from the commencement of the distress to the Superintending Engineer, and he has had work going all along the Ganjam road, which traverses the whole subdivision, which has been of the greatest assistance in affording relief. Besides the work done on the Ganjam road, metalling has been, and is being, collected in the estate for a great portion of the Jagannath road.

As regards (c), the list of works is given in paragraph 80 of Mr. Taylor's report.

6. Famine Code, 9 (4).—As regards gratuitous relief, all the information available has been given from paragraphs 17 to 51 of Mr. Taylor's report. Though instructions were issued to all Circle Inspectors to keep separate accounts of men, women and children, yet some relief had been given before these instructions were received by them, and the result is that I have not obtained quite accurate information under this head from each circle. However, the following figures of relief given up to the 15th will prove of interest :—

	Men.	Women.	Children.	Total.		Rs.	A.	P.
North-east and North-west Circles ...	3,064	2,718	5,174	10,956	at total cost of	1,542	7	3
Rameswar Circles ...	.....	.....	.....	2,155	ditto	1570	1	3
West Circle ...	.....	.....	.....	3,041	ditto	403	5	3
Banpur Circle ...	.....	.....	.....	1,075	ditto	86	4	0
Total number relieved ...				17,227	ditto	2,202	16	9

As this relief has been distributed during 17 days, the daily average number which have been relieved gratuitously may be taken at a thousand. It will be seen that most of the relief has been given in the north-east and north-west circles, and next to these is the west circle. It is here that most distress has been felt. All these three circles have been thoroughly inspected by Mr. Taylor and myself, and we are satisfied that the Circle Inspectors have only distributed relief where it was urgently required. Indeed, Mr. Taylor is of opinion that the Circle Inspectors have been almost too strict in affording relief, and he has now repeated my instructions that small sums are to be entrusted with sarbarakars and other respectable persons, so as to ensure that relief is given whenever an emergency arises. The small portion of the estate outside the subdivision, and the adjoining tracts south of the Chilka, which are reported to be in distress, have been placed under the control of Baboo Benimadhub Mookerjia, Salt Inspector, and he has expended up to the 15th instant Rs. 8-4 in gratuitous relief, and Rs. 141 as payment for labour on two small works at Satpara and Nathapur. Salt storing and embankment work at Gorapur have also helped to provide employment in this area.

7. Famine Code, 9 (5).—The figures under this head cannot, as explained by the Subdivisional Officer be given in this report, but an attempt will be made to furnish these particulars in subsequent reports.

8. Famine Code, 9 (6).—Practically nothing has been done under this head, beyond providing a few distressed weavers with thread for making into cloth.

9. Famine Code, 9 (7).—As pointed out in paragraphs 53-55 of Mr. Taylor's report, there is ample grain in the district, and prices cannot be considered as famine rates, but there has been a strong tendency on the part of grain merchants to close their granaries in the hope of a further rise in prices, and this has resulted in limiting the available stock of grain in Khoorda. We have attempted to induce the holders of grain to keep their shops open, and some of the petty dealers have continued to sell all along at the market rates, but the larger mahajans refused to sell until the latter end of last week, when the prospects of the coming harvest became fairly assured. The Tehsildar, Baboo Bhagbat Mahanti, Roy Bahadur, who distinguished himself in the famine of 1866, has done excellent work by inducing the grain dealers to keep selling paddy, when their natural instincts were to close their shops. In fact, both in this and in other respects there would assuredly have been a panic, and consequently a far heavier expenditure on relief, were it not for the extraordinary personal influence of this man and Mr. Taylor, which has been freely exercised with the happiest results.

10. Famine Code, 9 (8).—An account of the expenditure has been submitted in paragraph 65 of Mr. Taylor's report, but I give here the figures under the Famine Code headings A, B, and C.

A.—The original grant for the Pooree district was—

(a) Rs. 10,000 for advances under the Agriculturists' Loans Act.
(b) „ 1,200 for Act under the Land Improvement Act.
(c) „ 15,000 for works under the 10 per cent. fund.

Of (a) I originally allotted Rs. 5,000 in my No. 511 of 29th May, and then Rs. 4,000 in my No. 630 of 28th June. Then when money was urgently required I sanctioned Rs. 5,000, i.e., Rs. 4,000 in excess of the allotment for this district, in my No. 650 of 6th July 1888. I requested you to obtain sanction for this excess of Rs. 4,000, but by some mistake the Board has sanctioned this expenditure under the Land Improvement Act, and not under the Agriculturists' Loans Act. This mistake should now be rectified. Subsequently, I sanctioned Rs. 11,000 more in my No. C of 30th July 1888. This has been confirmed by the Board. Again, a further sum of Rs. 20,000 has been sanctioned by you and the Board, as stated in your telegram of the 3rd August 1888, and finally another sum of Rs. 20,000 was sanctioned by you in your No. 1615R of the 18th instant. Thus the total amount sanctioned up to date is Rs. 65,000 including the Rs. 4,000 which are to be transferred from the Land Improvements to the Agriculturists' Loans Act. I may say here that in previous years it has been the custom to make advances to Khoorda ryots without interest, but from the commencement I insisted on interest being charged at 6¼ per cent. on every loan.

Under heading (b) nothing has been allotted to this subdivision, but about Rs. 675 has been expended this year on the Gorapur embankment, south of the Chilka, which was begun last year.

Under (c) I allotted Rs. 13,372 in my telegram of 10th July 1888, and in my No. B of 29th July 1888 I estimated for a further grant of Rs 15,000. This has been approved generally by Government in their No. 2570-95Fam. of 6th instant, but up to date I have only given bills to Mr. Taylor for Rs. 15,000 under this head. For gratuitous relief I estimated in my No. B of 29th July 1888 that the sum required would be Rs. 15,000, and I have given Mr. Taylor Rs. 10,000 in two bills of Rs. 5,000 each on the 4th and 20th instant. I have also advanced Rs. 400 to the Salt Inspector at Satpara, which is to be expended partly on works and partly on gratuitous relief in that portion of the estate. Government has (except generally) only sanctioned Rs. 500 for gratuitous relief, and I now request sanction for Rs. 15,000, i.e., for Rs. 10,000 already given to Mr. Taylor and Rs. 5,000 in case it should be required. I will utilize the Rs 500 already sanctioned for relief administered through the Salt Inspector.

B.—As regards expenditure, Mr. Taylor's report does not show clearly how much has been actually spent up to the 15th instant, but from a statement prepared in his office I find that the expenditure up to date has been as follows:—

(a) Charitable relief by Subdivisional Officer Rs. 7,000, including Rs. 1,580 advanced for paddy and rice, most of which will be recovered. Of the Rs. 400 made over to the Salt Inspector, he had expended up to the 15th instant Rs. 141-7-8 on works and Rs. 8-4 on gratuitous relief, or a total amount of Rs. 149-11-8.

(b) Ten per cent. Fund expenditure and advanced by Subdivisional Officer Rs. 9,052-7-5.

(d) (2) Tuccavi :—

		Rs.	A.	P.
Paid on bills		54,689	0	0
Orders passed		5,829	8	0
Total ...		60,518	8	0

Thus the total expenditure up to date may be taken at about Rs. 75,000, exclusive of the amounts expended by the Department of Public Works and the Board.

C.—Balances of funds under each head :—

(a) Rupees 3,250-11-8, plus what will be recovered from Rs. 1,580 advanced for grain.

(b) ,, 13,372, assuming that Rs. 15,000 will be sanctioned.

(d) ,, 4,481-8.

11. I cannot close this report without drawing your attention to the really admirable work done by the Subdivisional Officer, the Tehsildar, and by all officers employed on relief. They have one and all worked not only zealously and indefatigably, but also judiciously and, in spite of considerable hardships and discomforts, uncomplainingly. Though Mr. Taylor and I have inspected a great deal of the work done by the Circle Inspectors of the west, north-west, and north-east circles, and have been kept informed by diaries and accounts of the work done in Rameswar and Banpur, we have not had occasion to find fault with the action of any one of them. Not a single pice appears to have been wasted, and not a relief work has been opened unnecessarily, or paid for at too high a rate. This is clear from the fact that whenever, owing to a good shower of rain, field work has been available, the labourers have deserted our works and resorted to their normal employments. In Satpara, the Salt Inspector cordially assented to devote the spare time of himself and his subordinates to administering relief operations when required south of the Chilka, and when I applied to Mr. Merriman, the Deputy Commissioner, for sanction to this proposal, he telegraphed his consent. Besides the regular famine staff, the Deputy Inspector and Sub-Inspector of Schools have given us useful information from time to time of cases of distress. The District Superintendent of Police has gone at my request to inspect the thanas and outposts east of the Chilka, though the camping there, owing to recent floods, must be extremely uncomfortable, in order to see whether any relief measures will be required in that part of this district. At head-quarters Babu Rajgopal Roy has cheerfully undertaken the extra work thrust upon him. At one time, owing to the illness of Baboo Manmohan Chakraverty, and the enforced absence of the Civil Surgeon on duty, he was for a few days in charge of the jail, treasury, and district office in addition to his ordinary duties. In order to relieve the salaried staff as much as possible, I have transferred a great deal of extra judicial and other work to the Bench of Honorary Magistrates, and they and the Vice-Chairman of the District Board have accepted the additional work put upon their shoulders without the faintest protest or complaint. Kumar Girindra Narayan Deb, who joined his appointment as Joint-Magistrate on the 8th instant, has been prevented by illness from doing a stroke of work up to date.

12. There is one more point that I hope I may refer to without being misunderstood or considered impertinent, and that is the assistance we have all received from your action throughout this crisis. When work failed and the granaries were closed, and we had to act promptly in order to save life, we were not embarrassed by calls for further information and detailed reports. All along you have been good enough not only to write, but to telegraph, your approval of our action, and your sanction of the extra expenditure that I thought right to incur. Instead of our action being paralyzed, as it might have been, by any less cordial and prompt recognition of the fact that we were doing our best to grapple with the difficulties of the situation that had been forced upon us, we were encouraged to proceed boldly and promptly along the course, which events have proved to have been the proper one to take.

13. As for myself, I have from the beginning recognized that in Mr. Taylor I had what the Lieutenant-Governor calls "an officer whose experience of the subdivision and knowledge of the people was altogether exceptional and unique." I have relied throughout on this fact. I have not myself distributed a single pice in gratuitous relief. I have not sanctioned the opening of a single work without previously consulting Mr. Taylor, and my tours of inspection have been made in directions suggested by him. I have contented myself with supporting his action, and I am perfectly satisfied with the result.

14. I enclose sketch maps and a rough map showing the areas and some of the villages visited by myself.

No. 481, dated Khoorda, the 18th August 1888.

From—W. C. TAYLOR, Esq., Subdivisional Officer, Khoorda,

To—The Collector of Pooree.

I HAVE the honour to submit the following fortnightly report on the distress amongst the Savars, Bouries, and other poor classes of the Khoorda estate.

Chapter II, section 10, Famine Code.

2. As you are aware, the estate has been divided into five circles for relief purposes, viz.—

First—North-Eastern Circle,
Second—North-Western Circle, in charge, respectively, of Baboo Nadia Chand Dutta and Munshi Dadar Baksh, Sub-Deputy Collectors, assisted by the canoongoes of Dandimal and Khoorda, Janardan Das and Netranand Patnaik.

Third—Western Circle, in charge of Baboo Bhagbat Nund, Temporary Sub-Deputy Collector, assisted by the canoongoe of Kuspalla and Punchgurh, Chintamoni Patnaik.

Fourth—Rameswar Circle, in charge of Baboo Gagan Chunder Dass, Deputy Magistrate, assisted by the canoongo of Rameswar, Banamber Das.

Fifth—Banpore Circle, in charge of Baboo Darpanaryan Das, Income Tax Assessor and Excise Inspector, assisted by the canoongo of Banpur, Ras Behari Patnaik.

The Inspector of Police, Baboo Heralal Mookerjee, is also visiting villages and giving relief in the western circle.

The circles have been made to coincide with the chaklas of the five canoongoes of Khoorda, who have been placed in direct communication with the inspecting officers, to whom their local knowledge and influence have been of the greatest assistance.

Chapter I, sections II and III of the Famine Code.

3. The following table shows the zillahs, areas, number of villages, and the population of each circle:—

Circle.	Zillahs.	Number of villages	Population.	Area in square miles.	Remarks.
I	Dandimal	215	60878	202·84	In these circles the Savars, Bouris, and weavers are in the greatest distress.
II	Khoorda	102	30,503	78·67	Other classes in much less difficulty.
	Tapang	77	30,059	51·09	Crops at present safe, owing to good rain from 5th to 15th August, excepting on high lands of zillah Khoorda.

4. The following statement showing for each circle an estimate in detail of the numbers of the different classes of the people in Khoorda who are in great distress, will prove useful, in order to enable the Government to judge of the extent of relief at present necessary and as showing where relief is most required.

The above figures are from the settlement records, which give the total population of the estate as 343,834; but the population is no doubt now in excess of 350,000 persons.

5. Three copies of sketch map, prepared in this office from the recent cadastral surveys of the estate, are submitted herewith, as required in section III of the Code.

6. In your No. B of the 29th July to the Commissioner, paragraph 15, you pointed out that about one-fourth of the population (86,000) required help—

First in gratuitous relief. | Second in tuccavi.
Third in works.

The estimate, though of course a rough one, was not excessive.

You estimated that if rain did not fall within the first half of August, about 21,500 persons would probably require gratuitous relief at about 12 annas each, equal to Rs. 16,125, and Rs. 15,000 was asked for under this head.

Happily good rain has fallen in the south, the centre, and the north over the greater part of the estate, commencing on the 4th August in Banpur and on the 5th at Khoorda and Chandka.

This rain has been followed by two other good falls, and many almost daily smaller showers, and has taken off a great deal of the pressure, by giving much work in the fields to those who can work, by giving heart to the cultivators, and to some extent by unlocking the stores of grain which exist in all parts of Khoorda. We have therefore been able to do with much less for gratuitous relief than was estimated, and only Rs. 2,600 was spent under this head up to the 15th, about 16,546 persons having been temporarily relieved. But the whole of the distress could not be reached within the time, partly owing to the supineness of the people themselves, who do not think much of a few deaths from starvation amongst their poorer neighbours, and partly owing to the fact that the greatest distress is amongst the Savars, who live apart from the rest of the population, sometimes in dense jungle, and who are a very retiring and shy race, who will die quietly in their homes without making any sign.

7. The provisions of chapter I, section 4, have been so far as possible attended to, and nominal rolls for each village have been prepared of the persons who have received or are receiving gratuitous relief.

8. The cry for work was also of course greatly reduced by the good rain, which enabled the cultivators to go on with puddling, weeding, and transplanting of the rice crop, with jungle clearances for Taila cultivation, repairs of bunds and ridges, and other agricultural operations, but still there was a considerable number who could not find work in the fields, partly due to the fact that owing to their weakly and reduced physique cultivators would not employ them. For all these we have found employment in the numerous small works of estate improvement, which the funds in hand have enabled us to start.

9. So far it has not been found necessary to spend any relief money on such works, which are being carried on entirely from the funds allotted by the Board of Revenue from the management grant.

The Famine Code, chapter III, is not therefore, applicable in respect of the petty estate improvement works at present in progress, but returns have been called for, and in some cases have been obtained, of the number of persons employed on the several khas mehal works of improvement. The Public Works Department and District Board and Forest Department should be asked for figures for the works going on in their departments. It will not be possible, however, to get correct figures, as the persons employed vary to some extent from day to day, and a good deal of the work is paid for on measurements.

We have endeavoured to open these works in all neighbourhoods where there was much distress: they are all works of bonâ fide improvement, such as roads, bundhs, and tanks for irrigation of rice lands, and the like.

10. The grant of Rs. 45,000 tuccavi has all been taken up at 6¼ per cent. interest by the cultivating classes with the greatest eagerness on allotments made by me of generally less than half of what was applied for.

Chapter I, section 9 (c), Famine Code.

I have since applied for Rs. 20,000 more, and have with your approval, and in anticipation of sanction, already advanced Rs. 9,772 on applications for Rs. 22,780.

11. This tuccavi has proved a great boon, and cultivators are everywhere busy, where possible, in puddling, weeding or transplanting paddy, cultivating mandia, and preparing to sow til (rasi) and other staples.

12. I shall probably require about Rs. 25,000 more than has yet been applied for, for advances under the Agriculturists Loans Act, and I take this opportunity of asking for sanction to the disbursement of Rs. 25,000 over and above the Rs. 65,000 already sanctioned or applied for.

13. The number of cultivators helped in the way of tuccavi advances under the Agriculturists Loans Act is about 17,521, besides many thousands who have been benefited by the actual recipients of advances employing them as labourers.

14. Owing to the very dry season the crop of wild swan grass (Panicum Freementacum) has been an extraordinarily heavy one, and thousands of the poorer people have for the past month been subsisting almost entirely on swan rice (which has a high food value), and on wild roots of the several species of dissoorea (yams) found in our jungles, leaves of the young cassia tora plants used as a pot herb, and wild berries and fruit gathered in the forests.

15. The distress and actual want of sufficient food has so far been confined chiefly to the Savars, Bouris and other landless classes, who subsist entirely on wages of labour and on what they can gather in the jungles.

16. Owing to the want of rains in all June and the greater part of July, work in the fields was at a standstill, prices of food-grains rose owing to panic, and holders having looked up their stores the landless classes, always in more or less distress during the stock seasons, began to starve to death, and hundreds would undoubtedly have died had we not started relief operations at once. As it is, I regret to say that some few cases of death from starvation have been reported and found to have actually occurred, whilst thousands of men, women and children have been reduced to mere skeletons. I fear that many deaths due more or less to starvation may have occurred, and which have not been brought to our notice. A few deaths have also occurred after food was provided, the sufferers being too far injured by previous starvation to admit of their recovery.

17. For the North-East Circle.—Baboo Nadia Chand Dutt reports as follows:—

He has visited 82 villages, relieved 771 adult males, 395 females and 636 children, or 1,802 persons, to whom he gave Rs. 306-2-6 in gratuitous relief. Detailed diaries and lists of persons relieved have been submitted.

18. Baboo Nadia Chand Dutt found that the distress was chiefly amongst the Savars and Bouris with a few of other classes.

That the greatest distress was in mouzahs Ghatikea, Burmunda and Nayapali in the centre of zillah Daudimul and close to Khandgiri.

He found that two deaths occurred in Ghatikea from starvation. I also visited the village and made enquiries, and found that three deaths had occurred, but that they were not entirely due to want of food, though no doubt want of proper nourishment accelerated all these deaths which were of very old persons, two of whom were otherwise ill.

19. Thirty-one works of improvement for supplying work to those who required it were opened up to the 15th in the north-east circle, and a sum of Rs. 2,135 advanced from the Improvement Fund, in most cases by myself. Work is going on at all these 31 places, of which three are roads, aggregating about 10 miles in length.

20. I have not yet received figures to show the actual number who have found work at the different places, but as all the works are within easy reach of distressed villages and well attended, the number must be very considerable, probably not less than 5,000 different persons—all, however, males, as no women in Khoordu, excepting the Matias will do earthwork, although all the poor class women will work in the field or husk rice, sell firewood, fish, rice and mushroom, &c.

Section 9, clauses 3 and 5, chapter I, Famine Code.

21. The trunk road to Ganjam, for about 35 miles, also borders the north-east circle and separates it from the south-west circle, and some metalling and repairs have been in progress for the whole length under the Public Works Department during the 15 days under report. Many persons have therefore found work also on this road.

Section 9, clause 3 (b), Famine Code.

22. The rainfall commencing on the 5th, and continued since then to date, has also afforded an enormous amount of work in the fields to men, women and children.

Section 9, clause 2, Famine Code.

23. I made a tour of 12 days from the 3rd to 14th August in the Dandimal, parts of north-east and north-west circles, and my head-quarters are in the circles. I have myself seen seven or eight thousands of the most distressed persons—men, women and children—of the north-east and north-west circles, and I found that they were mostly Savars, Souri, Khandayets and Bauris, with a sprinkling of other castes, nearly all labourers or persons of other classes, who have been reduced to extreme poverty from causes other than want of work.

24. I have myself distributed temporary relief to 1,929 men, 1,893 women and 3,731 children, all in a more or less starving condition. Many would actually have died shortly if they had not been relieved. Rupees 918-13-6 was expended by me in these two circles on gratuitous relief.

25. Baboo Nadia Chand Dutt has also got judicial and other subdivisional work to do.

26. Munshi Dadar Baksh, who has also sub-treasury, judicial, and much other work to do, reports for the North-West Circle, which comprises the parts of zillahs Dandimal and Khordah, north-west of the Ganjam Trunk Road, and the small Khandaeti mehal, zillah Haldia—

North-West Circle.

(1) That he has visited 69 villages.

(2) Has given Rs. 317-7-3 as gratuitious relief to 364 males, 430 females, and 807 children—total 1,601 persons, in these villages. Work has been started or continued in twenty places on roads and bandhs for irrigation, for which Rs. 1,091 has been advanced during the fortnight. Some of the works in the North-East Circle are available also for persons from the North-West Circle.

Some of the relief given by me was also to persons belonging to this circle.

The Collector, Mr. Allen, and I also visited several villages in this circle, and inspected the crops, state of the people, and some of the works in progress.

27. Baboo Gagan Chundra Das, in charge of the Rameswar Circle, reports—

Rameswar Circle.

(1) That he has relieved about 2,155 persons, little and big, and expended Rs. 170-15-3 on gratuitous relief, only giving small amounts to each recipient with the intention of repeating his doles. "That the distress in zillah Rameswar is on the increase, in spite of the rainfall; for although there is more field work now, yet those who have suffered from starvation meet with no favour from the employers and are not employed, and they grow worse and worse: I wish to open relief works for them.

"The relief work should continue in these parts till the paddy crop of the current season is gathered.

"As a lot of mandia has been grown in many parts of Rameswar, it may be possible to close operations before the paddy is gathered, if the mandia crops is abundant.

"There was rainfall near Jankia on the 1st and 2nd August, and very heavy rain on 4th and 5th almost all over the zillah Rameswar, and on 7th and 8th over zillah Kuhun, at Siko on 15th, and also every day there was more or less rain. Everywhere there is now (16th) plenty of water in the fields. The distress is greatest in zillah Rameswar, and two children died at Talpara, although relief had been given to them and more was promised.

"I find a general practice amongst the suffering people to keep an adult member strong by giving him sufficient food that he may be able to earn something, and they starve others, particularly the children.

"The suffering is greatest amongst the Savars and the weavers. Many of the people have been reduced so much in flesh that there is nothing but skin and bone left. One such woman died the day before yesterday (14th) in my presence, and near my bungalow, when coming to ask for relief She came from zillah Khordah and was going to Chandpore to her farther's house, the husband having failed to maintain her. She dropped on the way at night, and heavy showers of rain passed over her head, and in the morning, when she was discovered by me, life was all but extinct. No efforts could bring back life to her. There is no doubt that she died of the effects of cold and hunger. Her home was not in my circle. She was about 40 years old.

"Another such woman of Damonbhoi died in the woods while collecting tunga (dios corea) roots before I came to Jankia.

Zillah Kuhuri is, I think, safe. They had rainfall early in July from Barpokhuria (52nd mile) in Rameswar to Sonakhola (62nd mile of Ganjam road) in zillah Banpore; so I have heard, and I think it is true, as puddling and even weeding have been done in the fields.

"They had plenty of labour on the Madras Trunk Road."

28. I have extracted largely from Baboo Gagan Chundra Das' report, as I have not been able personally to visit his circle as yet. It is clear that great distress still prevails in the large and populous zillah of Rameswar, and the Baboo has been enjoined to be more liberal with his gratuitous relief, and to entrust small sums to respectable and trustworthy surbarakars, for immediate and urgent relief in their villages, and at the same time to start works of improvements, to give work where not easily available at present.

29. I have had three rather large works in progress for some time in this zillah, and they have afforded work to a large number of persons.

One is a road from Jankia to Chhangiri, about three miles.

The second a road from Barpokhuria to Bhueandpore about three miles in progress.

The third a large dam with channels for irrigation in the Bannajori on the boundary of Ranpore in Gurssiko and Nalsingh.

I do not myself think that the distress in zillah Rameswar is at present on the increase, but Baboo Gagan Chundra Das was, when he first arrived, inclined to doubt the existence of any very severe distress.

He is now thoroughly convinced, and the more he sees of it, the more the distress appears to him to be.

I hope in a day or two to visit his circle myself.

30. Baboo Bhagbat Nand, Inspector for the Western Circle, reports, dated the 17th instant, that he has visited 93 villages and has found that the rice crops in two-thirds of the villages have been greatly damaged by mooli or root disease. That even if copious rains fall till harvest time, not more than $\frac{5}{16}$ths of an average crop can be expected.

Western Circle.

31 That planting out afresh must be largely resorted to, but that unfortunately the ryots of Panchgarh and Manikagarah have not put down sufficient dhan in seed beds, for the large areas to be planted out.

32 That in most of the remaining villages of his circle, the rice crops have been or are about to be puddled from the late rain, or from water obtained from bandhs and tanks constructed or repaired by Government or the ryots themselves.

33. That if rainfall is favourable hereafter up to the end of October, 12 to 16 annas outturn of the paddy crop may be expected in one-third of the villages of his circle.

34. Regarding the condition of the people, the Baboo finds that $\frac{12}{16}$ths are more or less in want of food, half of them or $\frac{6}{16}$ths have some property. Of the remaining $\frac{6}{16}$ths, one-fourth or $\frac{1.5}{16}$ths of the whole population will require gratuitous relief and $\frac{4.5}{16}$ths work, until the early Laghu rice is harvested.

35. The Baboo had distributed Rs. 255-7-6 in gratuitous relief from the 3rd to 15th August to 1,919 men, women, and children.

36. The canoongoe Chintamony Patnaik had separately visited 22 villages, and relieved 468 persons at a cost of Rs. 105.

37. Baboo Hira Lall Mukhorjee, Inspector of Police, also visited 23 villages and relieved 654 persons.

Western Circle.

38. Detailed accounts and lists have been submitted.

39. In nine places works are now in progress from the Improvement Fund, four of the works being roads, one of which is six miles in length.

40. The District Board also have some work in hand on the road from Baghmari to Kalapathur, nine miles, Baghmari to Belgarh, 16 miles, and are about to spend Rs. 3,000 on roads in the Western Circle.

41. Details of the men, women, and children employed in five of the smaller works were obtained, and show that 2,193 men, 10 women, 248 boys, and 6 girls, in all 2,452 persons, obtained work.

On the larger roads, for which no details have come in, the numbers employed are greater.

42. I am more anxious about the Western Circle than any other part of Khordah, as the state of the crops over a considerable portion of the circle is very bad, and the circle adjoins killah Khandiara, where there has been loss of crops this year, and for the last two or three years. Killah Nayagarh, where there will also, I believe, be distress, adjoins Panchgarh, and a portion of Banki in Cuttack, where the crops suffered somewhat last season, and have again suffered for want of rain this year, runs with part of Manikagarah and Kuspallah.

43. You have now gone out in person to see parts of the Western Circle and will be able to judge for yourself.

44. As reported on the 17th instant by Baboo Darpanarayan Das for the Banpore Circle, it appears that, owing to failure of early rains, there was somewhat of a scare, and the mahajans withheld their usual advances of grain to the poorer ryots who, owing to bad crops in parts of the zillahs last year, had not been able to repay the previous advances received by them. He says: "A great many had, therefore, to subsist on suan and chakunda sag, &c., Banpore Circle.

"There has now been sufficient rain here, and the apprehension of scarcity of food-grains has disappeared. The ryots are now getting paddy from their mahajans. It is the landless ryots only that have not been able to procure paddy, but most of them have now got labour in the field, excepting those who are physically unfit. These men will require looking after until they are fit for work; but amongst them there are very few persons who appear to be permanently invalided on account of age and sickness and (these) require gratuitous relief."

45. These remarks are made by the Inspector with reference to the sub-divisions of Banpore called Simas Sonakhola, Nimuna, Panchpalli and Chhatragur, where for several years running there has been a loss of crops from drought.

46. In the Champajhar, Champagur, Bhatpara, Kanthimal, and Naini Simas of Banpore, where last year crops were good, no relief is necessary at present.

47. Speaking of the condition of the distressed people of Banpore, the Inspector says: "No one appears to have been reduced to a skeleton, but scarcity of food has been felt by them more or less", and he proposes to carry on a few petty works which, with the work under the Public Works Department on the Trunk Road, will provide sufficient employment for those in need of it.

48. Rice now sells in the Banpore Circle at 13 and dhan at 34, moong at 17, kalai at 14, and mandia at 24 Cuttack seers of 105 tolas per rupee.

49. It is evident that the distress towards Banpore is much less pronounced than in other parts of Khoorda but there are no Savar, in Banpore. There are some Bawries, Pans, Khands, and Santias, but they do not appear to have been so much affected as the Savars and Bawries further north.

50. The villages of Simas Sonakhola, Nimuna, and Panchpali must, however, be carefully looked after, for after heavy losses of crops for three years running any stoppage of rain or damage to the crops on the ground would at once cause a panic, and throw the poorer ryots of these parts into serious difficulty.

51. The Inspector of Banpore had only been a week in the circle, and may yet come on more serious distress.

He had visited only 20 villages, and had given only Rs. 864-4 to 1,075 persons.

52. I hope to visit Banpore myself after the close of this month.

53. The following is a list of prices at present obtaining separately for each circle of food-grains in seers of 80 tolas per rupee.

		Rice.	Kalai.	Salt.	Moong
North-East and North-West Circle.	Reported by Canoongoe of Bhubneswar and by police, &c.	$14\frac{7}{16}$	$17\frac{1}{16}$	8	$15\frac{12}{16}$
	Do. Khoordah, Do. and Do., &c.	$14\frac{7}{16}$	$17\frac{1}{16}$	8	$18\frac{6}{16}$
Western Circle ...	Do. by Kuspala Do. and Do., &c. ...	$14\frac{7}{16}$	17	8	$18\frac{6}{16}$
Rameswar Circle ...	Do. by Rameswar, Do. and Do., &c. ..	$13\frac{2}{16}$	...	7	$15\frac{3}{4}$
Banpore circle ...	Do. by Banpore, Do. and Do, &c. ...	$15\frac{12}{16}$	$18\frac{6}{16}$	7	$22\frac{5}{16}$

The prices as shown above are not what are called famine prices, but food-grains are still to a great extent withheld from the market, and only small quantities are really procurable at the prices quoted.

54. With reference to the Savars, Bawries, and other penniless classes, I beg to point out that so long as they cannot get work, or are unable to work, it matters not to them, whether prices are high or low: without money it is just as impossible for them to buy food at cheapest rate as it is to get food at famine rates. Taking this view of the state of things, the prices of food-grains cannot show the amount of distress prevailing amongst the poor.

55. There is no doubt at present there are ample stocks of dhan and other food-grains in Khordah, and if the season continues favourable, and the prospects of crops improve, this grain will be freely sold for cash or given out in loans to such of the people as have land, crop, or other security to offer. But if the crop on the ground should fail, and as soon as it shows signs of serious failure, all this grain will be locked up, and the poorer members of the cultivating community and others, and the Savars, Bawries, and other landless and penniless classes, will at once begin to starve, and extensive measures for famine relief must be taken.

56. The following is a statement of the rainfall at Banpore in the south, at the head-quarters Khordah, and at Chandka in the north of the estate:—

57. The sarbarakars of villages have been utilized to prepare lists of the distressed inhabitants of their villages, and in many cases have been supplied with small sums of money for emergent relief until the circle officers can visit their villages. Sarbarakars have also in many cases been placed in charge of the small works of improvement started in their ilaquas, and are held responsible for duly reporting all cases of severe distress and deaths from starvation. These sarbarakars are ex-officio patwaries or village accountants, and as Government servants, are bound to assist in all measures of relief, &c.

Chapter II, section 21. Chapter IX, section 121.

Chapter V, Famine Code.

58. Small sums have in some cases being given as gratuitous relief under sections 82, 85, 86, and 89, Chapter V of the Code.

Chapter IV.

59. No poor houses or children's kitchens have as yet been opened, and I trust that they will not be required.

Chapter VI

60. No special measures have as yet been found necessary for the protection of cattle.

Chapter VII.

61. The police of thannahs and outposts have reported distress and cases of deaths from starvation occurring in their jurisdictions.

Chapter XI.

62. Accounts are being kept of all payments made on account of gratuitous relief works, purchase of dhans, tools, &c., &c.

63. About $\frac{8}{16}$ths of the rents for 1295 were collected before relief measures were undertaken. No pressure is now being put on ryots to pay up arrears due, and the collections are practically at a standstill. The staff of process-serving peons, 40 men, permanent and temporary, are now being employed chiefly in connection with relief work, and I trust that for the present I may be allowed so to utilize them when necessary, and that a strict account may not be required of the number of processes served, miles travelled, &c.

64. The Sub-Deputy Collectors are employed as circle officers; and as they have constantly to travel from village to village at their own expense and often by palki, the regular travelling allowance of four annas for every mile travelled over 15 miles is quite insufficient. Until further orders, and from the 20th July last, the usual travelling allowance for second class officers, 4 annas a mile when more than 20 miles is travelled, or Rs. 3 a day, should be granted to them; otherwise the pay of these officers, Rs. 100 a month, will hardly cover the costs they are put to for travelling.

65. Referring to paragraph 4 of the Government letter No. 257—95 Famine of the 6th instant, I give the following memorandum of expenditure sanctioned and proposed.

The Collector, in his No. B of the 29th ultimo, applied as follows:—

		Rs.
(1)	For gratuitous relief	15,000(a)
(2)	For work of improvement from the management grant	15,000(b)
	Previously allotted from the management fund ...	13,372(c)
	Total ...	43,372
(3)	For tuccavi advances	22,000(d)
	Ditto previously sanctioned by the Board of Revenue	14,000(e)
		36,000
	The Commissioner has since sanctioned for tuccavi ...	9,000(f)
	And the Collector has since sanctioned also for tuccavi ...	20,000(g)
	Required in this letter	25,000(h)

Total rupees ninety thousand required for advances under the Agriculturists' Loans Act, bearing interest at 6¼ per cent., or about one-fourth of the mofussil jama of the estate.

Items (a), (b), (c) appear to be sanctioned under the Government letter above referred to, but the Board's allotment of Rs. 15,000 (b) has not yet been received. (a) Rs. 15,000 for work and (b) + (c) Rs. 28,372 for petty works will, I think, suffice for our requirements, unless the state of crops should take a more seriously unfavourable turn.

(d) + (e) Rs. 36,000 have been allotted by the Board and approved in Mr. Cotton's letter, but I have as yet received no sanction of the Board for (f) and (g) authorised by the Commissioner and Collector and already nearly expended.

(I.) Formal sanction is therefore required for (f) and (g) Rs. 29,000 and for Rs. 25,000 now asked for—total Rs. 54,000 for advances under the Agriculturists' Loans Act at 6¼ per cent. interest in addition to the Rs. 36,000 already sanctioned by the Board of Revenue.

(II.) The favourable consideration and orders of His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor are also solicited on the subject of the increased travelling allowance for circle officers recommended by me in paragraph 64 of this report.

66. One reason why the Savars and Bauries have been so much reduced is that under the rules passed by Government on the 24th March 1886, they have been to some extent precluded from taking and selling minor forest produce, such as firewood, brambles, leaves, creepers, wild yams, fruits, and vegetables from the forests.

67. From the reserves which are very extensive in zillah Dandimal, but less so in zillah Khorda, the poorer classes have been almost entirely excluded, and in the protected areas which comprise every inch of jungle or waste land on the estate, they have been a good deal hindered in taking what they required by the forest guards, paiks, and watchmen who doubtless have harassed the poorer classes a great deal.

68. For the last year Savar and Bauri women have been almost entirely prevented under the rules from carrying about bundles of firewood, &c., for sale in the villages on the estate. As this was almost their only work during the slack season, and as work in the fields during June and July was stopped for want of rain, the poorer classes were reduced suddenly to a state of actual starvation.

69. The protected forests were, however, thrown entirely open by Mr. Richardson under the Commissioner's orders to the Savars, Bauries. and other poor in the middle of July, and they have also been allowed to take dry wood, creepers for building, yams. berries and vegetables from some of the reserves, and this has assisted them to a considerable extent.

70. For the future, the Forest Rules must be made easier for the poorer classes of Khorda, and this can, I think, be done without any material loss of forest revenue.

71. Had there been a Sub-Assistant or Assistant Conservator in charge of the Khorda forests for the last year, I do not think that such serious distress amongst the Savars and Bauries would have occurred.

72. As it is, since Mr. Wylly and Mr. Quinnell have been transferred, there has been no one on the spot to look after forest matters in Khorda, and the Deputy Conservator can only afford to pay the estate occasional and limited visits, and has certainly no time to look into details to watch the effect of the rules on the people, or to see that they are carried out in a reasonable manner.

73. A Forest officer on the spot could do a great deal towards making matters easier for the poorer classes, and at the same time he would be able to improve the forests and increase the forest revenue.

74. The Taila rules have never been enforced very strictly, and since the chances of distress came to my notice, every restriction has been removed and taila allowed freely on all waste lands not covered with good jungle. A very large area has in consequence been sown or planted with mandia (Eleusire corocana and Eleusire stricta), and cotton clearings have also been made and waste lands ploughed for til (Sesamum), urrar, kulthi, and other products. Baiguns also have been largely planted out, and are now coming into the market; cucumbers and gourds of sorts have also been extensively cultivated, and the mandia crop will soon be ripe.

75. Another reason why the Savars have suffered more severely than any other class is that, like nearly all wild races, the men are idle, and do not like really hard work of any sort. They depend to a great extent on their women to support them and their children by working in the fields, picking and selling firewood, and the like.

76. The men of the Savar tribe will cut jungle, dig up yams, and collect honey, but they object to digging up the roots of jungle as work too hard for them. They object to earthwork for the same reason, whilst the women, following the example of all other women in Khorda, will not do earthwork. The men have the greatest objection to go out in rainy weather.

The Savar men and women will do such light work as weeding, herding cattle, and collecting berries from the forest.

77. The Bauries are a much more industrious race, and both sexes will work hard—the men at quarrying stone, carrying palkies, and bhangies; and field work of all sorts; the women at field work, husking rice, collecting and selling firewood, and other products of the forest.

The Bauries have therefore suffered much less severely than the Savars, though they too are generally without any good lands of their own.

78. The weavers have been, as elsewhere in India, reduced to poverty by Manchester piece-goods, and are in times of scarcity some of the first to suffer.

79. The chasas, or cultivators of Khorda, are generally industrious, and have, on the whole, come pretty well out of this trouble so far. A few families only comparatively have suffered severely, as have a few families of the superior castes—Brahmans, Mahanties, Kambhors, Telies, and others, including Mahomedans and Native Christians.

80. The following is a list of improvement works started since the 20th July in order to give employment to the distressed classes :—

81. Other works paid for or completed before the 20th July have not been included in the above list. The amounts entered represent advances made since 20th July, and do not show the estimated cost of the works which will probably exceed Rs. 15,000.

With next fortnightly report the amounts estimated for the works on the list will be given, and a statement of other works proposed to be carried out or started in order to supply work when and where required.

82. Since writing the above, I am happy to say that there has been heavy and continuous rain commencing at Khorda on the 20th, and amounting up to noon of this date (23rd) to 6·20 inches, the rainfall at Banpur for the 19th, 20th, and 21st being 4·25 inches. This rain, as you inform me, has extended over the whole of the Western Circle, and I hear that the whole of the Pooree district has, within the last four days, received a copious fall of rain.

83. There is now plenty of water all over the Khorda estate, and the prospects of the rice crops have been materially improved.

RESOLUTION ON THE LAND REVENUE ADMINISTRATION OF THE LOWER PROVINCES FOR 1887-88.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT—LAND REVENUE.

Calcutta, the 8th September 1888.

RESOLUTION.

READ—

Letter No. 762A, dated the 31st July 1888, from the Board of Revenue, Lower Provinces, submitting their report on the Land Revenue Administration of the Lower Provinces for the official year 1887-88.

Read also—

Letter No. 836A, dated 1st September 1888, from the Board of Revenue, Lower Provinces, submitting with their remarks the Annual Report of the Director of the Department of Land Records and Agriculture for the official year 1887-88.

Preliminary.

In accordance with the orders of the Government of India, No. 111A—6-2, dated 13th February 1888, the Annual Report of the Department of Land Records and Agriculture will be reviewed in this Resolution together with the Board's Land Revenue Administration Report. The Board's Land Revenue Report was punctually submitted, but the Director's Report was received from the Board of Revenue on the 4th September. As the reports are reviewed together, it is important that they should be received simultaneously and separate orders will be issued by Government on this subject.

2. It is explained by the Board that the portions of the Director's Report which are concerned with Land Revenue Administration have already been laid before the Board with their own report, and that a further notice of them, so far as they relate to Wards' estates, will be offered in the Board's Report on the management of estates under the Court of Wards. The Director's report is prepared by Mr. Collin, who took charge of the Department after the close of the year, and merits the commendation of Government for its lucid and concise treatment. Mr. Finucane was Director of the Department of Land Records and Agriculture throughout the year.

3. The Board's report is submitted by Mr Reynolds, who was in charge of the Land Revenue Department during the last half of the year. From the 1st April to the 30th September Mr. Halliday was acting in his place. The Land Acquisition and Partition Departments were under the successive charge of Mr. Halliday, Mr. Beames, and Mr. Peacock, except for a few days, when Mr Reynolds was in charge. The report is succinct but sufficient, and, in accordance with the recent orders of Government, the repetition of all unnecessary matters has been avoided.

Maps.

4. The report is illustrated for the first time by a series of maps, the object of which is to elucidate the figures and information furnished. The first of these is a map of the province in which the districts are coloured by various shades of red to indicate the percentage of land revenue collections in each. From this it is seen that Manbhoom and Darjeeling are the only districts in which the collections amounted to 100 per cent. In the Rajshahye Division all the districts, except Bogra and Julpigoree, exceed 97 per cent. This satisfactory rate of collections was also attained in Balasore and Cuttack, in Bankoora and Beerbhoom, in Jessore, in Sarun and Durbhunga, in Purneah and in Hazaribagh and Singbhoom. A glance at the map shows that collections were indifferent in Eastern and Central Bengal. The six districts, however, in which the collections were worst of all, viz. Midnapore, Patna, Khulna, Chittagong, Lohardugga and Pooree, are scattered over all parts of the province.

5. The districts of Midnapore, Chittagong, Pooree, Lohardugga, and Patna have appeared also in previous years in the list of those which showed bad collections. The reasons in the first three cases are obvious. In Chittagong the minute character of the estates and holdings, which pay revenue direct to Government, has always necessitated a considerable balance. In Midnapore the indifferent collections are occasioned by the direct management of the large estates of Jellamoota and Majnamoota, and in Pooree by the direct management of the Government estate of Khoordah. During the past year there was a failure of the rice crop in Khoordah. In Lohardugga collections are affected by direct management in the Government estate of Palamow. In Patna the short collections are attributed to the difficulty in realizing rents in two Government estates, Pundaruck and Jagir Dumra, and to the poor outturn of the rice crop in the Behar subdivision. In Khoolna the unfavourable result is attributable to balances due from an estate sold for arrears of revenue which could not be recovered pending the disposal of an appeal against the sale.

6. In general it cannot fail to attract notice that the districts in which temporarily settled estates, Government estates, and ryotwari tracts are largest are also those in which the collections appear most unsatisfactory. The percentage of total collections on the total demand in all temporarily settled estates in Bengal is 87·08, in Government estates it is 76·46, in ryotwari tracts it is 91 49, and in permanently settled estates it is 97·15. If the permanently-settled estates only are considered, there is not a single district in which the collections fell below 90 per cent. on the gross demand, and there are only six districts in which the collections fell below 95 per cent. So large a proportion of the land revenue in Bengal is collected from permanently settled estates that the percentage of collections from all estates taken together is found to be not less than 94·75.

7. It must be remembered, however, that in all cases of direct management, that is to say, in cases in which the Government collects direct from the ryots, and in a less degree in all cases in which temporarily settled estates and Government estates are let in farm, the basis of collections is very different from what it is in regard to permanently settled estates. In the latter case it is revenue which is collected, revenue which throughout the province as a whole bears an estimated proportion of between a third and a quarter of the amount of rental paid to the zemindars; in the former cases, where there are no intervening zemindars, the rent of the ryots becomes the revenue; it is not a proportion only, but the whole of the rent which is due to Government; and it is not to be expected that the percentage of collections should be as favourable as it is in the case of revenue properly so called.

8. The general map of the province is succeeded by a series of district maps designed to illustrate the locality of all Government estates, and in irrigation districts the area to which canal water was supplied. The maps of all districts are not given, but only such as comprise estates, the importance of which merits recognition. These maps are interesting and fully repay the trouble which must have been bestowed on their preparation. But they are of unequal merit, and in some cases present imperfections due no doubt to the haste with which they were prepared. The Board propose in subsequent years to illustrate other subjects in the district maps, and this intention should be carried out. But the Lieutenant-Governor would suggest that next year the maps should be prepared with the same object that they have been this, in order that the deficiencies which are apparent this year may be corrected The colouring should be uniform throughout. Some districts are very wanting in this respect. In Shahabad it is not apparent that the Government estates have been indicated at all, and no attempt is made to colour the area of land under irrigation. The map of Cuttack does not show Angool, and in Julpigoree, Ambaree Fallacotta is omitted. In Lohardugga, the Palamow estate is properly marked; but although a reference is made in the margin to the position of the Burkagurh, Puttea, and Silam estates, it is not possible to trace their site in the map. The 24-Pergunnahs map is too indistinct to be useful. The map of Gya would have been a good one if the names of the village groups had been shown on the map itself, and not in the margin—a practice which should be avoided whenever it is possible to show the names in the map. The maps of Midnapore, Pooree, Balasore, Patna, and Chittagong are favourable illustrations of what is required

9. Another respect in which there is a change in this report, and at the same time an improvement over its predecessors, is its division into four main parts—(1) collection of the land revenue, (2) administration of the land revenue, (3) rent, and (4) miscellaneous. The Lieutenant-Governor's remarks will follow this convenient order.

Collection of the Land Revenue.

Demand.

10. The current demand on account of the four classes in which estates are divided is shown below :—

Class of Estates.	Current demand. 1885-86.	1886-87.	1887-88.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
I—Permanently settled estates ...	3,22,99,680	3,22,97,484	3,22,91,720
II—Temporarily settled do. ...	27,14,912	27,20,301	26 48,556
III—Government estates ..	21,97,439	22,36,301	22,32,370
IV—Ryotwari tracts ...	8,21,318	8,35,309	8,43,757
Total ...	3,80,33,379	3,80,95,298	3,80,16,403

There is a decrease in the year under review of Rs 78,895, attributable to reductions allowed in Midnapore on account of the Majnamoota and Jellamoota estates, and partly to items hitherto accounted for as remissions being now shown as reductions of demand.

11. The following statement shows the demand, collections, remissions, and balances during the year 1887-88 as compared with the two preceding years :—

Collections and balances.

12. The total collections are less than those of 1886-87 by Rs. 5,67,732, and of 1885-86 by Rs. 4,51,383. The collections are smaller in consequence of the steady tendency to reduce arrear balances. In the balances which are most difficult to realize there has been a steady reduction year by years, and to this extent the result is satisfactory. But although the percentage of collections on gross demand shows, in consequence, a small improvement, it is observed that the percentage on current demand shows a falling off, and this year amounts to only 99·53. It is explained that a sum of Rs 41,980 in Chittagong, though included in the demand for the year, was not recoverable by legal process until after the close of the year. The Board propose to show such demands in future in the first quarter of the next year. This proposal is in accordance with existing orders, and has the approval of the Lieutenant-Governor. Arrears due by wards' estates permanently settled amounted to Rs. 1,75,690, against Rs. 1,12,803 in 1886-87 and Rs. 1,52,659 in 1885-86. Of this amount, however, the large sum of Rs 75,000 due from the Burdwan estate was a nominal balance only: the amount was paid in at Cuttack from the receipts of the Kujung property, but was not credited at Burdwan until after the close of the year. The fact that the last two days of the year, the 30th and 31st of March, were close holidays prevented the realisation of revenue remitted from one district to another: in such cases it was often impossible to adjust the accounts until after the year had closed. It must be noted also that this case affected the collections in all districts: the latest date of payment for the spring instalment is the 28th March, and considerable payments are usually made on the days which immediately succeed this date. Had it not been for this cause, the collections would have been more favourable than they are shown to be in the year's accounts.

The remissions, which are of grace only, are Rs. 23,820, against Rs 83,390 in 1886-87 and Rs. 56,458 in 1885-86. Remissions of right and nominal remissions have been rightly excluded.

The balances are heaviest in Government estates, being 22·87 per cent. of the gross demand. In permanently settled estates, the percentage on gross demand rose from 2 37 to 2·84, while in temporarily settled estates it fell from 15 19 per cent. to 12·86 per cent.

Government estates.

13. The total number of Government estates in the Lower Provinces during the year was 3,058, with a rental of Rs. 22,32,270. These figures exclude some large Government estates under direct management, which are classed as ryotwari tracts, such as the Western Dooars in Julpigoree and the Damin-i-Koh in the Sonthal Pergunnahs. There were 28 ryotwari tracts with a current revenue of Rs. 8,43,757, and the collections, amounting to Rs. 8,53,737, may be considered to be very satisfactory. The total number of Government estates in 1886-87 was 3,053, and the rental Rs. 22,36,201. There was a much larger amount of arrears in that year, which accounts for the collections amounting to Rs. 24,49,005, against Rs. 22,21,366 for the year under review The percentage of collections to gross demand was nearly the same in both years.

Estates under direct management.

14. Of the total number of Government estates (excluding ryotwari tracts), 1,395, with a rental of Rs. 15,46,655, were under direct management, and the remaining 1,663, with a rental of Rs. 6,85,715 only, under farming leases. Including private estates, there were 1,685 estates under direct management with a rental of Rs. 27,96,411, and a gross demand of Rs. 35,18,919. The collections amounted to Rs. 27,61,380, or 98·7 per cent. of the current demand, against 102 6 per cent. in the year 1886-87. The collections were best in the Rajshahye Division, except in Pubna, and worst in Orissa. The failure of crops in Khoordah in the Poorce district was so considerable that the Subdivisional Officer submitted a list of 17 areas where he thought relief works would be necessary. Matters fortunately proved less serious than had been anticipated, but the ryots were unable to pay their rents in full, and it is stated that Rs. 32,000 will be reported for remission. In the present year the crops have again failed in a portion of this estate, and it is probable that further remissions will have to be made. The Lieutenant-Governor notices with satisfaction the steady, if slow, improvement in the Chittagong district. The percentage of cost of management on revenue was the same as in 1886-87, or 7·3. The allowance made to surbarakars, who are to all intents and purposes middlemen, for the collection of revenue, is not included in the above percentage. There are special facilities in the Presidency and Chota Nagpore Divisions, which tend to reduce the total percentage of cost of management.

Miscellaneous revenue.

15. There was an increase in the following branches of Miscellaneous Revenue only:—

	1886-87.	1887-88.
	Rs.	Rs.
Fees under Act VIII of 1865	1,776	2,596
,, ,, XI of 1859	16,990	18,666
Fines under ,, XX of 1848	137	1,151

But there was a decrease under all other heads, especially in regard to the sale of Government lands, under which there were large receipts in 1886-87 on account of the sale of the Lottery Committee's lands in Calcutta. The total receipts from all sources fell from Rs. 3,40,478 in 1886-87 to Rs. 1,72,982.

Road and public works cess.

16. The following statement shows the demand, collections, and balances of road and public works cess during the past three years:—

	Demand.			Collections.	Remission.	Balances.	Percentage of balance on gross demand.
	Current.	Arrear.	Total.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
1884-85	74,36,630	15,63,317	90,00,147	75,38,279	39,657	14,22,631	15·8
1885-86	74,97,808	14,65,317	89,63,925	75,78,825	39,311	13,45,099	15·4
1887-88	76,11,708	16,24,865	92,36,573	75,35,113	16,061	17,00,598	18·4

The large increase in the demand is due to re-valuations. The collections are unsatisfactory. Due weight is, however, allowed to the Board's explanation that the statutory allowance of 15 days of grace for cess payments will always unfavourably affect collections when the latest day of payment is on the 28th March—only three days before the close of the year—and to the fact that in the past year the last two days of March were close holidays. This is the first year in which the cess year has corresponded with the financial year, and the figures given are therefore not strictly comparable with those of previous years.

Redemption of land revenue.

17. The subject of redemption of land revenue calls for no remark, unless it be to note that since the close of the year it has been ordered that for the term of one year petty estates in the Chittagong district, permanently settled and paying less than one rupee per annum as Government revenue, may be redeemed at ten times their annual jumma. If, as is expected, this boon is largely availed of by the Chittagong landholders, it will afford relief not only to them, but also to the revenue administration of the district, which at the time of payment of small demands in June is almost paralysed by the thousands of persons who come to pay their infinitesimal quota of revenue.

Remittance of land revenue by postal money-orders.

18. The privilege of remitting land revenue by postal money-orders was extended to all districts from the 1st April 1887. The total amount of revenue so remitted during the year was Rs. 2,07,156 by 47,248 orders. Transactions were largest in the following districts:—

	Rs.	Number of orders.
Chittagong	21,366	9,393
Mozufferpore	17,911	2,460
Dacca	16,630	3,226
Furreedpore	15,192	2,690

On this subject the Board observe—

"The system has worked very well, and is very popular. The total number of orders refused was 2,066. It is expected that a smaller proportion will be refused in future years, and in order to ensure this result the Board have issued a general rule that doubtful points are to be determined in favour of acceptance rather than of refusals of these special money-orders.

"From the 1st April 1888 the rules have been revised so as to make the revenue money-order system applicable to all estates, irrespective of the amount of their land revenue, and to include remittances of zemindari dâk cess, as well as land revenue and road and public works cess. It has also been ruled that other public demands may be paid at the option of the payer by ordinary postal orders, provided that the particulars given are sufficient for the department concerned."

The success of the system, which the Lieutenant-Governor observes with much satisfaction, is largely due to the personal trouble which has been taken by Mr. Kisch, the Postmaster-General, and his subordinates to organise details and ensure that there should be no breakdown at times of pressure. The convenience to the public afforded by the new arrangements is no doubt very considerable.

The proposal to extend the system of money-orders to payment of rent under the Tenancy Act is still under the consideration of Government. The system has recently been sanctioned as an experimental measure in one village in the Howrah district, where the relations between the tenants and their landlord appeared to be greatly strained.

Sales.

19. The administration of the sale law was generally satisfactory. The number of defaults increased, but the number of sales as will be seen from the subjoined statement, varies little year by year:—

	Defaults. Rs.	Sales. Rs.
1884-85	10,575	1,836
1885-86	12,445	1,770
1886-87	14,456	1,859
1887-88	14,745	1,863

The slight increase in the number of sales observable during the past year is due to an injudiciously worded circular issued by the Collector of Burdwan, which was understood to give the day of sale as the date up to which payment by defaulters would be received. But as a rule the sale law has been administered with great consideration, and the leniency shown—in the opinion of many officers an excessive leniency—is evinced by the number of defaults. The proportion of sales is now only 12 per cent. on the number of defaults, whereas four years ago it was 17 per cent. The care and discrimination now exercised by Collectors in the case of sales for petty arrears and the greater indulgence shown to defaulters is due to the policy initiated by Mr. Reynolds at the Board, and it meets with the Lieutenant-Governor's entire approval. It is a wise and considerate policy, from which the landholders have gained and the Government has not suffered. That the greater moderation now displayed has not in any way affected the revenue is shown by the following statement of the percentage of collections, year by year, during the past four years upon the gross demand:—1884-85, 92·41; 1885-86, 93·53; 1886-87, 94·58; 1887-88, 94·75.

Certificates.

20. The total number of certificates filed during the year was 176,608, against 177,618 in the previous year. Of these, 80,205 were for road cess, 30,422 for water-rates, 12,418 for wards' estates, 24,218 for rent due to Government, and the rest for other demands. A large number of certificates is annually filed for the realization of petty demands, principally of road cess and water-rates. Out of the total number of certificates, in 57,194 cases payment was made on mere issue of notice, and in 63,392 cases payment was made on attachment of property. The number of cases in which it was necessary to have actual recourse to sale was reduced from 9,112 in the previous year to 4,797.

Administration of the Land Revenue.

Estates under direct management.

21. There has been no change in the agency or mode of management in regard to these estates. The total expenditure from all sources incurred on works of improvement was Rs. 95,603, or only 3·4 per cent. on Rs 27,61,380, which is the total collection of the year from these estates. The greatest portion of the expenditure incurred was in drainage and irrigation works in the Majnamoota and Jellamoota estates. The cultivation of new staples has not been neglected by the Director of the Agricultural Department. Buxar wheat was not found very successful in other districts. Sugarcane and paddy were cultivated on improved methods in the Serampore estates. Different kinds of manure, including bone-meal, were tried with satisfactory results. Potatoes were cultivated in Patna and Bogra with a good outturn. Various new ploughs have been introduced into Government estates for experimental cultivation by the ryots, but in all cases have been rejected as being too heavy for country bullocks. The Beheea sugar mill is said to be generally in use, and is much appreciated by the ryots. Mr. Finucane visited Rhotas last cold weather with a view of establishing fuel and fodder reserves on the Rhotas and Rehul plateaus on the Kymore Hills, and submitted proposals to protect the forests in these plateaus, and to reserve a forest tract at the foot of the hills, which are still under the consideration of the Forest Department. Primary schools are maintained on Government estates in most districts, and the usual one and a half per cent. assignment was made over to the District Road Cess Committees for the improvement of communications. The inspection of tehsil accounts by Collectors and others appears to have been generally made. In Bogra serious irregularities in the Jaipore Manager's office were detected; in Chittagong various malpractices were discovered, which eventually resulted in the removal of a khas tehsildar from his appointment; in Lohardugga, Chittagong, and Noakholly embezzlements were brought to light, which have been followed by the criminal prosecution and conviction of the offenders. The material condition of the Government ryots was not marked by exceptional features.

Survey and settlements.

22. The question of survey and settlements will be again referred to in dealing with the proceedings under the Tenancy Act. The following observations refer to action taken under the provisions of other Acts. The survey of ghatwali lands in Bankoora was completed at a total cost of Rs. 63,380. The Government estate of Angul in Cuttack lies within the Tributary Mehals. It comprises 879 square miles, a large portion of which is jungle The whole tract is now under cadastral survey and settlement under the immediate supervision of the Director of Land Records. The cadastral survey is being carried out by the Professional Department through the indigenous agency of surbarakars or village headmen, and it is reported that 187 square miles had been completed by the close of the year. In regard to the settlement now being taken in hand, it has been decided to make no alteration in existing rates, but to rely upon the increase in the area of holdings, and the extension of cultivation for an increase of revenue. The estate of Banki in the same district, comprising an area of 120 square miles, is also under survey and settlement by the same means and agency. Of this estate, the survey of only six square miles had been completed by the close of the year. The outer boundary and traverse surveys of both of these estates having been completed, it is expected that the whole of the cadastral survey will be concluded during the coming cold season. The rents of the Majnamoota and Jellamoota estates have now been finally adjusted, and negotiations have been set on foot for restoring the management of the Jellamoota estate to its proprietors. The Chota Nagpore settlements have been completed, and the Board accord well-deserved praise to Mr. Slack for his efficient service as Settlement Officer in this division.

The old Settlement Manual has been revised by the Board in communication with the Director of Land Records, and new rules, which have been rendered necessary by the difference of procedure enjoined under the Tenancy Act, have been submitted to Government, and will shortly be promulgated for general guidance.

Land registration.

23. The first registration under Act VII of 1876 is complete in 37 districts; the balance of work remaining to be done is inconsiderable. Revision and re-writing of the registers are complete only in 22 districts. Registration of mutations under section 42 of the Act in still very incompletely effected. The improvement is almost imperceptible. The percentage on the total number of interests registered was 3·5 in 1885-86, 3·7 in 1886-87, and 3·8 in 1887-88. In every year the registrations are more satisfactory in the Rajshahye and Dacca Divisions than elsewhere. But in the Presidency Division the percentage is only 1·6 in Jessore, 2·4 in Calcutta, and 2 7 in the 24-Pergunnahs. In many other parts of Bengal the results are quite as bad as this, while in neighbouring districts like Khulna it is found that the percentage is 12·6 and in Burdwan 11·1. In Rajshahye, Pubna, Dacca and Patna the mutation exceeds 7 per cent. No explanation of these divergencies can be furnished. Revised rules prepared by the Board with a view to the improvement of registration without having recourse to further legislation for the purpose have been sanctioned by Government, but it is doubtful, as the Board observe, whether these rules will prove very efficacious.

Partitions.

24. The number of partitions instituted during the past four years in the three heaviest divisions—Patna, Bhagulpore, and Dacca—is shown in the following statement:—

	Patna.		Bhagulpore.		Dacca.
	Institutions.	Disposals.	Institutions	Disposals.	Institutions.	Disposals
1884-85	425	338	67	69	77	12
1885-86	440	375	79	55	69	88
1886-87	433	393	61	86	48	68
1887-88	436	380	38	99	92	67

There are no great fluctuations year by year. but it will be observed that the disposals in the Patna Division by no means keep pace with the number of institutions, and the number of cases pending at the close of 1884-85 was 1,396, while it has increased to 1,557 at the close of the past year. The increase is distributed among every one of the seven districts in the division. The amount of work done last year in Mozufferpore was creditable, but less so in other districts. In the Bhagulpore Division the pending files have been satisfactorily reduced.

Land acquisition.

25. The proceedings in the Land Acquisition Department involved a considerable increase of outlay during the last year, as follows :—

	Area of land acquired.			Cost of acquisition.			Average per acre.
	A.	R.	P.	Rs.	A.	P.	Rs.
1884-85	2,946	3	15	3,12,072	4	7	106
1885-86	3,262	3	30	11,42,697	8	11	350
1886-87	7,363	3	30	4,99,887	12	6	67
1887-88	2,824	1	36	14,50,313	7	3	513

From the nature of the case these figures afford very little standard of comparison with one another. During the first of these years no important cases were confirmed by the Board. In 1885-86 land was taken up in Calcutta for town improvements, and there was a heavy expenditure on railway lands. In 1886-87 a very large area was acquired for irrigation purposes in Orissa, but the expense was small. During the past year there has been a heavy outlay in almost all departments. The principal project in which the proceedings were confirmed was the land on the Howrah foreshore for the Port Commissioners: 13 acres at a cost of Rs. 5,25,000. A total cost of more than 4½ lakhs was incurred for railway lands, and more than two lakhs of rupees were paid for land taken up by municipalities, chiefly Calcutta. The high cost per acre is due to the character of the land acquired. The proceedings in the case of several important railway projects are still pending, and cannot be confirmed until the proceedings before the Civil Court have been disposed of. The revised rules prepared by the Board for the guidance of officers in the acquisition of land for public purposes are still under the consideration of Government in the Public Works Department.

Patwaries.

26. Important special reports from the Board of Revenue have recently been received regarding the maintenance of patwari registers, and the value of the existing patwari agency as a means of maintaining the maps and records in a tract of country of which a survey and record of rights has been made. In their present report the Board write :—"It appears to be premature to discuss the question of the form of the registers until it has been finally decided whether any recourse is to be had to legislation. If it is determined to leave the law as it stands, it does not appear that anything would be lost by cancelling the putwari rules and abolishing the registers." The whole question is still under the Lieutenant-Governor's consideration.

RENT.

Working of the Bengal Tenancy Act and relations between landlords and tenants.

27. The Board observe that "the Bengal Tenancy Act has been for too short a time in force to have produced its full effect. There is still a feeling of hesitation on the part of landlords and tenants to have recourse to its provisions. What influence it will eventually have on the condition of the landholding classes it is still too early to say. It is certain, however, that it has not yet provoked any agrarian demonstrations or increased litigation." Upon the whole, the relations between landlord and tenant are said to have been satisfactory, although here and there manifestations of ill-feeling are brought to notice. In the Burdwan district it is reported that an increment of rent assessed thirty years ago was waived by the landlord during some bad seasons, and is now a source of dispute, because the prescribed form of rent receipt requires it to be permanently shown or permanently abandoned. Similarly, there is disturbance in the south of the Midnapore district, where the landlord's claim has always been a fluctuating one on account of floods. In the same way the difficulties which are felt by the Court of Wards in dealing with pergunnah Sujamoota in the Burdwan Raj Estate are principally due to the amalgamation of illegal cesses with the demand many years ago, and the consequent uncertainty in the demand of rent from the ryots. In this case the disputes will no doubt be settled by the survey and record of rights which will be effected next cold weather. In the Rungpore and Mymensing districts, there were agrarian riots accompanied with loss of life.

Form of rent receipt.

28. The use of the form of rent receipt and of annual accounts prescribed under the Tenancy Act appears to have become general. In consequence of a misunderstanding which prevailed as to the meaning of the words "particulars of holding" which appear in the form of receipt, it was decided by Government that the words which do not in any way affect the meaning or substance of the receipt should be omitted from the form.

Notice of transfer and landlords' fees.

29. There has been a marked increase in the number of notices of transfer of tenures from 67,565 to 89,564. The statistics given by the Board are interesting: the 24-Pergunnahs again heads the list with 19,128 notices, most of which relate to holdings in the Punchannogram estate. In Hooghly the number was 9,055, Chittagong 8,427, Midnapore 7,868, Dacca 6,887, and Backergunge 5,590, while the number in Moorshedabad was only 366, Rungpore 185, Dinagepore 126, Chumparun 135, and Beerbhoom 117. The explanation of this contrast is that in the latter districts the number of permanent holdings is comparatively small. The Board bring to notice that the feeling of reluctance on the part of landlords to accept the fees for transfer continues to prevail, and again suggest that as the Bill for the registration of permanent tenures has been allowed to drop, there is no sufficient ground for retaining in the Tenancy Act the sections 12 to 15 which were intended by the framers of that Act to supplement the provisions of a law which it was understood would be introduced in the Bengal Council for the registration of tenures. The Lieutenant-Governor has no doubt that the operation of these sections has created a great increase of work in Collectors' offices, and that, from the official point of view, no advantage is obtained from them. The facts also would seem to show that they are not appreciated by the zemindars, who, as a rule, refuse to be bound by them. It remains to ascertain the feeling of tenure-holders on the subject, and this, as the Board observe, ought not to be difficult to ascertain in districts where permanent under-tenures are common. The Lieutenant-Governor requests, therefore, that the Board will now take steps to obtain the opinion of Revenue Officers and of the landholding classes generally, both landlords and tenants, whether the sections should be retained in the law or not, and to submit a report on the subject.

Surveys, settlements, and records of rights.

30. There were altogether 66 applications for survey and settlement of lands under Chapter X of the Tenancy Act. Of these 40 were in respect of the settlement of Government or temporarily-settled estates under direct management, 6 related to Wards' estates, and 20 to private zemindaries. These proceedings are for the most part conducted under the direct supervision of the Director of Land Records. The survey and settlement of Beel Bullee in the 24-Pergunnahs was concluded during the year. The rents, when they have reached their maximum, will have increased from Rs. 4,061 to Rs. 27,059. This large increase is mainly due to the reclamation of land for cultivation effected by the drainage work of the Public Works Department at a cost of Rs. 94,443. The settlement operations in Chur Nalchira in Noakhally were commenced in December 1886, and brought to a conclusion in February 1888, the result being an increase of rent from Rs. 23,000 to Rs. 29,000, or 26 per cent. In the remaining Government cases survey only had been undertaken, and settlement had not commenced until after the close of the year. In the two first cases of settlement, which have been concluded under the Tenancy Act, the results are financially satisfactory, and the work seems to have been efficiently done.

The Lieutenant-Governor trusts that the Board of Revenue, the Director of Land Records and other Revenue authorities will keep as careful a watch and control over the surveys and records of rights which are being made under Chapter X of the Act in regard to private zemindaries as they are bound to do in the case of Government estates. At least one case of the settlement of a private estate has already come to His Honour's notice, in which, owing to want of supervision and attention, a much larger expenditure has apparently been incurred than the circumstances would justify. Delay, too, often involves unnecessary expense, and it is feared that in the operations undertaken in some private estates delay has occurred which might have been avoided. It is known that in Wards' Estates the expenditure has been greater than was expected. It was pointed out by the Lieutenant-Governor in the Resolution on last year's report that it was only after those concerned had observed the effects of such operations that any general recourse could be expected to the means afforded by the new law for securing a settlement of all agrarian disputes. But if it is found that the work is not efficiently supervised, and if it is not well and economically managed, and if the strictest care is not taken to prevent abuse, it is certain that the provisions of this chapter of the Act will become a burden instead of a boon to those interested in the land, and the benevolent intentions of the legislature to facilitate by this means the adjustment of disputes between landlords and tenants will be frustrated.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Inspections by Collectors of their own offices.

31. The Board report that the prescribed half-yearly inspections were generally made by the Collectors themselves. In some districts, owing to pressure of work, the duty of inspection was delegated to Deputy Collectors or Assistants. In two or three districts only no inspection was made. The reason of this is generally attributed to the transfer of officers at the time when the inspection would otherwise have been made. The Lieutenant-Governor attaches much importance to this duty, and does not find that the excuses which have in some cases been made for its non-performance are satisfactory. He expects that all Collectors will comply with the rule, and must hold the Board and Commissioners responsible for seeing that the inspection is made regularly half-yearly, and that it is always made by the Collector himself and not by a subordinate. There is no reason why it should be put off to the end of the half-year: it is this postponement which generally leads to no inspection being made at all.

Training of young civilians in survey and settlement work.

32. The Lieutenant-Governor is glad to see that the subject of training of young civilians in survey and settlement work has received due attention. It is true that the practical difficulties in the way of imparting a competent knowledge of survey work to a young civilian are very great. But an attempt is being made to overcome them by associating these officers more closely with surveys and settlements than was done in former years. During the next cold-weather, survey operations will be carried out on a somewhat extensive scale, and it is likely that for several years to come important surveys will be in progress in several districts. Opportunities, therefore, are likely to offer themselves more frequently in future, and the Director of Land Records, as well as Commissioners of Divisions, should avail themselves of them wherever possible for deputing young civilians temporarily with a survey party in order to learn their work.

33. The Lieutenant-Governor cordially acknowledges the valuable services rendered during the year by Messrs. Reynolds and Halliday as Members of the Board. A series of very useful Manuals for the guidance of officers on revenue matters, based on rulings and orders of the Board of Revenue, has been accurately and carefully compiled by Mr. Buckland, Officiating Secretary to the Board. Mr. Finucane, the Director of Land Records, again distinguished himself by the energy with which he devoted himself to his multifarious duties The names of the revenue officers, who are considered by the Board to be deserving of special commendation for their work, will be communicated to the Appointment Department.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

Offg. Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

RESOLUTION ON THE ANNUAL REPORT OF THE SANITARY COMMISSIONER FOR BENGAL FOR THE YEAR 1887.

RESOLUTION.

SANITATION.

Calcutta, the 10th September 1888.

READ—

The Report of the Sanitary Commissioner for Bengal for the year 1887, including the Report on Vaccination in Bengal for the year 1887-88, dated 18th June 1888.

Read also—

The Report for the previous year and the Resolution recorded upon it.

The remarks in last year's resolution on the length of the Sanitary Commissioner's report have been attended to by Dr. Lidderdale, who has succeeded in reducing his report from 163 to 65 pages without at the same time omitting anything of importance. The section relating to personal proceedings might be still further shortened.

2. Registration of Births.—Births were registered in 100 towns, against 45 towns in 1886. It is no doubt due to the number of towns in which registration was enforced for the first time that the recorded birth-rate fell from 21·04 per 1,000 to 19·35. The recorded birth-rate varied from 50·21 per mille in Jamalpore to ·66 per mille in Jehanabad. It is obvious that in many places sufficient attention has not been paid to the work of registration of vital statistics by the Municipal Commissioners who are at present responsible for it. The matter will be referred to the Municipal Department for such action as may be found necessary.

3. Registration of Deaths.—The death-rate per mille for 1887 is 23·46 against 21·99 in 1886, and a mean ratio for the previous five years of 20·96. These figures indicate some improvement in the registration of vital statistics which is most marked in a more accurate record of the death-rate among children of less than five years of age. The number of deaths among children under one year has increased to 145·40 per mille from a quinquennial mean of 111·81. There is reason to think, however, that the apparent improvement in registration is not altogether real. Dr. Lidderdale points out that the death-rate is calculated on the population as recorded in the census of 1881, and that, allowing for the probable increase in population since then, the corrected death-rate for 1887 would be about 21·41 per thousand. The rates recorded vary from 35·31 per 1,000 in Monghyr to 12·53 per 1,000 in Mozufferpore. The former figure is probably very nearly correct, and it is most important to note that the apparently high comparative death-rate in Monghyr is not due to its being an unhealthy district, but mainly to the admirable way in which Colonel Ramsay enforces report by the village chowkidars of the district. At present the position of any district on the list is very largely determined by the interest taken in registration by the Magistrate and District Superintendent of Police, and the Lieutenant-Governor is compelled to observe that in too many cases the results shewn are deplorably inaccurate, and the figures supplied absolutely worthless, for purpose of comparison or as a basis for sanitary action. The attention of Commissioners of Divisions, and of the Inspector-General of Police, will be emphatically called to the matter, the importance of which is manifestly often overlooked. District and Sub-divisional Officers and District Superintendents of Police must be got to realize that the collection of correct vital statistics is an important part of their duty. They should be urged to take a personal interest in the work, and to test the figures supplied to them by their own knowledge of the sanitary conditions of various parts of their districts, by facts which may come to their knowledge regarding the prevalence of epidemics of cholera or malarious fever or other diseases, and by local enquiry during their tours. By these means they can effectually check, if not put a complete stop to, the tendency to leave deaths unreported on the one hand, or the possible risk of imaginary deaths being reported on the other.

4. The following table shows the death-rate from various causes during the quinquennial period 1882-86, 1886 and 1887 :—

	Ratio of deaths per 1,000 of population.
	In 1887.			In 1886.			In 1882-86.

Total	24·12	23·44	23·46	27·29	21 79	21·99	28·98	20·65	20 96

The most striking feature in this table is the close approximation between urban and rural mortality as compared with previous years. Dr. Lidderdale makes no remarks on the subject in discussing these figures, though it would appear to require explanation, as, while the recorded death-rate rose in rural circles, it actually fell in urban circles considerably below the quinquennial mean. From another part of his report it would appear that he attributes the decline to the fact that the charge of registration has been made over to municipal bodies (paragraph 57). This subject had been already noticed in a previous paragraph, and the Lieutenant-Governor trusts that measures may be taken to remove a decided blot in Municipal Administration. The only other noteworthy feature is the considerable mortality from cholera.

5. Cholera —The recorded deaths from cholera rose to 172,578, against 118,368 in 1886, and a quinquennial mean of 139,869 for 1882-86. The number of villages attacked was 23,894, against 21,567 in 1886. The severity of this disease varied greatly in different parts of the province. In Bengal Proper the mortality fell to 1·70 per mille against 2·17 in 1886. The suburbs of Calcutta, favourable climatic conditions notwithstanding, maintained its pre-eminence with a death-rate of 8·31, against a mean rate of 8·58 for the previous five years. The bad sanitary condition of Raneegunge, due, according to the Sanitary Commissioner, to neglect of duty by the Municipal Commissioners, afforded a breeding ground for cholera. It should, however, be mentioned that, as appears from the General Administration Report of the Burdwan Division, the Municipal Commissioners of Ranigunge were most energetic in remedial measures after the disease had made its appearance. It appeared there in the cooly depôts, and was transmitted thence through Northern Bengal causing much loss of life. In Serampore there was an outbreak, ascribed to the use of bad water. In Midnapore cholera was imported by the pilgrims returning from Pooree. In Behar the number of deaths was 84,530, against 25,709 in 1886, and a quinquennial mean of 41,415, giving death-rates of 3·65, 1·11 and 1·79 per mille respectively. The districts most affected were Gya, Chumparun and Shahabad, with death-rates of 8·05, 7·50 and 7 15 per mille Peculiar atmospheric conditions were associated with the appearance of this epidemic, "such as absence of the usual west winds, replaced by damp winds from the east, and a heavy downpour of rain in the end of May." In Gya town, where the death-rate was 8·78, sanitary improvement is greatly needed. In Shahabad the Civil Surgeon enquired as to the cause of the outbreak, and says "for all there is the same tale to relate—foul wells, foul tanks, human and animal ordure everywhere, damp houses, damp surroundings, and neglect of the first principles of sanitation." In Sarun the death-rate was 3·46, the largest on record for that district. It was most virulent there in Sewan in the municipality and rural circle. The former had a death-rate of 5 63. Chumparun was visited by the Sanitary Commissioner in August, who submitted a special report. He found here the usual insanitary conditions, and also noted that the epidemic "was preceded by two years of unusual rainfall, was associated with a very plentiful fruit crop, and with early rainfall and an absence of west winds." In Orissa the death-rate was 4·87 against a quinquennial mean of 4·18. The Puri district had a death-rate of 9·75—the highest in the province. Several sanitary improvements were proposed in the pilgrim routes. "It is intended in Cuttack to extend the Puri Lodging-house

Act along the main line of road, and to allot to the Sanitary Committee of the Local Board funds for conservancy at principal halting-places." Dr. Lidderdale recommends similar measures along the Grand Trunk Road. A copy of his remarks will be forwarded to the Municipal Department. In Chota Nagpore the death-rate was 2·45 per 1,000 against ·30 per 1,000 in 1886 and a quinquennial mean for 1882-86 of ·67. It was worst in places near the Gya and Shahabad districts.

6. Small-pox.—The number of deaths is the smallest on record, only ·05 per mille, and testifies to the good results of systematic vaccination. 47 per cent. of the mortality is due to the Patna Division, where vaccination has only been extended to three districts. In the Orissa Division vaccination is said to be backward and inoculators active, and the result is that 32 per cent. of the deaths are reported from that division. Dr. Lidderdale states that many of the deaths put down to small-pox are really due to measles or fever attended by anomalous eruptions. While the death-rate for rural circles is ·05 per mille, urban circles show a mortality of ·13, and the very unsatisfactory explanation given by the Sanitary Commissioner is neglect of vaccination and inefficient administration of the Compulsory Vaccination Act.

7. Fever.—The statistics of fever mortality give a death-rate of 16·44, the highest yet recorded. The increase, however, appears to be due to improved registration, for the general view of Magistrates and Civil Surgeons is that the year was not an unhealthy one. There is a marked decline in the fatality in towns remarked on in paragraph 4. The Sanitary Commissioner remarks that of the eight districts heading the list, he believes all, except Monghyr, to be among the most feverish in the province, and he considers that this proves that in some parts of the country registration of deaths is beginning to show some relation to actual facts. The Rajshahye Division shows the very large death-rate of 27·16 per 1,000 from fever, but the rise of 6·11 over the average for the five years 1882-86 appears to be entirely due to better registration. In the Presidency Division the death-rate from fever in Nuddea has fallen from 29·22 per mille in 1884 and 26·85 in 1885 to 21·99 in 1887. It appears, however, very doubtful whether this is due to anything but defective registration last year. In Tipperah fever was so severe that five hospital assistants were sent to treat cases. The returns, which must be altogether untrustworthy, only show a death-rate of 12·63. In Shahabad there was a decided change for the better, the death-rate having fallen from 29·20 in 1886 to 20·62. The Civil Surgeon is of opinion that the canal irrigation there has intensified pre-existing influences, tending to produce disease.

8. Mortality from other Causes.—The mortality from bowel-complaints, injury and other causes during the year amounted to 56,893, 26,630, and 204,813 against 55,693, 29,081, and 190,818 respectively in 1886. The record of deaths from other causes is not reliable, and depends very much on the practice of the reporting and registering officers. The ratio for the whole province is only 3·09 per mille; but in Banpur rural circle in Pooree district it rose to 30·54 per mille, and the ratio of the Pooree district is 14·72, followed by Backergunge with a ratio of 7·83.

9. Vaccination Operations.—The following table shows the number of primary vaccinations performed in 1887-88 :—

Circles.	Primary. Total number of operations in 1887-88.
Calcutta	9,809
Metropolitan Circles	391,912
Suburbs of Calcutta, including Central Vaccination Depôt and Cooly Depôts	8,768
Total of Metropolitan Circles	400,675
Darjeeling Circle	274,876
Ranchi ,, ...	141,782
Sonthal Pergunnahs ,, ...	108,940
Eastern Bengal ,, ...	549,167
Orissa ,, ...	84,995
Behar ,, ...	70,314
Total of Vaccination Circles	1,631,888
Municipalities, dispensaries, &c.	77,409
Grand Total ...	1,713,297

It is very unsatisfactory that while the total number of operations has increased by 108,378 as compared with the previous year, the number of operations in municipal and other areas, not included in the departmental circle, has decreased by 9,140. Dr. Lidderdale's remarks regarding the very useful depôt for bovine lymph in the Suburbs of Calcutta, and the desirability of establishing similar institutions on a smaller scale in large municipalities, such as Patna, Dacca, &c., will be sent to the Municipal Department. It is satisfactory to find that on the whole steady progress is being made, though there is still much opposition in many districts. From Moorshedabad and Beerbhoom it is reported that the long sustained opposition of the Ferazis is being steadily overcome.

10. In the Sonthal Pergunnahs circle the services of the Government vaccinators were dispensed with, and the licensed system was introduced throughout the circle. The number of licensed vaccinators employed throughout the province was increased by 130. The Compulsory Vaccination Act (Act V (B.C.) of 1880) was extended to 40 towns during the year. In a good many places more use might be made of the Act. Thus in Patna the backward state of vaccination is said to be due to the apathy and indifference of the Municipality, as well as to the incompetence of the subordinate vaccination staff. In Motihari again no one was prosecuted up to the close of the year, and only 240 persons were vaccinated out of a population of 10,307. Dr. Lidderdale reports, however, that on the whole progress was made, and that Municipal Commissioners are said to have begun a more active administration of the law—a statement which it is difficult to reconcile with the falling off in the number of operations noted in the previous paragraph. The attention of the Municipal Department will be directed to this part of the report. The decrease in the death-rate of vaccinated areas from ·13 in 1882-83 to ·04 in 1887-88 contrasts very favourably with that in other areas, where it has varied between ·55 in 1884-85 and ·16 in 1886-87 and 1887-88.

11. Expenditure on sanitation.—There has been a satisfactory increase in sanitary expenditure, excluding roads, of Rs. 1,04,994, but there are still many towns in which the expenditure under this head is very inadequate, while there were 25 towns in which nothing was spent on original sanitary works. The most unsatisfactory feature of the expenditure is the very small sum allotted to the disposal of the dead, as in some places burial-grounds for Mahomedans are an urgent sanitary want.

12. Sanitary works.—The Bhagulpore water-works progressed satisfactorily. Nothing has been done for the water-supply of the towns on the right bank of the Hooghly from Serampore to Howrah, notwithstanding the conditions on which Howrah was relieved of its police charges. In Hooghly Mr. Toynbee's efforts to get the owners of tanks to come forward and make them over to the District Board for the purpose of being repaired and maintained as a source of drinking water-supply met with no success. In Burdwan Rs. 5,800 were advanced under the Land Improvements Loans Act to some landholders and tenants for cleaning and deepening old and silted up tanks and for excavating new ones. In Dinagepore a large scheme of town drainage was in progress at the expense of the Maharajah of Dinagepore. In Moorshedabad Rs. 1,645 were spent on the Baluchur drainage scheme. In Midnapore Rs. 29,692 were expended on the Surpai drainage works and upwards of Rs. 10,000 on protective embankments. In Howrah the Commissioners spent Rs. 30,000 on a small tramway for the removal of night-soil beyond municipal limits.

13. Extension of sanitary laws.—The Municipal Act III (B.C.) of 1884 was introduced into three towns. The Compulsory Vaccination Act (Act V (B.C.) of 1880) was introduced into 40 municipalities. Act IV (B C.) of 1865, forbidding inoculation, was extended to 7 thanas in Backergunge and 6 thanas in Gya district. It is now in force throughout Lower Bengal, excepting Chittagong, the greater part of Orissa, and four-and-a-half districts of Behar.

The Local Self Government Act III (B.C.) of 1885 was introduced into 22 districts, and is now in force in all but 7 districts.

14. The Sanitary Commissioner describes at some length the result of his inspections and of the inspections by circle officers. Only four of the towns visited were found to be in a satisfactory condition. He shows that the unsatisfactory results of the sanitary inspection of villages is not due to any want of a clear perception of what should be done, but to the absence of any agency to see that reforms suggested are carried out. When a Sanitary Board has been constituted as directed in the Government of India's Resolution of the 28th July, it will be its first duty to draw up a practicable scheme providing an agency to carry out the reforms on which it may decide. Sir Steuart Bayley has had under consideration various proposals regarding rules to be passed for village sanitation, but he proposes to defer passing orders till he can have the advantage of the suggestions of the Board. The Municipal Department will be asked to consider, in addition to the matters to which their attention has been specially called, the remarks made by the Sanitary Commissioner upon various points noted in the Report connected with sanitation of areas under the Administration of Municipal, District, or Local Boards, and the means of getting better work done under this head by Municipal Boards.

The results of observations at the Alipore Observatory are not rigorously comparable with the registers of past years (at the Park-street Observatory). The barometer is about 8 feet higher at Alipore, and, other things being equal, reads therefore ·003 lower. The diurnal range of temperature is also greater at Alipore, and the mean temperature apparently about 0·6° higher; and, finally, the thermometer which furnished the record of temperature at the Surveyor-General's Office during 20 years and upwards is found to read 0·6 higher than the Kew standard thermometer, which is the standard of reference at the present Observatory.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL, AND OF THE METEOROLOGICAL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN ASSAM, DURING THE MONTH OF AUGUST 1888.

THE normal meteorological conditions in Bengal during August resemble those of July to a very great extent, and the south-west monsoon winds continue to blow over the province with almost undiminished force during the greater part of the month, though towards the end of it, or commencement of September, wind velocities begin to fall off. The normal rainfall in August is distinctly, though slightly, smaller than in July, and this would tend to show that the monsoon current even in August commences to weaken. The greater part of the rainfall in Bengal in August is undoubtedly brought up by the Bay of Bengal current, but a considerable part of the rainfall at the western stations of the province is also due to the Bombay branch of the current, which, interacting in these districts with the Bengal branch, causes ascensional air motion, and consequently increased precipitation of rain. The Bay of Bengal branch alone gives the heaviest rainfall to the southern, eastern, and northern districts, but the interaction just mentioned increases the rainfall in the western districts, and thus supplements the action of the Bengal current, and tends to produce greater uniformity of rainfall over the whole province.

The actual amount of rainfall in August will therefore no doubt depend mainly on the strength and volume of the Bay of Bengal monsoon current, the heaviest rainfalls usually occurring in the eastern and northern districts, and the amount slowly diminishing towards the western districts; but the actual distribution will be affected by the causes which have been discussed in the previous monthly summaries. One of the causes which will produce marked variations from the normal distribution of rainfall will be the formation and passage of areas of barometric depression or small cyclonic storms, which bring large amounts of rain to the districts through which they pass The formation of such storms is a prominent characteristic of many rainy seasons, though they are to a certain extent absent in others; and as the line of country through which they pass varies very considerably, they are prominent causes in modifying the distribution of rain in particular years. A second cause which modifies the normal distribution of the rainfall is the varying strengths of the two currents, and the amount and position of their interaction, and it will be seen that, if from any cause a larger amount of interaction than usual takes place over the western districts of the province, the rainfall will be increased by a corresponding amount.

The normal distribution of rainfall during the month is comparatively simple. The two localities in which rainfall is heaviest, and where the amount exceeds 20 inches, include, first the Chittagong, Noakholly, and Backergunge districts; and second, the Julpigoree, Cooch Behar, and Darjeeling districts. The area which receives a rainfall of between 20 and 15 inches starts from Saugor Island and runs nearly parallel to the sea coast, then turns to the north, runs parallel to the Tipperah and Sylhet hills, and through the centre of the Rungpore district to Kissengunge in the Purneah district. The greater part of Chutia Nagpur, and of South-West Central, East and North Bengal receives a rainfall of from 12 to 15 inches, while the greater part of Behar receives only from 10 to 12 inches. The central districts of Behar receive the smallest amounts of rain, the average being generally rather less than 10 inches.

Meteorology of the month.—At the close of July a feeble low pressure area of only slight importance was lying over West Bengal, the centre of the depression and of the accompanying cyclonic circulation of winds being near Bankoora. On August 1st, this small depression had advanced into Behar, and the centre of the wind circulation and of the barometric depression was near Gya, and on the morning of the 2nd the small depression had passed out of the province, and conditions became normal, except that the monsoon current in the Bay was rather more westerly than usual During the advance of the small depression through the western districts of the province as usual rather heavy rainfall was received, but with its comparative cessation at this time the first important barometric depression of the month was formed at the head of the Bay.

Barometric depression of August 4th to 10th.—On the 4th August a general and rather rapid fall of pressure took place, the fall being largest at Saugor Island, where it amounted to 0·075 inch. These changes accompanied the formation of a slight but distinct barometric depression over the Sunde buns, the centre of which was to the south-east of Saugor Island, and which was accompanied by a distinct, though feeble, cyclonic circulation of winds. The formation and continued existence of this depression formed the only feature of importance in the meteorology of the first ten days of the month. It continued to be an extremely feeble but remarkably persistent storm, and remained almost unchanged in position and intensity in the north-west angle of the Bay for four days, the centre drifting gradually to the south and south-west of Saugor Island up till the 8th, when the centre was close to the coast, and on the morning of the 9th the centre had advanced inland and was to the south-west of Calcutta During this day the feeble storm continued to move in a westerly direction, and on the morning of the 10th the centre was in the Singbhoom district of Chutia Nagpur, the centre being near Chyebassa; while generally over the remainder of the province conditions had become of ordinary monsoon character. During the whole of its existence the depression was accompanied by a feeble cyclonic circulation of winds only, which, however, affected the wind directions over a considerable area of the province.

During the existence of this storm at the head of the Bay the indraught towards it and the general cyclonic circulation set up prevented the ordinary monsoon winds from flowing over Bengal, and for the greater part of this period rainfall was rather light and local in the majority of districts. In the case of Orissa, however, and the south-western districts of South-West Bengal, as these districts were under the immediate influence of the depression, rainfall continued general during its formation, and as the depression passed inland, it brought up heavy rainfall to Orissa and parts of South-West Bengal, and particularly to the Balasore district. With the further inland advance of the depression rather heavy rain fell in Chutia Nagpur, and the monsoon current then commenced to spread over Bengal, making conditions again favourable for general rainfall over the whole province.

On the 11th a very rapid fall of pressure took place in South-West Bengal, and another small depression was formed, the centre of which was between Saugor Island and Calcutta, the small storm being accompanied by a very distinct cyclonic circulation of winds. On the 12th the small storm had disappeared, though there was on this day a tendency to the formation of a low-pressure area, accompanied by slight circulation of winds, over the eastern part of South Behar. This very feeble depression gave heavy rain over South-West Bengal. Conditions remained practically unaltered on the 13th, but on the 14th a rapid increase took place in the strength of the westerly component in the wind directions, and the easterly and south-easterly winds which were previously blowing were replaced by westerly and south-westerly winds in all districts, except the extreme east and north of the province. A very rapid increase of pressure also took place in the western and south-western districts, and the area of minimum pressure was transferred to the southern districts of North Bengal, where also there existed a marked tendency to the setting up of a cyclonic circulation of winds. At this period the second barometric depression of the month was formed, which was decidedly important, even though it was formed over the land area and not over the sea as is usually the case.

Barometric depression of August 15th to the 23rd.—This depression was formed over the north of the province by the interaction of two opposing wind systems which was followed by a particularly heavy rain over the north and centre of the province. Pressure also rose rapidly in all except the northern districts, and by the morning of the 15th a distinct barometric depression had formed, accompanied by a fairly complete cyclonic circulation of winds, the centre of the depression being to the south east of Bhagulpore. On the 16th the depression had moved slowly in a westerly direction, and the centre was to the south or south-south-west of Bhagulpore, and on the 17th it had again moved in a westerly direction, and was lying over the western part of Behar and part of Chutia Nagpur, the centre being not very far from Gya and Hazaribagh, and slightly to the north or north-north-east of the latter station. On the 18th the depression was in Bundelkund, and the centre between Sutna and Nowgong; on the 19th it was in Central India, and the centre was some distance to the south-west of Jhansi; on the 20th it was in Western Rajputana, and the centre was approaching Mount Abu; on the 21st it was approaching the Runn of Cutch, and on the 22nd the depression filled up rapidly, and by the morning of the 23rd it had completely disappeared. This storm had therefore a life-history of eight days from the 15th to the 23rd, though after the 18th it practically ceased to affect the meteorology of Bengal. The small storm also travelled over a path of 1,200 to 1,300 miles in its westerly advance, and almost throughout its existence it gave rise to heavy rain.

During the existence of the previous small storm in Central and Western India certain changes were taking place at the head of the Bay, which resulted in the formation of by far the most important storm of the month, and which also gave rise in its rear of one of the strongest south-westerly gales that have been felt at the Sandheads and at Saugor Island for many years past. The history of this storm, as given in the weekly reports which have been previously issued, is mainly as follows:—

Cyclonic storm of August 9th to the 29th.—Even on the 17th August there were slight indications of the possible formation of a barometric depression in the north-west angle of the Bay, but these indications had not developed at all on the 18th, and conditions were still of ordinary south-west monsoon character. On the 19th, though pressure was rising over the whole of South-West Bengal, the wind directions showed that there was a small cyclonic circulation of winds or whirl setting up over the Sunderbuns, the centre of the circulation being about east or east-south-east of Saugor Island. On the 20th pressure had fallen at the head of the Bay, and the wind circulation became rather more complete, but on this day the centre of the whirl was to the south of Saugor Island. On the 21st the centre of the cyclonic circulation had again shifted back to the east or south-east of Saugor Island, while the depression had increased very slightly in intensity, and on the 22nd the centre of the small storm passed inland and was to the north-east of Saugor Island, and with the advance of the storm centre over the land pressure fell rather rapidly over South-West Bengal. The wind velocities at all stations in the neighbourhood of the depression on this day were very small—thus at Saugor Island a velocity of 19 miles was registered, at Calcutta 9 miles, at Burrisal 5 miles, and at False Point 12 miles. On the 23rd, at 8 A M, and again in the report for 10 A.M., the centre of the small storm was shown to be close to Calcutta, apparently within a few miles of it, and a little to the south-east, and the barometer had again fallen, making the barometric depression at the centre of the storm considerable. Notwithstanding the considerable depression, the wind velocities at the stations affected by the storm were very small, and thus at Saugor Island there was a wind velocity of only 13 miles, at Calcutta 9 miles, and at Jessore 12 miles, though to the east, west and south of the storm, winds were decidedly strengthening, and moderately strong winds were blowing. In the 24 hours from the 22nd to 8 A M. of the 23rd, the small storm had apparently moved about 30 or 35 miles in a north-westerly direction, and the storm centre was certainly about 60 or 65 miles inland. Over the whole of South-West Bengal on this day winds were only light to moderate in force, and it appeared as if throughout its existence the storm would only give feeble winds, though the rainfall accompanying it was heavy, and falls of six and seven inches had been reported in Orissa on the morning of the 23rd. At the head of the Bay, it was believed that squally weather only prevailed in connection with the storm, for the storm centre was actually a considerable distance inland, and for certainly a diameter of 120 miles in the centre of the storm only light to moderate winds were blowing. Conditions, however, began to change on the afternoon of the 23rd, and the storm centre commenced to advance more rapidly than hitherto, and by 6 P.M. it was almost to the east of Calcutta, and by 8 P.M. it was slightly to the east-north-east of that station. With the advance of the storm, winds also commenced to increase in force at Saugor Island, though up to about 3 P M. moderate westerly winds only were blowing. After this time a strong south-westerly gale sprang up, and for some hours it continually increased in strength. As pointed out above, when this south-westerly and south-south-westerly gale sprang up at Saugor Island, the storm centre was at least 60 to 70 miles inland, being near Calcutta, and therefore to the north-north-east of Saugor Island. In other words, it would appear that this south-westerly gale formed no part of the true cyclonic circulation of winds accompanying the storm, but was merely an after-effect produced mainly by the strong indraught towards the storm in its advance over the land, and which south-westerly winds helped to feed the cyclonic circulation, which also at this time increased rapidly in force That such is the case is clear, for with the centre of the storm to the east of Calcutta a cyclonic circulation of winds could only have given a north-westerly gale at Saugor Island, whereas when the wind direction was west at Saugor Island, the velocity was still light. At what time this south-westerly gale sprang up at sea in connection with the storm it is difficult to say, for the land observations gave no indication of its existence until the storm actually commenced to blow at Saugor Island.

Notwithstanding that the actual storm area was well inland, as the strong south-westerly gale continued to blow at Saugor Island during the evening of the 23rd with unabated force, it was thought desirable to warn the shipping in the port of Calcutta and the river Hooghly of the existence of the stormy weather, and at 1-20 A.M. on the 24th orders were issued to the signal stations in the river and port to hoist No 10 night warning signal to be followed at daylight by No. 9 danger signal, and these signals were kept hoisted until orders were given at 8 A.M. on the 25th to have them lowered The southerly gale of wind at Saugor Island continued to increase in force until 5 A M. of the 24th, when the extremely high wind velocity of 72 miles an hour was recorded, and throughout the 24th, until about 7 A.M. of the 25th, a gale of wind continued to blow, but at that time the weather commenced decidedly to moderate. At Calcutta winds continued light up till about 3 o'clock on the 24th, at which hour the velocity was only 10 miles an hour, from 3 to 4 o'clock it had increased to 20 miles, and from that time it gradually but steadily increased up till 8 o'clock, when it was blowing at 34 miles an hour, but after this time it gradually decreased again.

At 8 A M. on the morning of the 24th, the centre of the storm was to the north of Calcutta, and at 10 A.M. the centre was nearly over Krishnaghur. The storm had intensified very rapidly during the 24 hours from the 23rd to the 24th, and on the latter day it was a very influential storm with the remarkable difference that, while on the 23rd at all stations within 60 or 70 miles of the centre of the storm, the winds were particularly light, and at some stations it was even calm, on the morning of the 24th there was a very vigorous cyclonic circulation round the centre. The lowest pressures recorded in connection with the storm do not appear to have been coincident with the passage of the centre of the wind circulation, and at Calcutta pressure continued to fall for some time after the wind had gone round to the south-west, the lowest pressure recorded being 29·313 inches at 6 A M of the 24th, while at 10 A.M. of the 24th a pressure of 29·354 inches was recorded at Krishnaghur.

The storm continued its slow north-westerly advance, and on the morning of the 25th it was in the Sonthal Pergunnahs district, the centre being to the west of Nya Doomka. On the 26th it advanced into the middle of Behar, and its centre was to the east of Gya and to the south-west of Bhagulpore, but the storm centre was at a considerable distance from any meteorological observatory; on the 27th the storm was close to Patna, the centre being to the east or north-east of that station, and on the 28th the storm had passed from Bengal into the North-West Provinces, and the centre was to the south of Gorakpur. Up to the 27th the intensity of the storm had continued to be very considerable, and on this day with its approach towards Patna pressure fell by more than a fifth of an inch, and a pressure of 29·49 inches was reported, but with the advance of the storm into the North-West Provinces the storm rapidly decreased in intensity, and commenced to fill up, and on the morning of the 28th it was a comparatively feeble storm. During the 28th and up to the morning of the 29th, the decrease in intensity continued, and on the latter day the only indication of its existence was a feeble residual cyclonic circulation of winds in Oudh and Rohilkund, while on the 30th it had entirely disappeared. As the storm had formed at the head of the Bay on the morning of the 19th, it had therefore a life-history of eleven days, while the course it travelled over was barely six hundred miles. From the period the 23rd to the 27th, it was a decidedly influential storm accompanied by very strong winds and in its progress it brought up extremely heavy rain, but previous to and after the date mentioned the storm was of little importance. The meteorological conditions of Bengal then continued of fairly normal character up to the last day of the month, but on the 31st again a feeble barometric depression commenced to form in the north of the Bay, accompanied by a distinct cyclonic circulation of winds, though in all cases the wind velocities were light.

In addition to the very stormy weather brought about by the cyclonic storm just described, the rainfall accompanying it was of excessive heaviness, and in the line near the centre of its track a few stations received falls in excess of ten inches within 24 hours, while several received amounts larger than six and seven inches, and falls in excess of four and five inches were very numerous. The following instances will show some of the heaviest falls within 24 hours at stations near the track of the storm :—Mohesreka (Oooloobería) 15·42 inches, Dum-Dum 12 26 inches, Howrah 11·66 inches, Saugor Island 11·14 inches, Alipore 10·19 inches, Jehanabad 9·0 5 inches, Gya 7·59 inches, and Rajmehal 7·32 inches. In fact, the heaviness of the falls accompanying the storm was so great that the districts through which it passed generally show a rainfall about ten inches in excess of the normal amounts for the month.

It will thus be seen that the province was subject to the action of one decidedly severe cyclonic storm and of two rather influential barometric depressions, together with two smaller and rather feeble depressions during the month, most of which, however, affected the western districts most severely. Thus the rainfall of all the districts in the province except North Bengal has been in excess of the normal for the month, while in Orissa, South-West Bengal and South Behar, the excess has been particularly large, amounting to between seven and ten inches.

Pressure.—The variations of pressure during the month have been very considerable, and very large changes took place during the passage of the cyclonic storm as previously described. At the beginning of the month there was a slight but distinct excess pressure over the greater part of the province, but the excess was very equally distributed. The effect of the first of the barometric depressions then began to show itself, and pressure became rather largely below the normal in the south-western districts, while at the stations in the north of the province pressure was almost normal. The defective pressure still continued up to about the middle of the month, but with the development of the second depression in the centre of the province, pressure became more largely in defect over this area. For the remainder of the month the pressure distribution was governed by the formation and advance of the cyclonic storm, and at this period in the south-western districts a general defect, extending over some days, of more than a tenth of an inch was reported, but with the inland advance of the storm the defect was transferred to Behar, while finally at the close of the month pressure had become more normal. For the whole month practically it will be seen pressure was below the normal. The general defect over the whole of the province was equal to 0·043 inch, while at Burdwan the defect was 0·068 inch, and at Berhampore 0·062 inch, and, on the other hand, the smallest defects were 0·026 inch at Cuttack and 0·017 inch at Durbhunga. The largest defects are therefore to a great extent in the line taken during the advance of the cyclonic storm. In Assam a general average defect of 0·030 inch was registered.

Temperature—Has generally continued fairly low throughout the month, and there have been no variations during that period which call for any particular comment. For the whole month the general mean temperature of the province was 0·4° in defect of the normal. All districts show temperature in small defect, except North Behar, where a slight excess of 0·2° was registered. In Assam the mean temperature has been 0·4° in excess of the normal for the month.

Rainfall.—As has previously been explained, conditions have been eminently favourable for rainfall throughout the month, and in all districts, except North Bengal, falls in considerable excess of the normal have been received. In Orissa, South-West Bengal, East Bengal and South Behar, the stations have averaged a rainfall of about 20 inches; in Chutia Nagpur a fall of seventeen and-a half inches has been received, while North Behar and North Bengal have received about thirteen and twelve inches respectively. In Orissa the rainfall has been nearly ten inches in excess of the normal fall, and in South-West Bengal and South Behar between seven and eight inches in excess. In East Bengal and Chutia Nagpur the falls have exceeded the normal by about five inches, and in North Behar the excess has been about two inches. Finally, the only district where the falls have been in defect of the normal has been North Bengal, where the defect amounts to nearly two inches.

So heavy has the rainfall in August been that the effect of the serious retardation of the monsoon in June has been more than neutralized, and the monsoon rainfall since the 15th May is now considerably above the normal in all districts, except North Bengal. Compared with the normal value, the rainfall for the present monsoon season has been seven inches in excess in South Behar, seven inches in excess in South-West Bengal, five inches in excess in Chutia Nagpur, two inches in excess in Orissa and East Bengal, and about half an inch in excess in North Behar. As previously stated, North Bengal has been in very considerable defect, the deficiency amounting to about seven inches.

The comparison of the actual rainfall of the various great divisions of the province during August with the normal is most accurately and conveniently shown in the form of a percentage. The figures representing the rainfall for the month calculated in this way are included in the table below under the heading of August. This table really gives a condensed summary of the rainfall statistics of the present year up to date for each meteorological division, the first eight columns giving the actual average rainfalls in each division in each month expressed as a percentage of the normal, while the ninth column gives the actual rainfall for the first eight months of the year expressed as a percentage of the rainfall of the period. The figures 100 in this table will therefore represent a normal fall, above 100 an excess fall, and so on—

Taking up the rainfall data a little more in detail, it will be found that it has varied from 45·8 inches at Cox's Bazar, 30·6 inches at Buxa in the hills in North Bengal, and 28·6 inches at Gya, to about six and five inches at some of the stations in North Behar, the smallest falls generally being received in the last named district and over a considerable area of North Bengal, comprising parts of the Rungpur, Bogra, and Rajshahye districts, and in parts of the Jessore district in South Bengal also.

Compared with the normal fall, parts of the Julpigoree district show falls more than ten inches in defect, and over considerable parts of the Darjeeling, Julpigoree, Kuch Behar, Rungpur and Chumparun districts defects of five inches and upwards are registered. Defects up to five inches are registered over a considerable part of the area represented by the following districts:—Mozufferpore, Durbhungah, Bhagulpur, Purneah, Dinagepur, Bogra, Pubna, Mymensingh and Jessore, while to the west and south of these all districts are in excess. The most marked area of excess is in the track followed by the cyclonic storm, and over a large part of this area excess falls of from 10 to 15 inches and in some cases above 15 inches are recorded, an excess of 18 inches being recorded at Gya, one of 17·3 inches at Oolooberiah, 15·5 inches at Howrah, and 15·2 inches at Kishnaghur.

The actually largest excess falls when compared with the normal are recorded in such districts as Howrah and in Gya, which have received more than double the usual amount, and in Patna and 24-Pergunnahs, which have received nearly double the usual amount, while, on the other hand, Chumparun shows a defect of about a third of the normal, and at Julpigoree and Purneah falls of about three-fourths of the normal only have been received.

The following table gives full data for the comparison of the actual and the normal rainfall of the month of August in all districts of the province. The figures are derived from the average and actual rainfall of the rain-recording stations in each district, due allowance or weight being made for the area which each station represents. This gives a more accurate average than the arithmetical means given in the weekly and monthly meteorological tables. The first column gives the normal or average district rainfall as determined from the rainfall observations of the past 15 years. The second column gives the actual district rainfall as determined from the weighted actual rainfalls of the month at the reporting stations in each district. The third column expresses the ratio of the actual district rainfall of the past month to the normal rainfall as a percentage. The fourth column gives the same information as the third column in a slightly different form. It states as a percentage how much the district rainfall of the month varied in excess or defect from the normal rainfall, and is hence the difference between the numbers in the third column and 100:—

Explanation.—Summary.—The normal means of air pressure and temperature are the arithmetical average or means of the reading during the same period for the last ten years. The humidity of the atmosphere is expressed as percentage, saturated air being represented by 100. A clear sky is denoted by 0 and an overcast sky by 10. The number are the numerical means or average of the returns in that district determined from the returns sent in by the sub-divisional station for the period in question during the past 31 stations in the district sending in returns divided by the number of stations. A rainy day is one on which at least hundredth of an inch fell.

* Mean of six days.

for the week ending Friday, the 7th of September 1888.

CALCUTTA, the 11th September 1888.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL, AND OF THE METEOROLOGICAL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN ASSAM, FOR THE WEEK ENDING FRIDAY, THE 7TH SEPTEMBER 1888.

At the close of the previous week, a small barometric depression, accompanied by a feeble cyclonic circulation of winds, had formed in the northern part of the Bay. The depression remained, without having changed its position or altered in intensity to any great extent, up till September 3rd, or the third day of the present week, when apparently it slowly filled up and disappeared without passing inland. On the 1st the centre of the feeble whirl was to the east or north-east of False Point, on the following day it was near the coast line between False Point and Balasore, and on the 3rd again it was east of False Point, while on the 4th it had entirely disappeared. Throughout its existence it communicated a distinct cyclonic character to the direction of the winds in the southern districts of the province without affecting their intensity. At the commencement of the week the general pressure distribution differed little from the normal, for the depression in the north-west of the Bay was very feeble For the first two or three days of the week a gradual rise of pressure continued over the whole Bay, but the rise was least at the east coast stations and the barometer remained relatively low on the Arakan and Burmah coast. Heavy rain then occurred at Chittagong, where 4·71 inches was reported on the 3rd, and the barometer commenced to fall rather rapidly at the eastern stations. On the morning of the 4th conditions had decidedly changed, the centre of lowest pressure being transferred to the north-east of the Bay and to the Orissa coast, while again a distinct wind circulation was set up at the stations in South Bengal and in Orissa, and it is probable on this day that a distinct depression commenced to form in the north of the Bay. On the morning of the 5th conditions had again changed still further, a rapid fall of pressure was reported from south-east Bengal, and distinctly low pressures were reported from the east of the Bay. A rapid change had also taken place in the wind systems in Bengal, and generally a northerly and north-westerly current was reported over the whole province. This appeared to show that the small depression in the Bay was intensifying considerably, though still winds to the south of it were light in force. On the morning of the 6th again the depression showed signs of having developed distinctly, and that it was drifting towards the Orissa Coast; for while a rapid rise of pressure, in some cases amounting to a tenth of an inch, had taken place at the eastern stations, on the Orissa coast pressure commenced to fall Winds over the whole of Bengal on this day also formed part of a perfectly developed cyclonic circulation, the centre of which was off the Orissa coast. At the same time also winds in the rear of the depression strengthened, and at Diamond Island fairly strong winds were reported. These conditions appeared to show that the depression in the Bay had decidedly developed, and it was thought advisable to hoist the appropriate signal denoting the advance of a small cyclonic storm to the Orissa coast, and at 9-30 A.M. on the 6th, No 5 signal was ordered to be hoisted in the river approaches to Calcutta and in the port, while also the ports on the Orissa coast were warned. Subsequently it was reported from Balasore that a small cyclonic storm passed over that station. Considering, however, the very distinct indications previously given of this storm, its intensity when it reached the land was decidedly small. As the small storm had passed inland on Thursday, the 6th, the bad weather signals were lowered on Friday morning at 5 A.M., and at 10 A.M. on the 7th the centre of the small storm was in the south-west of Chutia Nagpur. The weather that followed over Bengal was of the ordinary monsoon character; small changes of pressures occurred irregularly along the Orissa coast, and moderate differences of pressure were again reported over the Bay, indicating the continued flow of the south-west monsoon over the province

Pressure.—Has been uniformly high over the whole province throughout the week, the only place having a mean pressure below the normal being Chittagong. At the beginning of the week the pressure was nearly normal over the Bay, but on the following four days there was a steady increase over the province and Bay, which was partly compensated for during the last three days by small and irregular falls In the middle of the week the barometer fell very rapidly on the Chittagong coast, and rose there again rapidly on the 6th and 7th. At the following stations the mean pressure was more than a twentieth of an inch above the normal:—Balasore, Midnapore, Furreedpore, Durbhunga, and most of the stations in Behar For the whole province of Bengal, the mean pressure of the week has been 0·035 inch in excess of the normal, while in Assam pressure has been 0 024 inch in excess.

Temperature.—As the rainfall during the week has been rather lighter than usual, temperature has in some districts been slightly above the normal, though in others it has been below it, and for the whole province the mean temperature has been almost absolutely normal. The largest excess pressures have been from one to one-and-a-half degrees in East and North Bengal, while, on the other hand, North Behar shows a defect of a degree. In Assam the very considerable excess temperature of 1 9° is reported.

Rainfall.—Fairly general rain was reported over the whole province on the first day of the week, but during the existence of the feeble storm in the north of the Bay there was a partial break, and from the 2nd to the 5th inclusive, rainfall was decidedly lighter than it had been, and it was also very local, some districts receiving practically no rain. When, however, the second small storm commenced to advance in a westerly direction and to pass over Orissa, general and rather heavy rain again set in over the province, and on the last two days of the week almost every station in the province reported rainfall. For the whole week the rainfall in South Behar and Chutia Nagpur has been decidedly above the normal, but elsewhere it has been below it. South Behar has received a general fall of a little more than three inches, or nearly an inch in excess of the usual amount. Chutia Nagpur has also received a fall of three inches, or about half an inch in excess. In South-west Bengal, East Bengal, and North Behar the falls have averaged between two and three inches, the falls in the three districts being a little more than half an inch in defect, and North Bengal and Orissa have received the smallest falls of about one-and-a-half and two inches. The fall in Orissa is about half an inch smaller than usual, while in North Bengal the fall is no less than about two-and-a-half inches in defect, the actual only equalling 40 per cent. of the usual fall.

The following table gives the summary of the temperature and rainfall data of each of the seven meteorological divisions of the Province for the week ending Friday, the 7th of September 1888 :—

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, and from observations made at 6h, 10h, 16h, and 22h.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

MEMORANDUM *

THE mortuary returns of the districts in Bengal (excluding Manika and Hossinabad thanas in Lohardugga, from which no return has yet been received) for the month of May 1888 furnish the following results :—

1. That 116,548 persons died among a population of 66,014,376, representing a casualty rate of 21·12 per 1,000 per annum against 23·88 per 1,000 in the preceding month, and 25·44 per 1,000 during the corresponding month of the past year, indicating, as compared with both the periods (especially with the latter), a large decrease in mortality.

2. That the undermentioned districts returned the highest proportions of deaths :—

Districts.	Ratio per mille.	Districts.	Ratio per mille.
Darjiling	56 76	Monghyr	27 36
Julpaiguri	33 36	Rajshahye	27·00

Manbhum	29 16	Durbhanga	26·16
Hazaribagh	28 20	Maldah	25 68
Backerganj	27 36	Rungpore	25 20

3. That the following diseases proved fatal at the rates noted below :—

indicating chiefly, in comparison with the results of the corresponding month of the preceding year, a considerable decrease of mortality from cholera and fever, particularly from the former.

4. That cholera and fever exhibited greatest activity in the following districts :—

MEMORANDUM.

DURING the week ending 25th August 1888, the principal Municipalities in Bengal returned the birth and death rates of 18·9 and 32·5 per 1,000 of population respectively, against 19 4 and 27·3 per 1,000 in the preceding week, indicating a large advance in the registration of deaths.

2. The following Municipalities returned the highest proportions of births and deaths :—

Births.	Ratio per mille.	Deaths.	Ratio per mille.

		Monghyr	30·7

3. From the figures in the following table, it appears that the mortality from cholera and the unspecified diseases coming under the head of "other causes" had increased to a considerable extent, and that the casualties from the rest of the death causes exhibited only fractional variations, with the exception of bowel-complaints, the mortality from which remained stationary :—

* A special census of the Europeans in the Darjiling Municipality was recently taken, as the census of this section of the community, taken in February 1881, was not reliable owing to the Europeans being at a minimum in that month. The number of the natives [illegible] necessary to recensus them. The ratios have consequently been calculated on the revised population under all heads in the above table, except "Age," the ratios under which have been omitted, inasmuch as the census of the Europeans [illegible] cannot be employed as a basis of calculation owing to the results of the census under this head not having been recorded under the authorised form of age classification.

General remarks on the fluctuation of principal staples carried over the East Indian Railway during month ended 28th July 1888.

INCREASES.

Iron.—This increase is due chiefly to despatches of first-class iron and machinery to the Cawnpore Mills from Howrah.

Oil.—As reported in previous months, the increase under this head was chiefly in kerosine oil from Howrah.

Stones.—Due to despatches of stone fencing posts from Mirzapore, Pahara, and Chunar for the Assam-Behar State Railway.

Bones.—This is due to the same reason as stated in my remarks for June last, viz. demands at the crushing mills near Calcutta.

DECREASES.

Coal and coke.—There has been a decrease in the upward and an increase in the downward coal and coke traffic; the former was due to smaller demands from the ice factory and other mills at Allahabad and Cawnpore, and the latter to heavy despatches from Sitarampore, Burrakur, and Giridih to the Eastern Bengal State Railway and to Howrah.

Cotton.—This is attributable to failure of crops as stated in previous months.

Wheat.—Due to low prices ruling at the home markets during the period under review.

Piece-goods, European.—This decrease may be ascribed to the up-country markets being over stocked.

Gunny.—This decrease naturally follows the decrease in wheat and seeds.

Gram and pulses.—The falling off in these staples was principally at Cawnpore and stations nearer to Cawnpore, and also at Monghyr, Kajra, and Burhee, and may be attributed to absence of demand.

Rice (husked and unhusked).—This decrease was at almost all the stations on the loop line, and was due to limited demand from Patna and stations above.

Other rain and spring crops.—The falling off under this head was chiefly at stations on the Dinapore and Allahabad districts, and was due to scanty crop.

Government Stores.—Due to heavy despatches last year from Howrah to Ferozepore and Rawalpindi.

Skins.—This falling off is ascribed to the dull state of the market.

Brass and copper.—Despatches are still restricted owing to high prices being maintained.

Railway material, Foreign.—Due to smaller despatches from Howrah owing to the completion of foreign railways.

Salt.—This may be attributed to large stocks being held at the large salt centres up-country.

Seeds.—Due to an unsatisfactory demand for shipment during the month.

NOTIFICATION.

Dated Calcutta, the 30th August 1888.

CUSTOMS.
F. M. Halliday, Esq.

THE following rules have been prescribed by the Board of Revenue, Lower Provinces, under section 164 of the Sea Customs Act, VIII of 1878, to carry out the provisions of Chapter 15 of the Act in their application to vessels sailing under a General Pass, and are published for general information in accordance with the provisions of section 204 of the Act, in supersession of the Notification contained in pages 688—694, Part I, of the Calcutta Gazette of the 9th August 1882:—

GENERAL.

1. In these rules the word "agent" shall include masters and owners.

The words "customs port" shall include any foreign ports regarding which it has been notified, under section 13 of the Sea Customs Act VIII of 1878, that all goods imported from or exported to them shall be treated as goods imported from or exported to customs ports.

The words "foreign port" shall include all foreign ports, whether on the continent of India or not, except those regarding which a notification has been issued as above.

The words "dutiable cargo" or "dutiable goods" shall be held to mean—

(a) All goods shipped from foreign ports for customs ports whether transhipped at any customs port or not;

(b) All goods specified in schedules 2 and 3 of the Tariff Act XI of 1882 whether shipped from or to foreign ports or customs ports;

(c) All goods exported under claim for drawback or under bond for duty of customs or excise;

(d) All goods the importation or exportation of which is prohibited or restricted under section 18 of the Customs Act, or any other law for the time being in force.

The words "free cargo" or "free goods" shall be held to mean all goods which do not fall within the above definition of dutiable.

2. A general pass in the form prescribed (Appendix A) shall be issued for each steamer under the signature of the Collector of Customs at Calcutta.

It shall be terminable on the 31st of July in each year, and shall be renewable by endorsement on application to the Collector of Customs. It shall be stated on the face of every general pass whether it is valid,

(a) For certain specified ports only;
(b) For all ports throughout certain presidencies; or
(c) For all customs ports throughout India.

The pass shall remain in charge of the commander or other responsible officer of the vessel for which it is granted. It shall be kept posted up in a conspicuous place on board, and shall be shown to any customs officer on demand.

A copy of these rules shall be furnished with each Pass, for the use of the ship to which it relates.

The agents or owners may choose at their option at which presidency the pass shall be taken out.

3. By applying for a general pass the agents of a vessel bind themselves, should a pass be granted, to be responsible :—

That no goods shall be carried by her in contravention of any law for the time being in force;

That all provisions of the Customs Act and of these and all other rules legally promulgated in accordance with the said Act, by the authorities of this or any other presidency in which the pass is in force, shall be duly observed;

That all port and light dues shall be paid and all duties short levied or refunds or drawbacks erroneously disbursed in consequence of errors or omissions in the cargo books, manifests, or other documents they are required to keep or put in, shall be made good on demand; and further,

That they shall deposit with the Collector of Customs a sum in cash or Government promissory notes, amounting to Rs. 500 for each vessel, but not more than Rs. 3,000 for any one company or line, and shall give him a general authority to recover from the said deposit all sums adjudged to be due from them whether as dues, duties, recoveries, fees or penalties, in respect of the vessel for which the pass is granted, or of any other vessel or vessels belonging to the same owners and also sailing under a general pass.

Nothing in this condition, however, shall be held to prejudice their right to appeal as provided by section 188 of the Sea Customs Act, VIII of 1878, in any case in which they may consider themselves aggrieved by the Collector's decision.

4. A cargo book in the form B annexed should be kept on board every steamer sailing under a general pass. The said cargo book shall be kept in accordance with the requirements of section 165 of the Sea Customs Act, VIII of 1878, and shall further show separately the dutiable and free cargo received at each port for each port, whether customs or foreign. Cargo received for transhipment shall be shown as for the port at which transhipment is to take place, but the port of ultimate destination shall also be given.

The keeping of the said cargo book shall not be held to dispense with the presentation of manifests, except in so far as may be provided in these rules.

The agents shall be at liberty to add to the form prescribed any columns they may require to adapt it to their own purposes.

5. Nothing in these rules shall be held to exempt the agents or masters of vessels sailing under a general pass from payment of any fees for special services, or from any restrictions as to lading or discharge of dangerous goods, imposed upon them by the rules of any port at which the pass is valid.

LADING AND CLEARANCE.

6. Vessels sailing under a general pass may be entered outwards, and shipping bills granted in anticipation of arrival.

7. No goods except transhipment goods and passengers' baggage shall be received on board without a shipping bill. All shipping bills shall be in English; and at ports where there are no other facilities for their preparation in that language, the agents of the vessel shall be bound to provide for this requirement; shipping bills shall be in the annexed form C. For free goods they shall be prepared in duplicate printed in black and blue. For dutiable goods they shall be in triplicate, printed in black, blue and red, with the word DUTIABLE printed across in large type in red ink.

8. Free cargo may be shipped at any time, day or night, except on Sundays or holidays, without special permission or supervision: Provided that no goods shall be shipped at night without supervision, except such as have been water-borne for shipment during ordinary working hours.

9. Dutiable goods shall not be shipped except under customs supervision. The original shipping bill shall be filed at the Custom House, and the duplicate shall accompany the goods on board. The triplicate shall be retained by the officer supervising the shipment either at the wharf or on board, who after endorsing upon it the particulars of the goods actually received on board, shall return it to the Custom House for use in checking the vessel's export general manifest, as provided below, rule 13.

10. The agents shall cause similar endorsements to be made upon the duplicate shipping bills both for free and for dutiable goods. Those for dutiable goods shall accompany the vessel; those for free goods shall be retained by the agents for presentation with the export manifest.

11. Port clearance must be applied for during office hours unless otherwise directed by the chief customs officer, and at least four hours before the departure of the vessel, and must be sent on board before she actually leaves the port.

12 The export manifest shall be in the same form as is prescribed for the cargo book by rule 4. It must be put in by the agents within five clear working days from the date of port clearance, and must be accompanied by a duplicate prepared in separate parts—one for each port for which goods have been shipped, and by the duplicate shipping bills for free goods endorsed with particulars of actual shipments as required by rule 10.

13. After the original and duplicate have been compared and checked with the triplicate shipping bills for dutiable goods, and the duplicate shipping bills for free goods, one copy of the different parts of the manifest shall be sent by post, together with the corresponding duplicate or triplicate shipping bills, as the case may be, to the customs collector at the ports to which they respectively relate, and the original export manifests shall be retained for use in conjunction with the original shipping bills in recording exports statistics.

ENTRY AND DISCHARGE.

14. Within 24 hours after arrival in any customs port, terminal or intermediate, a duly authenticated extract from the cargo book kept on board as required by rule 4, showing all cargo, free or dutiable, to be discharged, whether for landing or transhipment at that port, shall be presented at the Custom House, together with the duplicate shipping bills referred to in rule 9 for all dutiable cargo comprised in the extract which may have been shipped at customs ports.

NOTE.—The form of the extract may be modified by the substitution of columns for record of presentation of bill of entry and final clearance of dutiable goods, for column 7 and onward in the form of cargo book.

15. At ports where the cargo is to be discharged direct on to a wharf, a duplicate of the extract from the cargo book shall be furnished for use in checking the cargo as it is landed. When the cargo has to be discharged into boats, the duplicate copy may be dispensed with, but a boat-note showing clearly all particulars necessary to the identification of the packages, and signed by a responsible officer of the ship, shall accompany each boat-load ashore:

Provided that at ports of call where the extract from the cargo book to be put in under rule 14, or a list of the cargo is handed to the customs officer on board, or accompanies the goods ashore, no boat-notes or duplicate extract from the cargo book need be insisted upon.

16. Discharge may be commenced as soon as the vessel drops anchor, when free cargo may be landed at any time, day or night, without special permission or supervision, but no cargo from any foreign port, and no cargo from any customs port which was transhipped from a foreign port, shall be discharged except under the written authority of the proper officer of customs.

17. These bills of entry shall be in the usual form for goods imported by foreign-going vessels, and shall be granted upon the extract from the cargo book filed at the Custom House as required by rule 14, after check, if the goods are said to have come from a customs port, with the shipping bills filed with the extract.

NOTE.—See note to rule 14.

18. The agents of the vessel shall be bound to account, on being called upon to do so, for all discrepancies both as to free and as to dutiable cargo, and to make all amendments necessary to secure the correctness of the documents put in by them.

19. The agents shall further be bound to undertake that, when the vessel touches at any foreign port in the course of any coasting voyage, a certificate under the signature of the chief officer of customs at such port, shall be despatched within 48 hours of her departure to the customs collector of every customs port for which she has taken in cargo at such foreign port, giving number and description of packages, numbers and marks they bear, and a general description of their contents.

They shall also be bound to furnish to the chief customs officer of any customs port from which any goods may have been shipped under bond for customs or excise duty, or under claim for drawback, for any foreign port, a certificate from the chief customs officer of the said foreign port showing particulars of discharge of such goods.

TRANSHIPMENT.

20. Goods for transhipment shall be dealt with as provided in the rules laid down by notification of the Government of Bengal, dated the 26th November 1883, and the notice of the Collector of Customs, Calcutta, dated the 27th June 1882.

STORES.

21. No stores shall be landed, transhipped, unladen, shipped, or waterborne for shipment without the written authority of the proper officer of customs.

PASSENGERS' BAGGAGE.

22. Passengers' baggage may be shipped and discharged at any time without supervision or restriction except as regards baggage shipped at foreign ports. It will be the duty of the master to enter all such baggage in his cargo book and extracts therefrom to be presented under rule 14, and to see that no such baggage is landed out of hours at any customs port unless it has been passed by a customs officer on board.

By order of the Board of Revenue, L.P.,

Offg. Secretary.

Rules framed by the Sudder Local Board of Dacca under Section 32 of the Bengal Local Self-Government Act III (B.C.) of 1885, with the sanction of the District Board of Dacca.

Clause (a) Meetings.

Rule 1.—If the Chairman is temporarily absent from his duties, or if the office of the Chairman is temporarily vacant, the duties of the Chairman under these rules shall be performed by the Vice-Chairman.

Rule 2.—Meetings shall be either ordinary or special.

Rule 3.—An ordinary meeting of the Local Board shall be held on the last Saturday of every month, provided that, if the last Saturday of any month falls on a gazetted holiday, or if for any other reason it is deemed inconvenient, the Chairman may fix another day for the ordinary meeting of the Board.

Rule 4.—A special meeting of the Local Board may be called at any time by the Chairman. The Chairman shall be bound to call a special meeting on a requisition signed by one-third of the total number of members.

Rule 5.—The subjects referred to in rule 65 of Part IV of the General Rules, and in section 29 of the Act, shall be dealt with at special meetings only.

Rule 6.—All other subjects which come within the province of the Local Board may be dealt with at either ordinary or special meetings.

Rule 7.—Meetings shall be held at the office of the Local Board, or at such a place as the Chairman may from time to time determine on sufficient grounds to be recorded by him.

Rule 8.—The notice under rule 67 of the General Rules shall be sent by post or by peon as may seem convenient. But when allotments for original works and repairs are made, in addition to the notices to the members, notices should be posted in the office of the Local Board, and also in the public offices in the sub-division, for the information of the public, so that they may send applications in time for the consideration of the Local Board.

Rule 9.—Notices of motions accompanied by verbatim drafts must be sent to the Chairman on or before the 15th of every month for inclusion in the list of business for the next succeeding meeting. Notices received too late shall be inserted in the list of business of the next meeting.

Rule 10.—A notice book shall be kept by the Vice-Chairman of the Board, in which all notices of motions shall be entered. All such notices shall be dated and numbered as received.

Adjourned Meeting.

Rule 11.—An adjourned meeting is not competent to transact any business save that which the original meeting left unfinished.

Rule 12.—An adjourned meeting, being merely a continuation of the original meeting, does not require any fresh notice.

CONDUCT OF PROCEEDINGS AT MEETINGS.

CLAUSE (b).

Order of business.

Rule 13.—At ordinary meetings the business shall be conducted in the following order :—

(a).—The minutes of the last ordinary meeting, and of any special meeting held since, shall be read, and if approved as correctly entered, shall be signed by the Chairman of such meeting.

(b).—Business postponed from the last ordinary meeting shall be considered.

(c).—A progress report of works shall be laid before the Board.

(d).—Letters and reports of Committees shall be read, and accounts and statements shall be considered and passed.

(e).—Motions of which due notice has been given to be discussed.

Rule 14.—At a special meeting, only the business for which the meeting was called shall be considered; provided that, with the consent of the majority of the members present, any other business may be considered.

Rule 15.—In the event of any objection being raised to the manner in which any resolution has been recorded, the Chairman shall decide the question after reference to the original draft of the resolution, and if he finds the minute to be inaccurate, shall make the necessary correction in the minute book.

Rule 16.—Unless by permission of the majority of the meeting, all subjects shall be discussed in the order in which they appear in the notice paper.

Of motions and amendments.

Rule 17.—Every motion and amendment duly moved must be seconded, and until seconded no debate thereon can take place.

Rule 18.—Every motion and amendment, after being reduced to writing under rule 74 of the General Rules, shall be signed by the proposer and seconder before being put to the vote.

Rule 19.—Every amendment shall be so worded as to be capable of making an intelligible sentence either alone or in its proper place in an original motion, as the case may be; provided that no amendment can merely negative the original motion.

Rule 20.—The President of the meeting may, for reasons to be recorded in writing and entered in the minutes of the proceedings—

(a) rule that a motion or amendment is illegal or out of order; and

(b) make such alterations in a motion or amendment as shall, in his opinion, render it legal and in order;
